MESSAGE.

STATE OF GEORGIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ATLANTA, GA., June 26, 1907.

To the General Assembly:

It is my happy privilege, in this, my last message, to be able to congratulate you, as I have your predecessors, on the prosperity of the State and the contentment of our people. Providence has blessed us. Our laws are just. The knowledge that person and property are secure has helped to enhance values and stimulate new enterprises. Georgia has a low tax rate, and her credit is high. Voluntary returns of the taxpayers continue to swell the digest and make easy the gathering of funds needed for the expenses of government; nor has this led to extravagance, for the State departments and public institutions, though well supported, have been economically administered, and the people have not been burdened with heavy taxation.

The last four years, as shown by the voluntary returns of the citizens, have been the most prosperous years within the State's history. Credit for this condition is due to no one man, nor to any one body of men. Our entire country in the main has been prosperous, and that which has made Georgia forge ahead of other States is attributable more largely to her splendid citizenship than to any other cause. The fact that no legislation was enacted during the last five sessions of the General Assembly that had a tendency to retard the advance of that prosperity is a record of which your predecessors may feel justly proud. In 1902 the taxable values of the State as returned to the Comptroller-General and tax receivers were $467,310,646, and in 1906 they were $627,531,539, an increase of $160,220,893 for the four years, or an average of over $40,000,000 per annum. The remarkable increase was not confined to any one class of property, but to all classes, as will appear from the following figures taken from the report of the Comptroller-General, showing the valuation of a number of the chief items of property:

The largest percentage of increase appears in railroad property and banking capital. The former is due largely to the franchise tax law of December 17, 1902, and the latter to the great number of new banks established in every section of the State.

With this growth in the property interests of the people there came a corresponding enlargement of the demands upon our public institutions. Notwithstanding these demands were fully met by increased appropriations for maintenance and new buildings, the tax rate has been reduced from $5.30 on the thousand in 1902 to $4.80 in 1906.

The returns for 1907 will not be fully completed for more than a month, but after conference with the Comptroller-General, who is in receipt of advices from various sections of the State, enabling him to make a comparison of the returns with those of 1906, I feel sure that the increase for 1907 will be fully as much as $40,000,000, the average for the last four years.

FINANCE.

On account of the Act directing the transfer on April 1st of the sum of $400,000 from the general fund to the school fund, it has been necessary for a number of years for the Governor to borrow money to meet the required expenditures. But for the change in the time of meeting of the General Assembly this might not have been necessary in 1903, or any subsequent year. In fixing the tax rate for 1906, the Governor and Comptroller-General considered this usual mid-summer deficit in the treasury, and were desirous of fixing a rate which would produce enough revenue, when added to the other receipts, to cover this deficit, and thereby end the necessity of making an annual loan. We advised with the Attorney-General as to the probability of collecting the taxes due by the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company, and the Central of Georgia Railway Company, which the United States Supreme Court had adjudged they should pay, and as to probable collections on other pending tax cases, and concluded that there was little doubt of these taxes being collected during the past winter, or certainly during the following spring. We therefore fixed the rate at $4.80 on the thousand, which, together with the taxes referred to, would have raised sufficient revenue for all purposes and left a surplus of about $200,000 in the treasury. We were, however, disappointed in not collecting these taxes, as the United States Supreme Court, upon a motion to advance the cases, would not assign the same for a hearing earlier than next October. But we feel sure that these taxes will be collected during the next year. A full statement as to these cases is given in the report of the Attorney-General, which is herewith transmitted.

The revenue produced by the rate of $4.80 for 1906 leaves the treasury at this date in practically the same condition as in 1906, with the exception that the Governor has not made the usual loan, and the Treasurer has not paid the teachers quite as much as was paid last year. To have paid the teachers as much as was paid them in 1906, would have necessitated the Governor's making a loan. I thought a short delay in their payment preferable to my borrowing money for my successor to pay.

TAXATION.

One of the most important questions that will demand consideration at your hands is that of taxation, and with it goes a question which I have several times presented to the General Assembly in my annual message, viz.: The equalization of tax returns. The Constitution requires that all taxation shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects and ad valorem on all property subject to be taxed. Our present laws upon the subject of tax returns are substantially what they were over a century ago, and do not afford as ample machinery for enforcing the ad valorem requirement of the Constitution as the honest and conscientious taxpayer is entitled to receive from the State. In this connection I wish to repeat the following from my message of June 28, 1905: "The State has advanced in every other particular, but in the matter of valuing the mass of property for taxation and in the machinery for its collection we adhere to this old law, which is unsuited to present conditions, and unjust to every honest taxpayer. The General Assembly has from time to time wisely amended the law so as to cover new subjects for taxation, but left the valuation of the property a matter almost entirely in the discretion of the taxpayer. He is the judge and the jury upon this great question which is of interest to every citizen. The fairer he is, the more onerous his individual burden. This authority is not vested in the citizen upon any other question affecting his purse, whether it regards his dealing with the public, or with his fellow man. In all other cases he is disqualified, both as judge and juror.”

I most heartily join the Comptroller-General in the recommendations he makes in his annual report, herewith transmitted, and urge your favorable consideration thereof.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS.

In accordance with the provisions of the Act of August 18, 1906, establishing an Agricultural and Industrial School in each Congressional District, I appointed on the 22d day of September, 1906, a board of trustees thereof in each district, and during the fall and winter months, in connection with these boards in their respective districts, located all the schools and received in every instance donations which clearly demonstrate the enthusiasm and interest of the people in these schools. The locations and donations being as follows:

First District—Statesboro. Sixty thousand dollars in cash; 300 acres of land, electric lights, water and sewerage.

Second District—Near Tifton. Sixty thousand dollars cash; 300 acres of land, electric lights, water and sewerage.

Third District—Americus. Forty thousand dollars cash; 300 acres of land, water and sewerage.

Fourth District—Carrollton. Thirty thousand dollars cash; 275 acres of land, lights and water.

Fifth District—Near Monroe. Thirty-one thousand dollars cash; 250 acres of land, lights and water.

Sixth District—Barnesville. Fifty-one thousand dollars cash; 300 acres of land, lights and water.

Seventh District—McLand, near Powder Springs, Cobb county. Academic building and boys' dormitory, according to architect's plan, twenty-eight thousand dollars; 240 acres of land.

Eighth District—Madison. Forty thousand and five hundred dollars cash; 300 acres of land, lights and water.

Ninth District—Near Clarkesville. Twenty-five thousand dollars cash; 300 acres of land.

Tenth District—Near Sparta. Forty-seven thousand dollars cash; 250 acres of land.

Eleventh District—Douglas. Forty-five thousand dollars cash; 300 acres of land, lights, water and sewerage.

The aggregate of the donations is about $830,000, placing upon the lands and other property the market value.

In presenting to the General Assembly the importance of these schools and urging their establishment in my first annual message, November 8, 1902, I said that "The discussion of this matter in various sections of the State has convinced me that the several counties in which these schools may be located would donate sufficient lands and suitable buildings for that purpose."

The actual donations far exceeded this prophecy. In every district more land was donated than the minimum acreage prescribed by the law, and cash sufficient to erect the necessary school buildings, also one dormitory, and in several districts two dormitories and other buildings. Each board of trustees has contracted for the necessary buildings to begin the school operations, and in every district the school will open next January and in one or two instances before that time. Every school building and dormitory contracted for will be constructed of brick, and will be of the latest and most improved design. While the location of these schools entailed far more work upon the Governor than was first contemplated, yet it was a labor of real pleasure and joy to me, as I was made to realize to the fullest extent that the people of Georgia were aroused to the importance of agricultural and industrial education.

The Act providing for these schools is virtually a contract between them and the State to the effect that the net fees arising from the inspection of oils and fertilizers and other similar inspection fees, shall be applied to these schools equally. Under the appropriation Act for 1906 and 1907 about $20,000 of these fees are appropriated to special purposes. These provisions should be eliminated from future appropriation Acts. In addition to the foregoing, I recommend that the net fees arising from the Pure Food Inspection Law be likewise applied to these schools. Should this be done, the fund for each school will be from $7,000 to $8,000 per annum, which will meet the immediate necessities as to equipment and salaries. However, should the schools open with students sufficient to fill the capacity of the academic building, other sources of income will be necessary.

HIGH SCHOOLS.

The Constitution prescribes that the General Assembly may only appropriate money for educational purposes to the common schools and the University. The common schools are restricted to the elementary branches of an English education only. The gap between these schools and the University can not be supplied except by private schools or local systems. The same reasons which support the policy of the State in maintaining common schools and the University exist in favor of aiding schools necessary for supplying this gap. Our present system is therefore incomplete, and can never be perfected until the Constitution is amended so as to authorize appropriations for high schools.

Our present Constitution is not as liberal towards education as was the first Constitution of the State, that of 1777. That instrument declared that "Schools shall be erected in each county and supported at the general expense of the State." The Legislature was therefore free to enact such laws and make such appropriations looking to the education of the children of the State as were deemed wise and necessary. The Constitution of 1877, framed just one hundred years after our first Constitution, prohibits appropriations except to a "system of common schools for the education of children in the elementary branches of an English education only." The debates in the convention of 1877 between the advocates of the two views upon this question, discloses the fact that the arguments advanced by those favoring the view which prevailed are not applicable to the present conditions in Georgia. At that time the State was just recovering from the ravages of the Civil War, and the evils of Reconstruction. The State was poor, and her credit somewhat impaired on account of persistent misrepresentations of those unfriendly to her progress and prosperity. All taxation was therefore grinding and burdensome. It was, no doubt, the wiser plan to show to her creditors and to the taxpayers that it was the policy of Georgia, as fixed by her Constitution, to be just to them before being generous even to her children. Conditions have changed. Georgia is no longer poor; she is not only prosperous, but her credit is second to none. The amendment placing a limitation upon the tax rate guarantees to the citizen that no oppressive rate can be levied. Hence the views which dominated the convention, and which were referred to in those debates by one of the ablest and most distinguished members thereof as "contracted notions," should no longer fix the policy of the State upon this important question. This amendment would place Georgia abreast of the other progressive States of the Union, and would make her fundamental law more completely harmonize with the true sentiments and best interests of the people. I will not say that no other State in the Union has a similar Constitutional embargo upon education, but after diligent search I have been unable to find one with a like provision.

The necessity for such an amendment is urgent. Prior to 1861, rural communities were considered the natural home of high schools, and they existed in nearly every county, and in many instances there were several in a county, but now in rural communities they are very scarce. In many of them the fact that such schools once existed is ancient history. Private enterprise is in search of an investment promising a speedier return than private schools in rural communities. Public interest in local taxation is so feeble that the most optimistic friends of education entertain only a slight hope that the smaller or less wealthy of our rural counties will ever adopt the provisions of the local tax law, unless an incentive in the form of additional aid is furnished by the State. The result is that in those counties and in those communities where high schools are most needed, none now exist, and none will likely exist until there is a change in our system.

If the General Assembly should adhere to the present policy of local systems as the proper means to supply these high schools, then the authority to appropriate funds to aid the same would be helpful towards securing the establishment of the system in every county in the State. If the General Assembly should, as I think more advisable, provide for a general high school system, and place the same under the educational department along with the common schools, or under a supervisory commission, then this proposed amendment would be necessary. This general system should not include the local systems now of force, but give to every county, city or town, the option of entering the same. I therefore recommend that the General Assembly submit to the people an amendment under which appropriations may be made to high schools.

EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

The Educational Conference of Business Men, which convened in the Senate Chamber May 24, 1907, and which was composed of fifty prominent business men selected by Hon. Samuel M. Inman, chairman of the Georgia Educational Business Men’s Conference from the various congressional districts of the State, marked the commencement of a new era in the interest which the business men of the State will take in general educational affairs. The resolutions unanimously adopted by the conference after thorough discussion, cover the fundamental needs of our educational system and make the following recommendations, which I think are not only deserving the approval of business men, but of all the people, viz.:

1st. Larger funds.
2d. The securing of trained and efficient teachers, and the payment to them, regularly, of living salaries, at least.
3d. Better local and State supervision.
4th. Vital connection between our elementary schools and our higher institutions.
5th. Proper support of the District Agricultural Schools.

The last two propositions have been heretofore discussed approvingly in this message, and the first three I wish to commend most heartily to your favorable consideration.

The very foundation of our system is the common schools, hence these are deserving of, and should receive, your first consideration. Larger funds and living salaries to teachers are absolute essentials. Many counties acting wisely have taken advantage of the local tax law enacted by the last General Assembly, and are now giving their children longer terms, and the teachers better salaries, and their schools are having a much larger attendance than previously. These counties, as well as those which have not adopted the local tax law, should receive sufficient funds from the State to operate the schools five months each year, and to enable them to pay the teachers fair salaries with the same regularity with which other officers are paid. In order to meet the increase in school population the first necessary step will be, commencing with 1908, to increase the appropriation to the common school fund at least $100,000 annually for two or three years. This can be done without raising the tax-rate, provided the tax returns of 1908 show approximately the same increase as for the last several years. The loss of the fertilizer and oil fees to the common school fund is an additional reason for this increased appropriation.

One of the great evils of our present system is the failure of the law to provide for the prompt payment of the teachers' salaries when the same have been earned and are due. Several solutions have been suggested, but as yet none has been enacted into law. One of two things is necessary to remedy this evil. A surplus must be accumulated in the treasury for the purpose of meeting the spring and summer payments, and that surplus secured to such use by Constitutional amendment forbidding its application otherwise, or, the scholastic year must be changed from the calendar year so that it shall hereafter extend from September 1st to August 31st. The latter plan has always appeared to me as more practicable, and more in harmony with what I consider the proper management of governmental affairs. The former, or any other plan that does not change the scholastic year, is objectionable, if for no other reason, on the ground that it is contrary to sound policy to create a surplus fund to be held perpetually. In presenting this question to your predecessors in my message of June 27, 1906, I stated: "Such a change, after two years, would practically settle the question of paying the teachers their salaries when due. The first eight months of next year might be made a special scholastic year, and have apportioned to it an equitable share of the fund set apart for 1907. In addition to accomplishing the desired result of enabling school officials to arrange for the prompt payment of salaries when due, the plan suggested will harmonize the common school system with that of the local systems, and long-term schools and colleges throughout the State."

I recommend that the first eight months of next year be constituted a special school year, and that at least two and one-half months' schools be provided for by appropriating to the support thereof the special taxes, convict hire and the Western & Atlantic rental collected prior to September 1st, and in addition thereto such part of the property tax appropriation as may be necessary. Any diminution in the school fund for the year commencing September 1, 1908, caused by appropriation of property tax for the special school year should then be compensated by appropriating thereto an equal amount of the money collected on the railroad tax cases now pending in the United States Supreme Court. The only objection to this plan is the possibility of these collections not being made by September, 1908. This objection should not be deemed controlling, in view of the fact that your body will again convene before that date, and should the collections not be made by the time of your meeting suitable legislation can be enacted to meet the conditions.

The plan for State and county supervision of our schools as proposed by the resolutions adopted by the State Educational Association, at its meeting in April, 1907, seems to be a well-considered plan, and one that will place Georgia in line with the most progressive States of the Union. The principal features of this plan are:

1st. A professional State Board of Education in lieu of the present ex-officio one, composed of State-house officers.

2d. Efficient county supervision, and,

3d. A more complete and better correlated school system. These are both practicable and desirable. The resolutions of the Business Men's Conference and of the Georgia Teachers' Association are attached to the report of the State School Commissioner, which is herewith transmitted, and I commend them and the valuable suggestions and recommendations of the Commissioner to your earnest consideration.

THE UNIVERSITY AND BRANCHES.

The University and all its branches have enjoyed a year of remarkable growth. No better investment has ever been made by the State than the establishment of these institutions and no wiser policy can be pursued than one of proper maintenance to enable them to keep pace with the advancement and progress of the State. After a thorough investigation, in my message of June 27, 1906, I recommended the appropriation of $100,000 to the University to be used in buildings and equipment necessary for the State College of Agriculture, also an appropriation to install a heating plant in the two dormitories then nearing completion at the State Normal School; also an appropriation to construct a new dormitory to relieve the crowded condition at the Girl's Normal and Industrial College; also an appropriation to the School of Technology to be used in equipping the new Lyman Hall Laboratory and in the purchase of about seven acres of land to enlarge the campus; and also an appropriation to the North Georgia Agricultural College. The judgment of the General Assembly accorded with mine, and these appropriations were made.
All these buildings are now in process of construction, and most of them will be ready for use at the opening of the next term.

This additional equipment will not only relieve the crowded condition, but enlarge the sphere of usefulness of these great institutions. Their growth and general expansion demands an increased maintenance fund. The establishment of the State College of Agriculture, along the lines provided for in the Act of 1906 appropriating the $100,000, will require at least $50,000 for its maintenance. A large share of this should be met by a transfer of the Morrill fund by the trustees of the University to the School of Agriculture, thereby requiring only $15,000 from the State. This loss to the funds of the University should be supplied and the growth of this great educational institution be fully met by increasing the present maintenance fund at least $35,000. The State Normal School stands in need of improved heating plans for, and repairs to, the old buildings, and additional equipment for all the buildings to the extent of $15,000 and an increased maintenance fund of $10,000 to meet the growth of the school. For the same reason $10,000 should be added to the maintenance fund of the Girl's Normal and Industrial School and $15,000 for the equipment of the new buildings. The estimated budget of expenditures of the School of Technology for the next year amounts to $92,300, and the income of the school for the last year, including the $55,000 appropriation by the State, was only $76,000. This income for the next year can only be met by an increased maintenance fund. The deficit can be prevented in two ways. One by reducing the faculty below the actual necessities of the school, or by an addition of $15,000 to the annual appropriation. The latter course is the only one in keeping with the best interests of the State. Our mountain school, the North Georgia Agricultural College, is as a city set upon a hill. Its continued growth in attendance and strength attests its usefulness, and demands for its urgent needs an increase of $5,000 to its maintenance fund. The Industrial School for Negroes, established and maintained by the State at Savannah, is doing an important work and deserves liberal support at your hands for maintenance and development.

After a full investigation into the conditions of these institutions, and a careful consideration of their growth, and the enlargement of the faculties to meet the same, I feel that I would fall short of my duty to the State were I to fail to commend to you most earnestly these additional appropriations. They can be made without increasing the tax rate, should the increase in the tax returns of 1908 be one-half the average of the last four years, and should there be no increase, then by a levy within the constitutional limitation.

COLLEGE ENDOWMENTS.

I have frequently urged upon the General Assembly the submission of a constitutional amendment to the people, under which the Legislature would be authorized to relieve college endowments from taxation. Such a measure would be just and equitable. The institutions that would be benefited by this amendment are doing splendid work in the upbuilding of the State, and at least deserve this modicum of recognition at your hands.

MONUMENTS.

I beg to call your attention to the fact, that in pursuance of the Act of the last General Assembly the monument erected to the memory of Georgia’s great patriot, soldier and statesman, Gen. John B. Gordon, has been completed and now stands within the shadow of the Capitol. A just and deserving tribute to him, and an honor to the State, it was joyously welcomed by the great heart of her people. A similar provision having been made to perpetuate the memory of Georgia's founder, proper steps are being taken to erect a monument to James Oglethorpe upon the scenes of his labors.

Thus has been inaugurated a policy that surely should live. The memory of those who devoted their lives to their country should not perish from the earth, but should live forever in the hearts of the people for whom they labored and lived. Many are the names of her sons that are entitled to a place in Georgia's "Hall of Fame." They were the peers of any of those her sister States have given to our country. Their images should live in imperishable bronze and marble, eloquently speaking the gratitude of those who come after them.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The General Assembly at the last session appropriated $2,000 to be used in purchasing standards of weights and measures to be supplied to the new counties and such other counties as had never received them. I purchased fifteen sets at $100 each and furnished one set to each of the new counties and to Rockdale and Coffee. The remaining four sets I have deposited with the Secretary of State for distribution to such other counties as may hereafter make proper showing to obtain them.

Several months ago the Secretary of Commerce and Labor called a convention of representatives from all the States to be named by the Governor for the purpose of considering the matter of weights and measures. Deeming this matter of sufficient importance, I appointed Hon. Philip Cook, Secretary of State, a delegate to the convention and herewith transmit a copy of his report. I commend this report and its recommendations to your favorable consideration.

TRAINED NURSES.

There will be presented to you a measure providing for a State Board for the examination of trained nurses. It is the policy of our State to have such boards for every profession. Efficient care of the sick by those specially trained for nursing has grown into a profession. The public, as well as those engaged in this useful work who have been properly trained, should be protected against inefficient and incompetent persons who offer their services as trained nurses. I therefore commend this measure as worthy of careful consideration and favorable action at your hands.

PENSIONS.

By reference to the report of the Pension Commissioner it will be seen that the sum of $42,500 is necessary-to complete the payment for 1907 of the approved pension claims of file in his office. By far the greater part of this amount is due upon the claims of indigent soldiers who, by reason of poverty and old age, are entirely dependent upon the generosity of a grateful State, and in behalf of these old heroes I ask that their claims, which I believe to be a sacred obligation of the State, receive your immediate attention.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS.

The public institutions of the State, viz.: The State Sanitarium, the School for the Deaf, the Academy for the Blind, the Soldiers' Home, and the State Reformatory, are institutions in which every citizen of Georgia feels a pardonable pride. New buildings and substantial improvements have been made at all of them during the past four years, and it is necessary to continue the same liberal policy towards them in order that they may be adequate to meet the demands of a growing and prosperous State.

OFFICIAL REPORTS.

You will have before you the following official reports:

Secretary of State, Comptroller-General, State Treasurer, Attorney-General, State School Commissioner, Adjutant-General, Commissioner of Agriculture, State Board of Health, Railroad Commission, Prison Commission, Pension Commissioner, Geologist, Librarian, Compiler of Records, Keeper of Public Buildings and Grounds, Roster Commission, and such other departments as are required by law to submit annual reports; also the reports of the public and educational institutions of the State, the report of the Board of Lady Visitors to the Girl's Normal and Industrial College, the reports of the Board of Visitors to the State University, the Academy for the Blind, and the School for the Deaf.

I have carefully examined most of these reports and find them to contain valuable information and recommendations which merit your attention. These reports attest the fact that the public servants in charge of these departments and institutions are efficient and faithful, and I trust that the recommendations contained therein will receive your favorable consideration.

LAWS ENACTED.

I deem it not inappropriate in this, my last message, to express my appreciation of the fact that your predecessors, in response to recommendations made in my previous messages, have enacted, among others, laws to tax the franchise of railroads, to limit the rate of taxation on property by constitutional amendment, to levy a specific business tax on corporations, to provide a better system of local taxation for common schools, extending the same by constitutional amendment to militia districts; for the relief of the Supreme Court in the creation of the Court of Appeals; to create nine new counties; to develop the Agricultural College of the University of Georgia, by the appropriation of $100,000 for buildings and equipment, and to establish an Agricultural and Industrial High School in each Congressional District of the State.

In addition to the ordinary subjects of legislation which have heretofore received the attention of the General Assembly, your immediate predecessors passed a number of important statutes intended to benefit and safeguard the public. These Acts seem to have given general satisfaction to the people, and the reports so far received indicate that they are accomplishing the good results intended without detriment to any legitimate right of person or property.

Among these laws are those which protect the interests of the children by limiting the age at which they can work in factories; those which guard the poverty of the borrower from the extortion of the lender; those which are intended to prevent adulteration of food and medicine.

The law to prevent speculation in futures promises the happiest results, both to the individual and to the public at large, for this statute protects the speculator against himself and at the same time retains within the State thousands that once flowed into the coffers of foreign brokers without returning anything of value.
For the confidence reposed in me by the people of Georgia in twice electing me to this high office, and for the cordial support which they have given me during the many years in which I have served my native State, I am profoundly grateful.

J. M. TERRELL,
Governor.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

ATLANTA, GA., June 23, 1907.

The following message was received from his Excellency the Governor, through his secretary, Mr. Shropshire:
Mr. President:

I am directed by his Excellency the Governor to deliver to the Senate a communication in writing:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

ATLANTA, Ga., June 28, 1907.

To the Members of the General Assembly:

Since my annual message to you of the 26th instant, the following matters have developed which I deem of sufficient importance to call to your attention:

In Re of the Right of Way Over Lands of the Estate of Sherman J. Sims.

The General Assembly, by resolution approved August 21, 1906, directed the Governor to institute proceedings under the general laws of this State for the condemnation of property for public uses in order to ascertain the value of the land formerly belonging to Sherman J. Sims, which had been taken and used by the Northeastern Railway Company for right of way. In pursuance of that resolution, condemnation proceedings were instituted and an award was duly made by the board of arbitration and certified to this office. I herewith attach as Exhibit A., copy of the award, etc., the original proceedings being of file in the Executive Department. I refer this matter to you that you may make an appropriation under the resolution for the payment of the claim in accordance with the terms of the award.

II.

The General Assembly, by Act approved August 20, 1906, provided that, "Whereas, three thousand Confederate soldiers who lost their lives in defense of the Confederacy are buried in the Confederate Cemetery at Marietta, Georgia," which cemetery has been cared for by the Ladies' Memorial Association of Marietta, which Association tendered to the State of Georgia the title to said cemetery and proposed to execute a deed of conveyance to said property to the State whereby it was "Resolved by the House of Representatives of Georgia, the Senate concurring, that the State accept said cemetery as its property." The Ladies' Memorial Association has duly executed a deed to said property, which deed is hereto attached, marked Exhibit B.

III.

I herewith attach a communication from Hon. S. W. Harris, Adjutant-General, marked Exhibit "C," calling attention to a deficiency in the appropriation for the Adjutant-General's Department, caused by reasons therein recited, and his recommendation, in which I join him, "That an appropriation be made of $5,000 to meet the deficiency thus existing for the present year."

IV.

The General Assembly, by an Act approved August 18, 1906, established and organized an Agricultural, Industrial and Normal College in South Georgia, as a branch of the University of Georgia, upon conditions named in the Act. On the 5th day of September, 1906, I appointed a Board of Trustees, as therein provided, which board thereafter duly organized by electing Hon. W. S. West, chairman. Am in receipt of a telegram from Chairman West, dated June 27, 1907, to the effect that the trustees have secured an eligible site and $50,000 additional as donations from the city of Valdosta and citizens. I commend this school to your favorable consideration.

Governor.

EXHIBIT "C."

ATLANTA, GA., June 26, 1907.

Hon. Jos. M. Terrell, Governor, State of Georgia, Atlanta, Georgia.

Sir: The annual appropriation for the Adjutant-General’s Department has heretofore been fixed at $23,000, which has been found to be approximately the amount necessary.

The unprecedented expense incident to the riots in the cities of Atlanta and Macon during the fall of 1906, amounting to something over $8,000, encroached so largely on the annual appropriation of $23,000 as to render it advisable that an appropriation be made of $5,000 to meet the deficiency thus existing for the present year.

Respectfully,

S. W Harris,
Adjutant-General.

ATLANTA, GA., June 28, 1907.

The following message was received from his Excellency the Governor through his secretary, Mr. Blackburn:

Atlanta, Ga., July 16, 1907

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor through his secretary, Mr. Carter:

Mr. President:

I am directed by his Excellency the Governor to deliver to the Senate a communication in writing.

State of Georgia,

Executive Mansion,

Atlanta, July 16, 1907.

To the General Assembly of Georgia:

Permit me to bring to your attention the action of the judges of the superior courts in a convention held on July 5th in the city of Atlanta.
Their suggestions have been transmitted to me that I may bring them to your attention as the law requires.

Without disparaging any of the other recommendations, I wish especially to urge the adoption of legislation which will carry into effect that one of the recommendations which applies to a change of practice with reference to noting exceptions in the trials of cases, both in the city and superior courts. The change suggested will require exceptions noted to the charge of the court as soon as the jury retires. The object of this change of practice is to give the trial judge an opportunity to correct any error which he may have made through inadvertence, and thereby prevent the granting of new trials on immaterial questions, or upon questions where the charge of the court was erroneous through inadvertence.

The practice in all the States of the Union, with which I am familiar, requires exceptions to be noted as to all matters which arise during the trial where the counsel desires to make the action of the court the basis of carrying the case to the Supreme Court.

I believe very thoroughly in this practice, and I cordially commend legislation on this line. The beneficial effects of the legislation will be to lessen the number of new trials based upon questions which would not have affected the verdict of the jury. It will lessen the burden of work upon the appellate courts. It will help to terminate litigation, both criminal and civil.

Respectfully submitted.

HOKE SMITH, Governor.

Report of the Committee on Legislation, Judge Horace M. Holden, chairman:

To His Excellency Hoke Smith:

In accordance with the provisions of law requiring the judges of the superior courts to make a special report to the Governor of the State, to be submitted by him to the Legislature of needed legislation, we submit the following report, to wit:

1. We recommend that a law be passed providing for an amendment to the Constitution of the State per­mitting charters to be granted by judges of the superior courts in vacation, at any time or place, and that that provision of the Constitution requiring a special term of the court to grant such charters be repealed.

2. We recommend that a law be passed requiring stenographers of the different circuits of the State to attend and report the trial of all cases, civil and criminal, and for each day's attendance and work be paid the sum of $10.00 per day; and that for transcribing his notes in felony cases he be paid the sum of $15.00 per day.

3. We recommend the passage of the following law:
After the retirement of the jury in any case counsel shall have the right to have any and all exceptions he may have to the charge of the judge noted, and to do this reasonable time shall be given before the jury is brought into court; such requests for noting shall be made in writing, and after being presented filed; or they may be made orally and taken down by the stenographer and afterwards filed. The judge shall have the right to bring in the jury if he sees proper, and make any addition or correction to his charge.

No exception to the charge of the judge shall be urged unless noted under this rule.

4. We recommend the repeal of section 1010 of the Penal Code of this State, regarding the right of the prisoner in criminal cases to make a statement, and recommend that a law be passed providing that the defendant in any criminal case shall have the right to be sworn as a witness, with the right of cross-examination by the State, with the privilege on the part of the prisoner to refuse to answer any question, the answer to which may tend to incriminate him.

ATLANTA, GA., July 17, 1907.

The following message was received from his Excellency, the Governor, through his secretary, Mr. Carter:

Mr President:

I am directed by his Excellency, the Governor, to deliver to the Senate a communication in writing.
SPECIAL MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF GEORGIA,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

ATLANTA, July 16, 1907.

To the General Assembly of Georgia:

I have the honor to bring to your attention the failure of the State to collect from transportation and public utility companies taxes equal to the value of their property, and to suggest certain difficulties that surround the present efforts of your executive officers to compel them to pay taxes upon the true values of their properties. The fact that transportation companies do not pay the taxes which they justly owe the State can be well illustrated by calling attention to the Southern Railway Company and the Central of Georgia Railway Company.

Last year the Central of Georgia Railway Company paid taxes on tangible property and franchise amounting to $16,351,688. The Southern Railway Company paid taxes on tangible property and franchise for the same year amounting to $14,277,500.

This year the Central of Georgia Railway Company returned its tangible property and franchise at $16,823,850. The Southern Railway Company returned its tangible property and franchise at $14,884,923.

Each of these railroad companies has filed a bill in the United States Circuit Court for the Northern District of Georgia to enjoin certain freight reductions made by the Railroad Commission. Each of these companies stated in its bill the value of its tangible property, presenting the value as a basis for taxing the people of Georgia with freight and passenger rates. Mr. W A. Winburn, as second vice-president, swore to the bill filed by the Central of Georgia Railway Company. Mr. J. M. Culp, as third vice-president, swore to the bill of the Southern Railway Company. Mr. Winburn swore to the bill containing this statement:

"Your orator avers that the cost of reproducing its lines, and, therefore, the present actual minimum value of its said lines of railway in Georgia, and equipping the same, is $33,666,999."

See printed copy of the bill, page 34.

Mr. Culp swore to the bill containing this statement:

"Your orator avers that the cost of reproducing at this time, and, therefore, the present actual minimum value of its said lines of railway in Georgia, and of equipping the same, is not less than $48,150,000.

"And this does not include the value of the franchise incident to said lines."

See printed copy of the bill, page 33.

We have, therefore, the Central Railway Company swearing, through its vice-president, that its tangible property, located in Georgia, exclusive of its franchise, was worth $33,666,999 as a basis for taxing the people of Georgia with freight and passenger rates, while it only paid tax to the State on its tangible property and franchise included at the estimated value of $16,351,688. This same Company is now resisting an assessment made by the Comptroller-General upon its tangible property and franchise at $29,968,120.

The Southern Railway Company, swearing through its third vice-president that its property, located in Georgia, exclusive of its franchise was worth $48,150,000 as a basis of taxing the people of Georgia with freight and passenger rates, only paid tax to the State on its tangible property and franchise included at the estimated value of $14,277,500. It is now resisting an assessment made by the Comptroller-General upon its tangible property and franchise at $26,500,000.

The law of our State provides that where the Comptroller-General is dissatisfied with the return of a railroad company for taxation he can assess the property. If the railroad company is dissatisfied with his assessment the railroad company names an arbitrator. The railroad can select anybody it pleases as arbitrator. It can employ a man trained to the work, and furnish him full information to represent its side. The Comptroller-General is required to select a railroad commissioner. If the two do not agree, they select a third arbitrator, or umpire. The arbitrator representing the railroad company has the benefit of the fullest consultation with the officers of the railroad company, and the aid of their machinery to pick the third man. The Railroad Commissioner, acting as an incident to his office, largely by himself, has not advantages equal with those of the railroad arbitrators in selecting the third man.

I find no provision of law which requires the arbitrators to take any oath to fix the true value of the property, and none which allows them to swear witnesses. If the arbitrators were required by law to fix the true value of the property, and if they had the right to swear witnesses, the State could call before the arbitrators the officers of the company, the property of which is to be taxed. All the officers who would be authorized to swear to a bill filed to enjoin a freight or passenger reduction, could be put upon the stand, and the railroad company could be forced to take the same basis of value for its property when it pays tax that it sets up in a bill before a court when it seeks to maintain a valuation as a basis of taxing, through freight and passenger rates, the people of the State.
Let me refer again to the Southern Railway Company. It paid taxes last year to the State upon its tangible property and franchise at only $14,277,500. At the very same time it was litigating with the State, or the Railroad Commission of the State, seeking to enjoin the reduction of freight rates, claiming in that litigation that its tangible property, exclusive of franchise, was worth $48,150,000.

I do not believe that the property of the Southern Railway in Georgia is worth any such sum, but I do insist that the railway company should pay tax to the State at the same valuation of its property which it is permitted to sustain before the courts as a basis for taxing, through freight and passenger rates, the people of the State.

I have not before brought this matter to your attention because I had hoped that an Act would be passed on this subject in time to meet the arbitrations about to take place. Such legislation would have been remedial in nature, and clearly legal. It is now impossible to broaden the scope of the selection by the Comptroller-General of an arbitrator, but still it might be provided that the arbitrators should be required under oath to find the true value of the property assessed, and they could also be given for their present hearings the power to swear witnesses.

I am aware that there is objection to the entire plan of arbitration; that many believe boards of assessors should exist as to all properties, clothed with the authority of hearing and determining the true value of property to be taxed. It may be that such legislation will be passed at the present session. It is hardly necessary for me to suggest that such legislation, to be free from constitutional objection, must provide for a hearing on the part of those the value of whose property is to be fixed for taxation. In any event, until such legislation may become effective, I respectfully urge the necessity of amending the present machinery used by your executive officers to fix the value of the property for taxation which the law requires returned to the Comptroller-General.

Hoke Smith, Governor.

Mr. President:

We, the undersigned members of the Committee on Education and Public Schools dissenting from the opinion of a majority of the committee, beg to submit this a minority report on Senate bill No. 11, which provides for the election of the county school commissioners of the various counties of this State by the qualified electors of the same.
We maintain that said bill should pass, and should have had a favorable recommendation at the hands of the committee for the following reasons:

First. The deplorable conditions of the schools in many of the counties of this State is due largely to the inefficiency of the present county school commissioners. It is admitted by those opposed to the passage of the bill that the conditions would doubtless be improved in many of those unfortunate counties were the people allowed to elect their commissioners.

Second. We believe that it is the desire of a large majority of the people of the State that they have a right to elect their commissioners, as the bill has had almost the unanimous indorsement of the members of the two past Legislatures.

Third. We maintain that the highest privilege enjoyed by the people is the right to select by ballot their public officials. We further contend that the people are intelligent enough to select men capable of acceptably managing the affairs of their respective offices.

Respectfully submitted.

E. T Steed, 37th,
Lewis A. Henderson, 39th.

Mr. Sikes submits report on Academy of the Blind.

Mr. President:

We, your Committee of the Academy of the Blind, submit the following report:

We find under construction in Macon a splendid new building for use of the blind. Said building consists of seventy-five rooms, at a cost of $100,000 when complete.

The building is located on twenty acres of land costing $12,000. We find that roof in said new building has in it several leaks, and we recommend that these leaks be repaired before State receives building from contractor.

We also find that during the school year of 1906 and 1907 that seventy-two inmates were in attendance at the school. The school has a principal and four teachers.

We also find the building for “colored blind” in good shape, and contained thirty inmates.

We find that appropriation of last year was $18,000, and think the school should have same next year.

W. L. SIKES, Chairman.
The following message was read from the Governor:

STATE OF GEORGIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
August 7, 1907.

_To the General Assembly of the State of Georgia._

Permit me to bring to your attention certain facts connected with raising revenue for the State.

1. The Constitution permits a tax levy of five mills. The tax Act for 1907 provides for one mill and $\frac{70}{100}$ to be levied for school purposes, three mills and $\frac{8}{100}$ to be levied for general purposes and so much in addition thereto as may be necessary to meet the $100,000 which we are required to pay by January 1, 1909, upon the public debt. The total of these sums will not exhaust the five mills permitted by the Constitution. The full levy of five mills will raise nearly $50,000 in addition to the amount covered by the tax Act of 1907. In view of the condition of the treasury, I suggest that the tax Act for 1907 be so amended as to permit a levy of the full sum of five mills.

2. I suggest, also, that an occupation or license tax be placed upon the transportation companies and street car companies of Georgia to an amount of not less than one per cent. of their gross earnings. The gross earnings of the railroad companies of Georgia for the year ending June 30, 1907, were over $37,000,000. Their net earnings were over $10,000,000. These are their figures as shown by their reports to the Georgia Railroad Commission. I urge this tax as especially proper, in view of the fact that for years past the railroad companies and the street car companies have not paid an ad valorem tax in any way in proportion to their true market value. I see no prospect to obtain from them tax based on the true market value of their property for the present year. Merchants, lawyers, doctors and even those conducting penny shows pay an occupation or license tax in this State. My information is that an occupation or license tax is levied in many States upon transportation and street car companies. I believe that tax is just and it should raise nearly $400,000 during the next year. I suggest that it be levied payable monthly or bi-monthly, so that the money will be received during the course of the year. I attach copy of a letter from the Comptroller-General showing that his assessments of railroad and street car companies do not include an occupation tax.

3. There is pending before the Legislature a bill to increase the fertilizer tax from ten cents to twenty-five cents per ton, the money thus raised to be used for the support of the eleven State agricultural schools and the State Agricultural College. As a general proposition it would be preferable that the money raised for the support of these institutions should be placed upon the same basis as the money raised for other institutions and that they should not depend upon a special tax for their support, but I see no prospect to obtain the necessary funds for them next year unless the course suggested is pursued. South Carolina and Alabama fix a fertilizer tag tax of thirty cents and twenty-five cents per ton. I understand that the price of fertilizers in these States is the same as the price in Georgia, and to raise the fertilizer tax in Georgia to twenty-five cents will not increase the price of fertilizer in this State. As the matter now stands, the fertilizer companies are charging the same for fertilizers here as in Alabama and South Carolina, and the farmers do not obtain the benefit of the reduced cost of fertilizer tags.
4. I suggest also that power be given to the Governor to use any money not otherwise appropriated in the treasury to pay during the early portion of 1908 a portion of the amount appropriated to the common or elementary schools of the State for 1908. Under the present system the direct tax levied by the State for schools for 1908 will not be collected until December. This leaves the schools to be operated without receiving the amount provided by the State until nearly twelve months after most of the teachers' work has been performed.

The payments also have been irregular, and local school boards have not been able to know when funds will be received from the State. I am very desirous to change this situation so that we may send, in about five installments, the amount which the State is to pay to the common or elementary schools. I believe it desirable to send the money at about the end of January, February and March and at about the end of November and December, distributing it as nearly as practicable into five equal payments. Legislation upon the line I have suggested will give an elasticity to the administration of the finances of the State and may permit the Governor in the course of a few years to bring about the situation so much to be desired, namely, the payment in regular installments of the school fund to the county boards that the teachers in turn may be paid regularly at the time they do their work.

Hoke Smith, Governor.

Comptroller-General's Office,
Tax Department,
Atlanta, August 6, 1907.

Hon. Hoke Smith, Governor, the Capitol.

Dear Sir: In reply to your request for information relative to the basis upon which adjustments of the tax assessments made by me of the property of telephone and express companies were made, I beg to say that the Supreme Court of Georgia having rendered a decision to the effect that the contingent occupation tax provided by the tax Act of 1905 upon a percentage of gross earnings of such corporations was unconstitutional, I made my assessments upon the properties of such corporations at what I considered the full, fair market value of said properties, and the assessments thus made were accepted by the corporations referred to with the understanding that I would recommend that no percentage tax based upon gross earnings of these companies should be imposed, in view of the fact that the taxes derived from these properties on an ad valorem basis would exceed the amount formerly received under the Act which was held by our court to be unconstitutional.

The telegraph companies declined to accept my assessments under such conditions, and they will be arbitrated.

There being no tax on gross receipts of railroad companies, the foregoing rule was not applied nor considered in taxing such properties, but they were assessed at what I considered their true market value.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) W. M. A. Wright,

Comptroller-General.

Notice of reconsideration was given.

Provided, that the provisions of this bill shall not apply to cases where there is now pending any litigation as to the title of the property to be condemned, or any interest therein between the party seeking the condemned, or any interest therein between the party seeking the condemnation and the party owning or clinching the same until said litigation is ended.

"Provided further, that the owner of any property sought to be condemned under the provisions of this law may, by written notice served upon the party seeking to condemn the same, or the attorney at law for said party, require the questions as to whether or not the development proposed is of sufficient magnitude and importance to warrant such condemnation, and whether or not such property so sought to be condemned is needed, essential, or proper to the development proposed, to be submitted to and passed upon by the Railroad Commission; and said Railroad Commission is hereby authorized and directed upon the filing of such notice duly served with it to cause all the parties interested, or desiring to be heard, to appear before it and to investigate and pass upon such questions, and their decision thereon shall be final.

"If said Commission decides, either that said development is not of sufficient magnitude or importance, or that the property sought to be condemned is not needed, essential or proper to such development, then the said condemnation proceedings shall terminate; but should they decide otherwise, the condemnation shall proceed thenceforth as though no such notice had been given.

"Section 4. Be it further enacted, That any property condemned under the provision of this Act shall revert to the person from whom taken unless developed and put to the use intended within five years from the time of condemnation."

The water returned shall be not less than ninety per cent. of that taken. In the exercise of this right the pipes so laid down to intake and return the water shall be sunk a sufficient depth as not to interfere with the use of the land in which the same are placed.

The following message was received from the Governor:

STATE OF GEORGIA,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

ATLANTA, AUGUST 12, 1907.

To the General Assembly:

My attention has just been called to a resolution that was passed by the last General Assembly, "providing for the adjustment of the claim of the heirs-at-law of Sherman J. Sims against the State of Georgia, and the said heirs, in reference to adjusting the compensation for the right of way of the Northeastern Railroad through the lands of the said Sherman J. Sims, in the counties of Banks and Jackson."

Under the terms of this resolution, the Solicitor-General of the Western Circuit instituted condemnation proceedings against the property in dispute. The Governor appointed Hon. H. S. West, of Athens, to represent the State of Georgia in assessing the value of said property; the heirs of the said Sherman J. Sims appointed J. M. Eberhart, and these two selected W. F. Morris as umpire. The arbitrators thus selected, after having been duly sworn and hearing the evidence, made the following report:

"We find and award for taking the said property sought to be condemned, described as above set out, to wit.: the same being in Jackson county, situated in and contiguous to the town of Maysville, being three thousand, three hundred and fifty feet long, and one hundred feet in width, on which the bed and right of way of the Southern Railway is located, the said State of Georgia shall pay to the heirs of Sherman J. Sims, to wit.: J. C. Sims, S. B. Sims, R. B. Sims, Mrs. Essie L. Mathews, Mrs. Mary Dunahoo, Mrs. Lou J. Lord and C. H. J. Sims, the sum of seven hundred and sixty-nine dollars, to be paid to said Sherman J. Sims's estate, to be divided between the said heirs as the law provides, the said amount being the value of the said land when it was originally appropriated by the Northeastern Railroad for right of way, and the interest on same from the time of sale of said Northeastern Railroad by the State to the Southern Railway. The amount of four hundred and six dollars and forty cents (406.40) the interest of our finding. The total sum of our finding being eleven hundred and seventy-five dollars and forty cents."
The resolution above referred to provides "that when the amount of the value of said land is so ascertained by the final judgment of the court, it shall be the duty of the Governor to certify the amount so found to the next General Assembly, in order that an appropriation may be made for the payment of said claim." In obedience to the provisions of this resolution, I respectfully submit to you the findings of the arbitrators for such action as you may deem advisable.

Mr. Crittenden, chairman of Committee on School for the Deaf, submitted the following report:

To the President and Members of the Senate:

We, the committee appointed to visit the asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, located at Cave Spring, Ga., beg leave to submit the following report:

On August 6th we visited the institution above named and gave the buildings and grounds a very thorough inspection. We also inquired into the internal working and finances.

We find the buildings well kept and care for, but in some instances needing repairs. We respectfully recommend the appropriation of $5,000 as a repair fund. Through the kindness of the superintendent, Professor Connor, we were shown through the industrial department, and from the exhibitions of work done by the inmates we conclude they are being taught useful occupations by which they can become self-supporting when they leave the institution. We were informed that during last year there were 230 inmates—190 white and 40 colored. Coming as they do, for the most part, from very poor families, they are to be fed, clothed, roomed and educated at the State's expense.

To do this with the maintenance fund of $33,000 appropriated by the last Legislature allows to each inmate only $143 per annum.

We respectfully recommend a maintenance fund of $37,500. We find the institution very economically conducted—many of the teachers and helps working for very small salaries.
We also find the books neatly kept in a systematic manner, showing accurately every transaction.

We highly commend the work of our superintendent, Professor Connor, and of our matron, Miss Dean Summers, who for thirty years have devoted themselves unselfishly to this worthy cause.

We also find the present buildings inadequate for the accommodation of the inmates. The bedrooms and recitation-rooms are greatly crowded, but a new dormitory for which a special appropriation of $20,000 was made, and which is now in course of construction, will, it is hoped, relieve the crowded condition. In conclusion we commend the noble work of this institution in caring for the unfortunate children of our State, and unanimously endorse it as being worthy of your continued support.

Respectfully submitted.

H. A. CRITTENDEN, Chairman.

August —, 1907.

Mr. Taylor, chairman of the Committee on State Sanitarium, submitted the following report:

Mr President:

Your committee appointed on the State Sanitarium, who has visited this institution, beg leave to make the following report:

On arrival at the State Sanitarium your committee was divided into sub-committees, to visit each department of this institution, so as we might more intelligently and accurately go over the different departments of this institution of the State. I will say, Mr. President, that the House Committee also was visiting this institution at the same time, whose committeemen joined in with your Senate committee. The committee, on the farm and growing crops, inspecting the condition of the farm and finding thereon growing corn, cotton, peas, potatoes, watermelons, sugar-cane, which we found was well cultivated and the whole farm in a flourishing condition, and the buildings on said farm in good condition and well wooded after. The sub-committee also on buildings and machinery found them, in the main, in good condition and well kept.

Your sub-committee who had in charge the work to look into the "Center Building" and "Convalescent Males Building," find the same in good condition, floors cleaned, ample furniture, and bed-clothing clean, and the inmates fairly satisfied with their arrangements.

Your sub-committee appointed to look into the laboratory and pharmacy of this institution beg to say that we find everything in excellent condition.

Your sub-committee appointed to look into the treasury and bookkeeping department of the State Sanitarium beg leave to state, we find, so far as we are able to judge, everything in good condition, and we ask that the vouchers and statement blanks hereto attached be made a part of our report.

Your committee believes that there is no institution in Georgia that is doing so much good as this institution for the unfortunate. We feel grieved that such an immense number of our citizens have been so unfortunate as to be occupants of this institution, and we hope that some of the legislation that has recently been enacted will tend to reduce the number of these unfortunates, and thereby lessen the number, in that way preventing the suffering that comes to humanity which is evidenced by the great number of occupants of this institution. We do not believe that any institution of this character could be so economically carried on anywhere in the United States as the one in Georgia, and we most heartily commend the officers of this institution for their splendid management and care for this unfortunate class. We believe that the management of this institution is such that it will commend itself not only to the citizens of this State, but to the whole country.

We are very sorry to state that the gentleman, Dr. T. O. Powell, who has served the State so long and so well in this institution is in very feeble health, and we want, in his declining years, to express the very high and profound appreciation of the interest and ability manifested by him in the care of this unfortunate class of people for whom he has given his life service to. We believe that the facts accumulated and recorded by this distinguished Georgian will not only be of service to the State of Georgia, but of great service to other States in this nation that have similar problems to deal with. In the feeble and declining years of our great guardian of these unfortunate people we want to express our high appreciation of his great ability and service.

Mr. President, while we find that there has been criticisms made of this institution, we do not find any just reasons for this at this time, and we desire to commend and heartily approve of the institution in its expenditures and management as developed by the visiting committee.

While the distinguished Georgian, Dr. T. O. Powell, is in feeble health, we wish for him a speedy recovery, and hope that he may be restored at an early date to this institution and the State of Georgia, to continue his most efficient and valuable work, since we feel that but few men in this country are so adapted and fitted for carrying on an institution like this.

All of which we most respectfully submit.

J. W. Taylor, Chairman.
