The following communication was received from His Excellency the Governor, through Mr. Harrison,

Mr. Speaker

I am directed by the Governor to deliver to the House of Representatives a communication in writing, with accompanying documents:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ATLANTA, GA., November 8th, 1890.

SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES:

I esteem it a great privilege to meet again the representatives of the people, and, in obeying the mandate of the Constitution, to give them information of the state of the Commonwealth, and recommend to their consideration such measures as I may deem necessary or expedient. In the past four years our beloved State has enjoyed extraordinary prosperity and an extraordinary development of her resources. In that period her system of railroads has been largely extended, the wealth of her soil, of her forests, of her waters, and of her mines, and the unequalled facilities which she offers for many varieties of manufactures, have attracted capital from every quarter; her mechanical industries, have been multiplied and enlarged, and her agriculture, the chief pursuit of her people, upon which the prosperity of all others depends, has been remunerative.

A few well authenticated facts, gathered from official records, will show how solid is her prosperity, and how substantial is the basis upon which it rests.

In four years her taxable values have increased about $87,000.00. Among the more important subjects of taxation, her cotton mills have increased in value, $3,230,518; her iron works, $433,231; her banking capital, $6,160,755; her mining capital, $45,491; her lands, $13,789,513; her city and town property, $27,899,110; and her railroads, $14,350,150. The attendance upon her institutions of learning has largely increased, whilst the enrollment of pupils in her public schools amounts to 30,000 more than it was in 1886. The appropriations for her public institutions have been steadily enlarged. The public school fund has received $165,000 in 1889, and $330,000 in 1890, from taxes which are the first moneys derived from taxation, which have been paid to the school fund in many years. A school of Technology has been established, and is now an assured success, and an Industrial and Normal College for white girls has been founded within the last four years. And yet, notwithstanding her increased expenditure, the bonded debt of Georgia has been reduced $565,200, since the first day of October, 1887, and another Georgia bond will not be issued in a quarter of a century! The public debt is small, in fact, insignificant, for a great State with the resources of Georgia, and is being gradually, but surely, extinguished. The most cheering indications connected with the material condition of the State are the rapid multiplication of manufacturing industries, the increasing diversity in the pursuits of the people, and the consequent constant creation of home markets for the products of labor. From Nickajack to Tybee, Georgia presents a pleasant picture of peace and plenty and prosperity, whilst she has made immense strides in material and intellectual progress, and feels to-day the impulses of a higher and broader development.

But, I must warn you, as Representatives of the people of Georgia, that there are causes at work which threaten slowly, but surely, to destroy the prosperity of the masses of the people. For twenty-five years of submission to wrong the men of the South have displayed a courage and constancy, a patience and prudence, more heroic than any of their achievements in arms. But all this has not availed to win for them the good-will of the majority of their Northern Confederates. The present Congress has exhibited greater bitterness toward the South than any Federal Legislature has shown since the period of reconstruction. The action of its majority, on many important measures, has been absolutely controlled by sectional feeling. In many instances that majority has denied to the minority a voice in the legislation of the country, and an equal participation in its benefits. The revolution of legislation goes on, recklessly and ruthlessly, inflicting great wounds upon the South, and its business, and its rights and the feelings of its people, twenty years after Nature, as a pitying mother, has covered the battlefields of the revolution and the graves of the slain with her forests, and fruits, and flowers. The time may come when the people of the North, in some great crisis of our history from foreign war, or in some serious disturbance of their social or financial order, may cease to hate us. But there is an influence at work even more to be dreaded than sectional bitterness. It is the great, growing, grasping, giant, Money Power. The extraordinary prosperity of the country, the vast accumulations of wealth in the hands of individuals, the new-found strength of combinations of capital, and the terrible earnestness of greed, in the accomplishment of its sordid ends, make money the dominant power of this country. It fills the lobby of the Halls of Congress and of many of our State Legislatures, with its disguised emissaries and its unrecognized friends. It secures seats in the House of Representatives, and even in the Senate at Washington, for its creatures, and plays them as its puppets. It covers the country with mammoth monopolies of railway lines and giant corporations of every kind, with their extraordinary franchises and their bounties and their subsidies. It controls elections in the interests of classes. It controls legislation in the interests of classes. It crushes competition, and grinds its opponents to powder. It makes the old contest between labor and capital sharper, more embittered, more unfeeling than ever, and constantly threatens with its exactions the peace and social order of communities. The Money Power is measuring arms with the people themselves, whenever and wherever the people assemble to legislate upon their interests, and it is a contest for popular liberty against the power of corporations and monopolies.

I presented these views in my inaugural address, four years ago. I would emphasize them in this, my last official utterance as Governor of this great State, impressed as I am with the fear that the money power, if it is not controlled, will corrupt all our political life, and finally destroy our liberties.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

I transmit herewith the report of Gen. Phil Cook, the distinguished Secretary of State. It will be found to contain many matters of interest, and I would direct your attention especially to the remarks and suggestions of the Secretary, in reference to fraudulent Head-Grants, and to the new phosphate industry.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER.

Among the papers accompanying this message will be found the report of the faithful and able Treasurer of the State. Attention is invited to it as exhibiting the transactions of the most important department of the Government. The following table shows the receipts and disbursements of his department for the "official report year," beginning on the 1st of October, 1889, and ending September 30, 1890.

BONDED DEBT OF GEORGIA.

On the 1st of October, 1889, as shown by my report to your Excellency on that day, the entire valid bonded indebtedness of Georgia, both interest and non-interest bearing, amounted to ....................... 8,631,305 00

Under and by authority of an act approved October 23d, 1889, there has been issued a series of bonds, maturing as set forth in said act........................................... 1,833,000 00

Making the valid debt during the report year............. 10,464,305 00

Since October 1st, 1889, I have paid of the bonds, reported as non-interest bearing, in my last report, and have executed warrants therefor, as shown by Exhibit No. 4................................................................. 104,905 00

Which deducted from amount as above stated makes the valid outstanding debt on October 1st, 1890..... 10,359,400 00

On the day after this report was closed two million and ninety-eight thousand dollars (2,098,000) of the Bonds of the State were paid by the Treasurer from the proceeds of bonds authorized by the Act of October 23d, 1889, and by the sinking fund and by sales of public property; so that the bonded debt of the State amounts to-day to $8,261,340.00, or $565,200 less than it was on the 1st of October, 1887.

Under the Act of 23d of October, 1889, the Governor was authorized to issue bonds of the State and negotiate the same for the purpose of raising money with which to pay off two million and ninety-eight thousand dollars ($2,098,000.00) of the public debt, falling due October 1, 1890, and not otherwise provided for. Anticipating that certain public property would be sold, the proceeds of which could only be used in the payment of the public debt, I advertised for bids for a series of bonds, not to exceed in the aggregate $1,900,000, and in the event the public property referred to was sold, then the issue of said bonds not to exceed $1,900,000, less the amount realized from the sale of said property. The advertisement, as published in the cities of New York, Boston and Cincinnati, and in all the daily newspapers of Georgia, will be found in extenso in the report of the Treasurer. Pending this advertisement the Treasurer and myself visited some of the cities of the North to recommend to the attention of investors the loan which the State was proposing to make. On the 7th day of May, the day limited in the advertisement, the bids were opened in the presence of the public and the bidders, and Mr. John H. Inman, of the City of New York, being ascertained to be the highest and best bidder, he having bid par for the bonds bearing the lowest rate of interest, that is three and one-half per cent. interest, the entire series was awarded to him; and on the 1st of July he paid the purchase money for the same. The amount applicable to the payment of the public debt from the proceeds of the sale of public property being $67,000, and the amount available from the sinking fund being $200,000.00, the number of bonds sold was 1,833, leaving 67 bonds of $1,000 each of the series of 1,900, which were not signed or needed. I therefore ordered them to be burned, which has been done, all of which will more fully appear by reference to the papers in the Appendix hereto, marked "No. 1."

The bonds sold in 1888, bore four and one-half per cent interest, and were sold at 104 and 1-4. Their average life was sixteen and one-half years. The average life of the bonds sold in July last, is twenty-two and one-half years—they bore three and a half per cent. interest, and were sold at par. The sale of 1888 was, when made, the best which had ever been effected in the history of the State. The sale of 1890 was still better, for it can be shown by a simple calculation that the series bearing three and one-half per cent. interest, running sixteen and a half years, and sold at par, will net to the people of Georgia, one hundred and twenty-one thousand two hundred dollars ($121,200) more than the series bearing four and a half per cent. interest, running the same time, and sold for four and a quarter (4 1-4) premium. With the credit which Georgia now enjoys, she can float a bond as cheaply as any State in the Union; but her public debt is so small, so well arranged, and so easily managed, that there will be no necessity, without some great calamity befalls her, for Georgia to issue another promise to pay in twenty-five years.

The report of the Treasurer contains the estimate, as required by law, of the probable receipts and expenditures at the Treasury for the ensuing two years, showing the sources of income, and the probable amount to be received from each; also, the objects of appropriation, and the probable necessities of the Treasury. It will be seen that the Treasurer, in making this estimate, has assumed that the returns of taxable property for the years 1891 and '92 will be the same as for the current year, viz: $415,000,000, and upon that assumption the rate of taxation mentioned in his estimate is considerably lower than for the past two years. There is very little doubt that taxable values will be maintained; in fact, there is every indication that they will steadily increase for a number of years, and that the rate of taxation may be slowly but steadily lessened.

The Treasurer of the State by the Act of Nov. 12, 1889, was made ex officio, Bank Examiner, and required to report the condition annually of every bank or corporation, chartered by the laws of this State, and doing a banking business. In executing that law he has prepared and published with his report an elaborate and detailed statement showing the condition of each bank in Georgia, on the 30th day, of June 1890, and in addition has prepared and published with his report a table collated from all these statements, showing the aggregate resources and liabilities of the banks, and classifying the debts due them. The Treasurer is in the midst of his duties as Bank Examiner, but the information already secured and presented by him is very gratifying, as it shows that the banks of the State are in a good solvent condition, and that their capital is rapidly increasing.

RAILROAD COMMISSION.

The report of the Railroad Commission herewith transmitted contains matter of unusual interest.

On the 24th of March last, the Supreme Court of the United States pronounced two decisions, affecting the rights of a Railroad Commission, which have attracted considerable attention. Both cases were carried up on writs of error to the Supreme Court of Minnesota, and were heard together. The principal question involved in both of these cases was whether rates of charges for the transportation of property recommended and published by the Minnesota Commission, should be considered as final and conclusive as to the equality and reasonableness of such charges, so that no judicial inquiry could be made as to their reasonableness.

Under the 2d and 8th Sections of the Minnesota Act, the Commission fixes rates and they must be accepted as equal and reasonable. There is no provision for judicial interference to determine the question of their reasonableness. Under the 6th Section of our Act the rates fixed by the Commission must be accepted as final and conclusive. In the whole of it there is no provision for an appeal to the courts or for any judicial intervention, except by suit to enforce the regulations of the Commission.

The Supreme Court of the United States held that the Minnesota act was unconstitutional, three justices, Bradley, Gray and Lamar, dissenting. This decision is an authoritative exposition of the supreme law of the land and binding upon the people and the courts of Georgia. I would call the attention of the Legislature to the subject, and to a careful consideration of it. Legislation may be necessary in order that our statute may harmonize with the adjudications of the Supreme Court of the United States. Or, it may be wiser to leave that statute as it is, subject to the construction of our own Supreme Court. I have no suggestion to make, but simply express the hope that great care will be exercised in whatever may be done in the premises not to weaken the efficiency and the power of the Commission.

The Act of October 29, 1889, was a very important and valuable amendment to the organic law of the Commission. I would refer you to the report for a number of interesting items, connected with the action of the Commission in the administration of that law, especially to what it has accomplished in reference to the equalization of rates and to the supervision and regulation of depots, depot buildings and station accommodations.
Major Campbell Wallace, whose name has been for so many years identified with the Commission, having been one of its original members, and its chairman from six years after its organization up to the 30th of January of the present year, resigned, and J W Robertson at that date was appointed his successor. Major Wallace has had an extended experience in the management of railroads, which was used, with his fine abilities, wisely for the benefit of the State. In his long service upon the Commission and especially during the early days of its history, when it was obliged to encounter very serious opposition, and deal with a great many questions of very great perplexity, the highest encomium which can be pronounced upon him is that he successfully discharged his duty to the people of the State and to its railroad corporations. Constituted as it has been since his retirement, the Commission has continued to command the respect and confidence of every one familiar with the administration of its affairs, and to demonstrate its purpose to deal impartially with every question which involves a contest of interest or opinion between the railroads and the people.

COUNTY JAILS.

In my Message of the 7th of July, 1887, I recommended that some legislation should be had, to improve the condition of our county jails. Some of the counties, since then, have erected prisons which are cleanly, healthy and secure. But, the jails of many of the counties of the State are filthy, unhealthy, insecure and altogether unfit for the confinement of human beings. Many complaints are made of their condition. The officials of the penitentiary represent that many of the convicts received by them, who have been incarcerated in county jails for some time reach the penitentiary camps loathsome with filth and disease, covered with vermin, and seriously enfeebled in constitution. The interiors of some of these jails are too disgusting for description. Their inmates are often crowded together, in filthy apartments, without regard to sex or color, without sufficient air or light, or water, or food, or clothing, or fire, in utter disregard of all the laws of health. The convicts in our penitentiary who are condemned criminals are infinitely better cared for than the inmates of many of our jails, who are innocent in contemplation of law until they have been tried and convicted. I am reluctant to state these facts, for they are a serious re-fection upon the justice, the humanity and the Christianity of our people. But, I believe that they exist because public attention has not been sufficiently directed to them, and that the people will approve and applaud any effort to improve the condition of our jails, and to insure the humane treatment of their inmates. The Legislature should provide for frequent and thorough inspection of our jails. This inspection should not be made in a perfunctory way, nor should it be dependent upon the will or the pleasure of any one. The Legislature should regulate the construction of our jails, so that they may have sufficient light and ventilation and warmth and area. It should prescribe such rules for the regimen and diet of prisoners, and for their proper classification and division in dormitories, as are required by good morals, by humanity, and by the laws of scientific sanitation.
I trust that this subject will receive the early and earnest attention of the General Assembly.

A PARDON COMMISSION.

In my message to the General Assembly on the 7th of July, 1887, I recommended the establishment of a Board of Pardons, and took occasion to say upon that subject:
“There is no duty developing upon the Executive which is more important, more onerous and often-times more embarrassing, than his exercise of the power to grant pardons, reprieves and commutations of the sentences of convicts which is conferred upon him by the Constitution. The labor which it involves to a conscientious official is very great, whilst the solicitude it causes to an Executive of ordinary sensibilities is often most painful. Indeed, the labor is so great that the Executive cannot satisfactorily perform it without neglecting other duties belonging to his office.

“A short while after the commencement of my term of office there were, by actual count, on file in the Executive Department more than six hundred applications for pardons, reprieves or commutations. The large majority of these were presented to my predecessors. Some of the applicants had served their terms and been discharged; some had died; a few had escaped; but after deducting all these, several hundred cases remained requiring the action of the Executive, and to these others have been constantly added. The pardoning power is not a prerogative of the Executive to be used carelessly or arbitrarily, but a discretion to be exercised calmly, cautiously, conscientiously and courageously. Again, it is a power which should be exercised as soon as it is invoked. If a convict petitions for pardon, and is entitled to it, he should have it with all practicable expedition. Every day of detention in confinement is a grievous wrong to him. Delay in considering a petition for pardon is as unjustifiable, if it can be avoided, as delay in deciding the issue presented upon a writ of habeas corpus. It is itself a writ of liberty, and should have a speedy hearing. The pardoning power cannot be delegated. It must be exercised by the Executive himself, under the responsibility of his oath of office; upon his conviction of what is right after examination and investigation which he himself has made.

"The Executive, with the aid of efficient secretaries, might possibly dispose of all the applications for clemency filed in his office. But, as the law stands, he cannot avail himself even of this aid, or of any aid, so as to relieve himself from the necessity of personal investigation and decision, in every case, and from the sense of personal responsibility in all cases. It is impossible for the Executive to attend properly to his many other duties, and dispose of all applications for executive clemency with the dispatch which the applicants have a right to demand, and, at the same time, with the caution which the interests of the public require. If these are the facts to-day, what may they be a few years hence, when this great commonwealth of Georgia has grown into an empire, in the extent and multiplicity of its public business.
I have given this subject much consideration, and I am convinced that it would be wise legislation to organize a Commission of Pardons now, by which I, and my successors in office, might be relieved of a large share of the labor and responsibility which attaches to the pardoning power. A change of the Constitution may be necessary, but it occurs to me that such a commission might be established, without a change of the fundamental law, if the act establishing it shall place the ultimate decision of every application for pardon, reprieve, or commutation of sentence upon the Governor, and that it could be so organized as to add very little to the expense of the civil establishment.

"But, without entering into the details of any plan,
I must earnestly invoke the attention of the General Assembly to the subject, as worthy of their immediate and careful consideration."
The experience of four years in the office of Governor has confirmed me in the opinion that Georgia should follow the example of other great States of the Union and establish a Board of Pardons. The House of Representatives passed a law for this purpose in 1888, and the Senate in 1889, but the two Houses of the General Assembly have failed to concur. In the meantime the number of convicts in the Penitentiary, has steadily increased; the number of chain gangs in the counties and the number of convicts in them has steadily increased; applications for pardons, commutations and reprieves are rapidly multiplied, and the necessity of a Pardon Commission grows stronger every year. I do not urge the establishment of such a commission, because it will increase or decrease the number of pardons. But I urge it that it may relieve the Executive, and do justice to the unfortunate class who are suffering the penalties of violated law, by securing to every application for clemency a prompt and patient hearing. The Executive cannot relieve himself by any policy which he may adopt in reference to pardons. He may be very liberal, or he may be exceedingly cautious in granting them, but in every case, as a conscientious man, he must investigate and determine for himself, and he will discover that his labor is great, and his responsibility onerous, whatever his decision may be.

I renew the recommendation made three years ago for the establishment of a Board of Pardons. Clemency is the highest prerogative of the Executive, and its prompt and proper exercise his most important duty.
THE CHICKAMAUGA AND CHATTANOOGA NATIONAL MILITARY PARK.

An Act to establish a National Military Park, at the battle field of Chickamauga was passed by Congress and approved by the President on the 19th of August, 1890.

Section 2d of said Act provides, that upon the ceding of jurisdiction by the Legislature of Georgia to the United States over the lands and roads described in said Section, and after purchase of the lands has been made and perfect title thereto has been acquired, the territory described in the Act shall be declared a National Park, provided Tennessee shall also cede jurisdiction to certain territory within her limits. I give in the Appendix a copy of this Act, marked No. 4, that you may be able to act promptly and intelligently upon the question of the cession of jurisdiction.

THE PENSION LAW.

The law giving small bounties to Confederate soldiers has been in operation since 1887. The number of beneficiaries under the law has steadily increased from 1,900 to 3,100. The total payments, to these applicants, aggregate about $180,000. Besides the large number who are paid, there are hundreds of applications which are rejected, after an examination which, as a rule, is more laborious than that bestowed upon those which are approved. The work of examining these petitions for bounty, and deciding each case, so as to administer the law with justice and impartiality has imposed very serious labor upon the Executive department. The amendment to the Constitution to pension a certain class of widows of deceased Confederate soldiers, which was ratified by the people on the 1st of October 1890, will very materially increase the labor connected with pension applications.
The Constitution limits the number of Secretaries in the Executive Department to two, and limits the appropriation for the payment of their salaries, and for the payment of all other clerical force in the department, to six thousand dollars. The applications for pensions and the applications for pardons are very burthensome upon the officials of the department who have a variety of other duties quite sufficient to employ them constantly. The time has arrived, when some method should be adopted to relieve the Executive Department. I recommend elsewhere in this message, as a step in that direction, the organization of a Pardon Commission, and I now recommend that applications for pensions, by proper enactment, be filed in the office of the Adjutant General, where they more appropriately belong as our military records are kept in that office, and when they are approved, paid by that official, and that this important duty may be accomplished promptly and properly, I recommend that an appropriation be made sufficient to secure competent clerical assistance in the office of the Adjutant General. When the number of pensioners shall be reduced, and their claims recognized and fixed, that appropriation might be discontinued.

THE CONTINGENT FUND.

In the year 1860, when our population was very small, compared with what it is now, and when there was only a small percentage of the crime which now occurs in the State, the contingent fund was $16,000. After the war between the States, and up to the second term of Gov. Colquitt, the annual appropriation for this fund was $20,000. During the four years of my incumbency of the gubernatorial office the contingent fund has amounted to $8,500 per annum. I have found this sum to be inadequate. It is made the duty of the Governor to see that the laws are executed; and the principal object in the creation of a contingent fund is to place the means in the hands of the Governor for the discharge of this duty by offering rewards for the arrest and conviction of criminals. Another use of the fund is to carry out legislation, where no specific appropriation has been made. With the closest economy, the fund has not been sufficient to meet the demands upon it during the current fiscal year. Some applications for rewards have been refused; other rewards have not been as liberal as I desired to make them; and some executive action, required by legislation, has been delayed.

I recommend that the appropriation for the contingent fund be $16,000, each for the next two years.

APPORPTION OF FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS FROM THE UNITED STATES TREASURY.

The Congress of the United States at its late session passed an Act, which was entitled, "an Act to apply a portion of the proceeds of the public lands to the more complete endowment and support of the colleges, for the benefit of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts established under the provisions of an Act of Congress, approved, July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two." This act was approved August 30, 1890. It appropriates $15,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1890, from the sales of public lands, to each State and Territory for the more complete endowment and maintenance of colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts, now established or which may be hereafter established in accordance with the Agricultural Land Scrip Act, of July 2, 1862. It provides for an annual increase of the amount of such appropriation after June 30, 1890, for ten years, by an additional sum of $1,000 over the prceeding year, and after ten years, that the appropriation shall not be further increased, but shall remain $25,000. These appropriations are made with the provisos,

1st. That no money under the Act shall be paid to any State or Territory, for the support and maintenance of a college where a distinction of race or color is made in the admission of students, but,

2nd. That the establishment, and maintenance of such colleges separately, for white and colored students, shall be held to be in compliance with the provisions of the Act, if the funds received under it are divided equitably between institutions for white and for colored students, if the institution for the education of colored students, which has been established, or may be hereafter established in any State, is now aided by such State from its own revenue. The Act further provides that the Legislature of such State may propose and report to the Secretary of the Interior, a just and equitable division of the fund between one college for white students, and one institution for colored students; and makes its grants subject to the assent of the Legislatures of the several States and Territories to the purpose of said grants. Payments of two instalments of the appropriation made by this Act, having become due, and the Legislature of Georgia not being in session, I have, as the Governor of the State and in its behalf, and as authorized by this act, duly certified to the Secretary of the Treasury my assent, to its provisions, and to the purpose of its grants. I append hereto a copy of a communication addressed by me to the Secretary of the Interior, together with copies of the exhibits attached, marked "appendix No. 2."

Georgia established in 1872, in connection with its State University, a college of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, under the provisions of the Act of July 2d, 1862, and to carry out the purposes of said Act. In 1874 the General Assembly, by an Act whose purpose was declared, in its caption, to be an equitable adjustment of the claims of the colored race for a portion of the proceeds of the Agricultural Land Scrip, appropriated annually to the Atlanta University $8,000 from its own revenue, for the education of colored pupils, upon certain conditions expressed in the Act. Those conditions have not been complied with for several years. The Atlanta University has not only failed to comply with the conditions upon which it was in receipt of $8,000 annually from the State, but deliberately violated the intention of said Act, which was to devote said sum exclusively to the education of colored pupils, and the settled policy of the State against the co-education of the races. For these reasons, and because of the defiant declaration of its officers that it would not recognize in its pupils any distinction of color, the appropriations to it for the years 1888, 1889 and 1890, have been covered into the Treasury. Reference to the exhibits accompanying my late communication to the Secretary of the Interior, referred to above, will furnish in detail all the legislation of the State in reference to this appropriation of $8,000 and the facts and arguments, as presented in the report of the Board of Visitors to the Atlanta University in 1887, and in my messages of the 7th of July, 1887, and the 7th of November, 1888, which have prevented its payment for the last three years.

This appropriation was made by the State in a spirit of justice and liberality to its colored population and in recognition of their right to their equitable portion of the proceeds of the sale of the Agricultural Land Scrip. The Atlanta University is not a fair representative of the colored people of Georgia, nor is it a proper medium for the benefactions of the State bestowed upon its colored people. But the obligation upon the State to give to this class of its population the sum of money appropriated by the Act of 1874 still remains, and it is an enlightened policy in the interest of the white population of the State to continue that appropriation.

I recommend that the Legislature should promptly indicate its assent to the purpose of the grants made by the Act of 1890, and at the same time, propose and report to the Secretary of the Interior, a just and equitable division of the fund to be received under said Act, between an institution for colored students and the Georgia State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts. I have suggested to the Secretary, that the proposition to pay one-third to an institution for the education of colored students, and two-thirds to the Georgia State College, would be such just and equitable division of the fund. I further recommend that the sum of $8,000 appropriated to the Atlanta University, which was never drawn by that institution, and now amounts to $24,000, should be devoted to the education of the youth of the colored people of the State. Various suggestions have been made as to the way in which it shall be so devoted. One is to grant it to one of our colored institutions, established, or to be established, which is non-sectarian, and which is taught and patronized exclusively by colored people. Another is to devote it to the establishment of a Normal School for colored teachers. This suggestion meets my cordial approval, and, without discussion, I commend it and the whole subject of colored education in Georgia, to the careful consideration of the General Assembly. The Constitution forbids the appropriation of money in aid of any church, sect or denomination of religionists, or of any sectarian institution, and does not authorize the appropriation of money to more than one college or university established for the education of persons of color. I am disposed to believe that these provisions of the Constitution will not control the action of the Legislature in reference to the funds received under the Act of 1890. If that Act is approved and assented to, your action as to such funds will be controlled by it.

REPORT OF THE STATE SCHOOL COMMISSIONER.

I herewith transmit the bi-ennial report of Hon. Jas. S. Hook, State School Commissioner, for the years 1889 and 1890. The document exhibits very clearly the labor and the ability expended by the Commissioner in the discharge of the duties of his office, and his enthusiasm and zeal for common schools, and for all other instrumentalities for the education of the people.

As I have had occasion to remark before, the two great obstacles to the establishment and maintenance of an efficient system of public schools are our sparse population and want of money. Population is increasing rapidly, and the appropriations for the last two years have been more liberal than usual, but what Georgia needs, and what she must have, and what I would most earnestly press upon the attention of the members of the General Assembly, as one of the most important subjects which can engage their attention, is the creation of a common school fund. There is no such fund now in existence which is worthy of the name. The schools of the State have received one hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars this year from the taxes of 1889, and will receive next year three hundred and thirty thousand dollars from the taxes of this year; besides these sums they have received this year $50,575.90, being the tax on property for the year 1889 in excess of $360,000,000, and will receive in 1891 about $140,616 from the taxes of 1890, in excess of $360,000,000. They have also enjoyed one-half the annual rental of the Western & Atlantic Railroad, amounting to $150,000. But there is no permanence in this provision for the support of the schools. All these sums are appropriated and may be at any moment withdrawn; even the half rental of the State Road may be withheld, for the lease Act, which goes into effect on the 27th of December, is silent upon the subject, and it is not clear that such half rental is a part of the permanent school fund of the State. In this connection I would recommend the passage of a law, dedicating the half rental of the Road, under the new lease, to the common schools, that all doubt as to its payment to them may be removed. But, further than this, I would recommend the inauguration at once of measures looking to the creation of a permanent school fund, which shall be sufficient to support the schools for six months at least, and make them independent of the constantly changing opinions and policies of different Legislatures. Money cannot be better expended. It has passed into a maxim that education is the cheap defense of nations.

The School Commissioner complains, with great reason, that the teachers in our public schools are compelled to wait for their small stipends for months after their work has been performed. This is a very great wrong, and should be remedied before this Legislature adjourns. As a class, they do honest, hard work, and should receive compensation for that work as promptly as other servants of the State.

Another very important matter discussed by the Commissioner, and demanding prompt action on the part of the Legislature, is the establishment of Normal Schools in this State for the education of our teachers. The pro rata of the $15,000 appropriated by Congress, under the Act of August, 1890, which is exhibited in full with this message, may be available for this purpose. That pro rata, amounting to $10,000 for the first year and gradually increasing every year until it reaches $16,667.00, should be supplemented by a yearly appropriation from the Treasury. If this is done Georgia will then receive a very handsome dividend in the division of the great Peabody fund, sufficient to supply all of her immediate educational needs. Under these circumstances it is not necessary that I should expend much time or space in directing your attention to the necessity of prompt action.

Among the many interesting subjects discussed in the report of the Commissioner, I have time to refer to only one more and that is the suggestion which he makes of an amendment to the school law, by which every county in the State may have a school law of its own. This was recommended by the Commissioner two years ago. I very emphatically approved of the proposed amendment then, and I respectfully recommend it now. Local government in all things should be preferred, and a general local-option education law, I am satisfied, could be framed with such elasticity as to adapt it to the particular wants, and necessities of every county in the State, and to give to every county the schools which they desire.

I commend the report of the Commissioner to the careful consideration of the General Assembly.

SCHOOL OF TECHNOLOGY.

The Act establishing this school as a branch of the State University was approved on the 13th of October, 1885, and on the 5th day of October, 1888, the Commission, charged with the location of the school, the location of the buildings, the purchase of an outfit, and the adoption of a curriculum and course of training, turned over the property to the Trustees of the University. The final statement of the Commission and the report thereon of a committee of the Trustees of the University of Georgia was transmitted to the General Assembly with my message of November 7th, 1888.

The school was opened in September, 1889, and has been from that date an assured success. Its first commencement was held in June last, at which the only regular degree given in this school, viz., that of "Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering," was conferred upon two graduates, both of whom, I am happy to state, have secured honorable and lucrative positions. The school may be considered the beginning and the basis of industrial progress in this State, and deserves the fostering care of the Legislature. In the appropriation Act of 1888, the Legislature granted $18,000 for the support of the school for the year 1890. No provision was made for the running of the school from the date of its opening in September, 1889 to January, 1890, and consequently a deficiency has resulted of nearly $6,000. To pay those expenses, which they were obliged to meet, the Commissioners have been compelled to use their own personal credit to raise money to keep the school in operation, and will owe on the 1st of January to their Professors $6,541.55. The deficit will amount altogether at that date to $12,166.15, and I recommend an appropriation to cover that sum.

This institution seems to be patronized more liberally by the agricultural, than by any other class of our population. I append an interesting classification of the pupils now in attendance upon the school:

PUPILS OF TECHNOLOGICAL SCHOOL, 1890.

Farmers' boys .......................................................... 40 per cent. 45 boys.
Merchants' boys ......................................................... 23 per cent.
Manufacturers' boys .................................................. 9 per cent.
Railroad men's boys ................................................. 4 per cent.
Drummers' boys ...................................................... 4 per cent.

Real estate agents' boys .............................................. 3 per cent.
Teachers' boys ........................................................ 3 per cent.
County officers' boys ............................................... 3 per cent.
Bankers' boys .......................................................... 2 per cent.
The Technological School should have a definite sum for its support that it may accomplish for the State the great results of which it has given such abundant promise. I recommend for its maintenance and support a yearly appropriation of $20,000.00, which is only one thousand dollars in excess of the estimate of our careful Treasurer. For myself I would very cordially approve the dedication of one month of the rental of the State Road during the continuance of the new lease to the Technological School.

REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER-GENERAL.

I transmit herewith the Annual Report of the Comptroller-General and would commend to the consideration of the General Assembly the statement of our finances of this careful and capable officer and his suggestions in reference to certain matters connected with taxation. The condition of the Treasury at the close of the last fiscal year is shown by the following table:

In reference to our public schools the Comptroller suggests that a special tax levy should be made each year on all the taxable property in the State for educational purposes to simplify the collection of the taxes and the keeping of the records; and that some change in our method of collecting the school fund should be made, so that the well founded complaints made by the teachers of our public schools of the delay in the payment of their salaries, should be removed.

He renews the suggestion heretofore made, that the law requiring tax receivers to take the returns of Agricultural Statistics in their counties should be repealed, and presents some very cogent reasons in favor of such repeal. But the most important amendment in our revenue laws, which is recommended by the Comptroller, is in the Act of October 16, 1889.
I would direct the attention of members of the General Assembly especially to the views presented by him, in favor of the proposed amendments to said Act, as well as to the Acts in reference to the payment of State taxes by railroads.

The report is very voluminous, and contains all necessary information in reference to the finances of the State, and to the insurance companies doing business in Georgia.

GEORGIA INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB.

The report of the Board of Trustees of this interesting charity, accompanied with the reports of the Principal and of the Treasurer, is herewith transmitted. The Trustees claim that the Institution has been neglected by the State and is, in its equipment, inferior to all others of its public institutions. In his report to the Trustees, the Principal, besides many interesting statistics, presents an estimate of the needs of the institution, which the Trustees agree with him in stating are very urgent and they ask an appropriation of $24,000.

The biennial report of the condition of the Penitentiary from October 1st, 1888, to October 1st, 1890, has been submitted by the Principal Keeper of that Institution and is herewith transmitted. The following tables of the report present a great many facts of interest.

Net increase.................................................................................... 157

From these tables it appears that the net increase in the number of convicts is 157; that the proportion between the white and the colored race which has obtained for several years, is still maintained, the white race contributing ten per cent., and the colored race ninety per cent. of the population of our Penitentiary; that seventy-two have been discharged by pardon or commutation: (a detailed statement of whose cases appears in the appendix marked No. 5,) that 13 have been returned to courts for new trial and that two have become insane. No person should be confined in the Penitentiary until he has been finally convicted, and no person who has been convicted of crime and confined in the Penitentiary who becomes insane should be sent to the State Lunatic Asylum, and associated with its unfortunate inmates. I suggest that some suitable place should be provided for the confinement and treatment of insane criminals, and recommend that a law be enacted with a proper penalty forbidding sheriffs to deliver, and Penitentiary guards to receive and convey to the Penitentiary any person sentenced for crime, before a finality has been reached in his case.

The Report contains a table which shows the distribution of convicts among the several counties of the State, and presents the extraordinary fact that the county of Chatham furnishes as many convicts as forty other counties which are named.

From the Report, it appears that there has been steady and uniform improvement in the general health of the convicts. The mortality, it is true, has been greater than it appeared in the last biennial report, but this fact is accounted for by the report of the Principal Physician, Dr. H. V M. Miller, who shows that quite a large number of deaths occurred by accident, and from an epidemic which prevailed among the convicts, and from old age, and other causes which do not yield to treatment. The convicts in the Georgia Penitentiary have a health record which will compare favorably with any class of our population, and if there could be a division of the sexes, and a proper classification and separation of criminals, and the removal of minor convicts to reformatory schools, very few additional improvements could be made in our Penitentiary system. It is but just to say that it is superior in the care of the health, and morals and comfort of its inmates to any county chain-gang in the State of Georgia.

Dr. Willis F Westmoreland, the eminent surgeon, and distinguished Physician of the Penitentiary, was relieved of duty on the—day of—, 1890, and died soon afterward. His death was a loss to the State and to the profession and especially to the Georgia Penitentiary, in which he had originated the system of hygienic rules and regulations to which the improved health of the convicts is so largely due. Dr. H. V M. Miller, an eminent member of the medical profession, distinguished for general information and scientific attainment, was appointed the successor of Dr. Westmoreland, and has continued the system of sanitation begun by his predecessor. I would call especial attention to his admirable Report, which accompanies that of the Principal Keeper.
TREZEVANT CLAIM.

By an Act approved March 3, 1883, the Congress of the United States authorized the payment of the sum of $35,555.40 to the State of Georgia to reimburse the State for the amount paid by it to the heirs of Peter Trezevant. Under a decision of the first Comptroller of the Treasury, this sum was withheld and ordered to be entered as a credit on the account against Georgia in the United States Treasury for her proportion of the direct land tax of 1862, although a predecessor of the Comptroller had held that Georgia was not liable for that tax. The State was finally compelled to bring suit for this sum of money in the Court of Claims, where judgment was rendered in its favor, and the amount of that judgment, $35,555.40 was placed as an item in the deficiency appropriation bill passed at the recent session of Congress.

In 1858 the Legislature of Georgia, by joint resolution, appointed James A. Green, of Milledgeville, as the Agent of the State to collect the Trezevant claim, and fixed his compensation at one fourth of the amount which might be realized. That gentleman has been indefatigable in his efforts, and has expended much time and money in the prosecution of this claim before the Departments at Washington, before Congress, and before the Court of Claims. The suit above referred to in that Court, was instituted by him, and prosecuted to a successful conclusion by attorneys employed by him and paid by him. The money was realized on the 13th day of October, 1890. He preferred a claim, in addition, to one-fourth of the amount for $1,450 paid to his attorneys. Having no authority to recognize his claim, I paid Mr. Green one-fourth of the amount received, viz: $8,888.85, and paid the balance, viz: $26,666.57. into the Treasury.

The compensation of the agent under the joint resolution of 1858, was fixed at one-fourth of the amount collected. That is true. But, at that time it was not contemplated that he would be compelled to incur the trouble and delay and expense of a suit in the Court of Claims. If that suit had not been brought by him, the Governor would have been obliged to employ special counsel to institute and conduct it, as the Attorney-General is under no legal obligation to represent the State outside of its limits, and such special counsel would probably have cost the State more than the amount claimed by Mr. Greene. Therefore, whilst I could not pay it, I recognize the justice of this claim and recommend its payment.

ROADS AND ROAD LAWS.

It is a common remark that the civilization of a country may be correctly measured by the condition of its public roads. If our civilization was determined by this test, Georgia would rank far below many of her sister States, who are far below her in all the essential elements and evidences of material and intellectual progress. The rapid expansion of our system of railways and the sparseness of our population, and our lack of all experience of a good highway, and of its many advantages in enhancing the value of lands, in attracting population, in lessening the cost of transportation by the saving of stock and vehicles, and in increasing the comfort and pleasure of country towns, and the profits of agricultural pursuits, account in part for the wretched condition of our country roads. But the principal reason for the neglect of these roads, which, whatever may be our means of transportation by water ways or by railways, must always be essential to the prosperity of the country, and important to all local travel and traffic, is that our road laws are inefficient, and inefficient as they are, are not enforced. In many of the States of the Union, especially in the great States of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, much attention has been devoted of late years to the improvement of their highways and plans for their improvement have become prominent subjects for discussion and legislative action. A judicious expenditure of money by the State, or the use of convicts in providing good roads for the people of Georgia would be a paying investment. The road laws of the State should be revised and simplified. A system should be established for the construction, repair and preservation of our roads which has been approved by the experience of older communities, and this system should be administered under the direction and control of the State by skilled superintendents. I say skilled superintendents for more skill is required to build a good, reasonably cheap and durable highway, than to build a railway. There is in every portion of our favored State, ample material of excellent quality to build roads equal to those of Baden or of France, to intersect all the counties of the State. If the tide of emigration from the country to cities and towns, which for many reasons must be deplored, shall be turned again to the country, a system of good country roads will aid largely in accomplishing that result. I would, with this slight reference, direct your attention to our road laws and the improvement of our roads, as a subject of great practical importance.

LUNATIC ASYLUM

The report of the Superintendent of this great charity, accompanied with those of its subordinate officers and of the Prudential Committee of its Board of Trustees, has been filed in the Executive Department, and a copy is transmitted with this message. It is a very voluminous document, presenting a great mass of details connected with the care, maintenance support, sanitation, diet, clothing, food, medicine, watching, nursing and treatment of a large community of insane persons. I find it difficult in the space
I have to present even a synopsis of these interesting papers, and must content myself with the expression of the opinion, from the examination which I have given them, that the Asylum has never been better or more economically managed in its history.

W AND A. R. R. LEASE.

Under the Act of November 12th, 1889, I advertised for bids for the lease of the Western and Atlantic Railroad, to be submitted in writing on or before the 27th day of June, 1890. Two bids only were submitted. One by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway, of Tennessee, who offered thirty­ five thousand and one dollars ($35,001) per month, payable as required by said Act, for a term of twenty­ nine years; the other by the Richmond and Terminal, who offered $35,000 per month, payable as required by the said Act for a term of twenty­nine years.
These bids were opened by the Secretary of State, Treasurer, Attorney-General, Comptroller-General and myself, at the Capitol on the 28th day of June, 1890, in the presence of the public and the bidders, or their legal representatives. The Commission of officials then adjourned until the 30th day of June, 1890, when they reassembled at 4 o'clock, P. M., at the Capitol, when they formally in writing accepted the bid of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway The contract of Lease was afterwards signed in duplicate on the 19th of July, 1890. The lessees will go into possession on the 27th of December next. Every step in reference to the Lease was taken with very great caution, and in strict compliance with every provision of the Act of November 12th, 1889. The people are to be congratulated upon the result. All the details of this important transaction will be found of record upon the minutes of the Executive Department.

The 8th Section of the Lease Act required the appointment of a commission of three persons to perform certain duties therein expressed; and the 10th Section required the appointment of a commission of five persons to discharge certain duties as therein expressed. A commission of three have performed their work faithfully and efficiently; a commission of five are now engaged in their labors. The Act does not fix the compensation of the members of these two commissions, or provide any fund for their payment, I therefore recommend that a just and liberal sum be appropriated for that purpose.

REPORT OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

The Attorney-General’s Report has been filed and a copy is herewith transmitted. It is an exceedingly interesting document, coming as it does from the Law Department of the Government. It gives a summary of all the business pending in the courts in which the State is interested. It contains also a very clear and interesting statement of the celebrated case of The State versus Thos. G. Woolfolk, which has attracted so much public attention in Georgia. He makes the history of that case, with its long delays, the occasion for a number of suggestions, which, if adopted, would very much expedite the trial of criminal cases.

Attorney-General Anderson retires from office to-day after a service of ten years as the Law Officer of the Government. I deem it as simple justice to him at the close of his official life, to say of this admirable gentleman that the State has never had a more conscientious official or abler Attorney-General.
SALES OF PUBLIC PROPERTY.

I must refer to the minutes of the Executive Department and to its files for full details connected with the sale of the old Capitol building and the Okefenokee Swamp and the lease of the Indian Spring Reserve.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

The report of the Commissioner of Agriculture is an admirable document. I had proposed a somewhat more intimate connection between this important department and the Agricultural Experiment Farm of Georgia, but it is like the report from the Lunatic Asylum, so elaborate and so voluminous that I do not even attempt a synopsis.

SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES,

I have thus attempted to furnish you some information in reference to some of the important subjects which may engage your attention during the next two years.

My message has been prepared in the midst of interruptions and business engagements. Since its preparation was begun a great political revolution has swept over the country, giving us the cheering assurance of the return of the Democratic party to power; and the inauguration by it of an era of earnest and honest Reform. With this inspiring hope let us labor for the unity and success of the Democratic party.

JOHN B. GORDON.
APPENDIX No. 1.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 5, 1890.

To His Excellency, John B. Gordon, Governor:

DEAR SIR—In pursuance of the Act approved October 23d, 1889, providing for the issuance of bonds for purpose of raising money with which to pay off the bonds maturing October 1st, next, under your direction I had engraved and printed by the New York Bank-note Company, nineteen hundred one thousand dollar bonds. Section First of said Act required Your Excellency and myself "to issue negotiable bonds of the State to such an amount of the debt falling due October 1st, 1890, as will not be paid by the Sinking Fund provided for, or by any other moneys in the Treasury available for that purpose at the time said bonds fall due," therefore, in compliance with this section of the Act, in making our contract with the purchasers of the bonds issued thereunder, we issued and delivered eighteen hundred and thirty-three of said bonds of one thousand dollars each. For this reason, pending the negotiations necessary to the sale of the bonds, there was paid into the Treasury from sale of public property, sixty-seven thousand dollars, as follows: For sale old Capitol, sixty-five thousand, and from purchasers of the Okefenoke swamp, five thousand dollars. Under our Constitution this money could only be used in the payment of the public debt, and was therefore applied, as above stated, to reduce the issue of bonds provided in the Act approved October 23d, 1889. Consequently from such non-issuance I have in my hands of the nineteen hundred of bonds ordered engraved, sixty-seven one thousand dollar bonds, numbered from 1,834 to 1,900, both inclusive of the series due in 1935, with 89 coupons of $17.50 attached to each, which said bonds have never been executed or sold, and I would suggest that you appoint a committee to burn same and make record of such destruction of bonds on the minutes of the Executive office.

Truly yours,

R. U. HARDEMAN, Treasurer.
APPENDIX No. 2.

ATLANTA, GA., October 31, 1890.

To the Hon. John W. Noble, Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D. C.:

Sir—I have yours of the 22d of September, 1890, enclosing copies of "An Act to apply a portion of the proceeds of the public lands to the more complete endowment and support of the colleges for the benefit of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, established under the provisions of an Act of Congress, approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two," and of a report of the same by the Commissioner of Education.

In answer thereto, I furnish the following information, requested by you, and required under said Act to be submitted:

YOUR FIRST QUESTION IS:

"Is there in your State a College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, established under or receiving the benefit of the Act of Congress of July 2, 1862?"

I answer, yes. The State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts was established and opened at Athens, Ga., in 1872, under said Act of Congress of July 2, 1862. I hereto append, marked Exhibit A, copies of the Acts of the General Assembly and of the action of the Trustees of the University of Georgia, and of the Executive Order of Governor Smith, dated March 20, 1872, which show Georgia's acceptance of the grant, made by the Act of 1862; the disposition of the Agricultural Land Scrip received by her under said Act, and the organization of her College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts.

Your second question is as follows:

"If so, is any distinction of race or color in the admission of students thereto, recognized or made in the State law, or in the regulations and practice of the institution?"

And your third question, which may be conveniently answered in connection with your second, is as follows:

"Or is there such a college for the education of white students, and also a similar college for colored students, or an institution of like character, aided by the State from its own revenue for the education of colored students in Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts? Please give name, location and President or administrative officer of each of such institutions."

In reply, I append hereto, marked Exhibit B, an extract from the Constitution of this State, a copy of an Act passed by the General Assembly, approved March 3, 1874, an extract from the Report in 1887, of the Board of Visitors of the Atlanta University, extracts from my Messages to the General Assembly in July, 1887, and in November, 1888, and a copy of a joint resolution of the General Assembly passed Sept. 23d, 1887.

The State has never established a separate institution for the education of negroes. Its Constitution (see Exhibit B,) authorizes the General Assembly to make from time to time such appropriations of money as the condition of the Treasury will authorize to any college or university (not exceeding one in number) now established, or hereafter to be established, in this State for the education of persons of color. Soon after the receipt of the proceeds of the Agricultural Land Scrip, donated to Georgia under the Act of July 2, 1862, the General Assembly by Act, approved March 3, 1874, (see Exhibit B,) appropriated to the Atlanta University the sum of $8,000 annually, upon conditions and provisos stated in said Act. The Atlanta University is an institution incorporated for the education of colored people, and the annual appropriation to it of $8,000, was made as an equitable adjustment of the claims of the colored race for a portion of the proceeds of the Agricultural Land Scrip. The Atlanta University drew that sum annually until the passage of the Resolution of September 23, 1887, (see Exhibit B). That Resolution was adopted, because it was discovered that the Atlanta University matriculated white as well as colored students, and its authorities asserted that they would continue to do so, in violation of the settled policy of this State against the co-education of the races (see Exhibit B). Since then, no money has been drawn from the State Treasury for the education of colored pupils in Georgia, in the studies prescribed by the Act of Congress of 1862 because the institution for the education of colored people to which Georgia had appropriated $8,000 annually to aid it in the education of that class of her population, refused to exclude white pupils therefrom. This $8,000 has been covered into the Treasury for three years—the attention of the Legislature has been called to it in my Messages, and I hope and believe that the next Legislature will make some provision (see extracts from my messages in Exhibit B,) for the active employment of this accumulating fund for the education of the youth of our colored people.

Your fourth question is
Has your Legislature set in regular session since August 30, 1890, or when will it so meet?

The answer is: The Legislature has not met since August 30, 1890. Its next meeting will be on the first Wednesday in November, 1890. It will probably sit through November and December, employed upon certain pressing legislation, such as the tax and appropriation laws, and then take a recess until July, 1891. This is the usual course-pursued.

Your fifth question is:
If it has not so met, do you, as authorized by the Act referred to, assent in behalf of your State to "the purpose of said grants," as provided in section 2d of the Act?

Answer. I do, and hereto append (marked Exhibit C) my assent required by said Act, duly certified to the Secretary of the Treasury.

To the sixth question I answer. Robert W. Hardeman, State Treasurer, Atlanta, Ga., is the person, to whom payments should be made. I respectfully request that you forward to this official the amounts due under said Act of August 30, 1890. I shall be glad if you will send the whole of the appropriation for this State. The share which belongs to the colored people of the State shall be kept separate and distinct from all other moneys in the Treasury until the "Legislature of the State may propose and report to you a just and equitable division of the fund" between the whites and the colored. I propose in my message to the next General Assembly to recommend as such "just and equitable division," the appropriation of two-thirds of the fund to the State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, at Athens, and one-third for an institution for colored students, said institution for colored students, in addition to this one-third, to receive the fund heretofore appropriated to the Atlanta University and never drawn from the Treasury. Rev. Wm. E. Boggs, D. D., LL. D., is Chancellor of the University of Georgia, of which the State College, at Athens, of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts is a part.

H. C. White, B. L. C. and Ph. D., Athens, Ga., is President of said College.

Rev. Horace Bumstead, D. D., LL. D., Atlanta, Ga., is President of the Atlanta University.

I have the honor to be very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

J. B. Gordon,
Governor.

proved July 2d, 1862, and an Act extending the time within which the States and Territories may accept the grant of lands made by the aforesaid Act, approved April 14th, 1864, upon the terms and conditions prescribed therein.

Approved March 10th, 1866.

An Act to provide a College for the benefit of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts in the State of Georgia, under Acts of Congress approved respectively 2d July, 1862, and 14th April, 1864.

Section I. Be it enacted, etc., That his Excellency, the Governor of this State, be, and he is hereby authorized and requested, in such a manner as he may deem best, to apply for, receive and sell the lands and land scrip to which the State of Georgia is entitled under an Act of Congress, entitled “An Act donating public lands to the several States and Territories which may provide Colleges for the benefit of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts,” approved July 2d, 1862, by virtue of an acceptance thereof, as signified by an Act of this State, approved March 10th, 1866; to invest in like manner, as he may deem best, the proceeds of said sale or sales, in the bonds of payable on the warrant of his Excellency, the Governor; and that this Act be in force from and immediately after its passage.

Approved December 12th, 1866.

Whereas, By a resolution of the General Assembly, approved July 25th, 1872, the Governor was authorized to receive from the purchaser of the agricultural land scrip, donated to the State of Georgia under an Act of Congress, the amount due for the purchase of the same at a discount of seven per cent. per annum, and to surrender the said scrip, or any part thereof, that may be paid for; and, and, whereas, the purchase money of said scrip has been received and paid into the State Treasury, and now constitutes a part of the general fund of the State; and, whereas, said fund arising from the sale of said agricultural land scrip is a special fund, donated for special purposes, and should not be placed with the general fund of the State or constitute a part thereof.

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives. That the money arising from the sale of the agricultural land scrip, donated to the State of Georgia by Congress, does not constitute a part of the general fund of the State, and is a fund subject to be invested and disbursed, as provided in an Act of the General Assembly, approved December 12th, 1866, entitled "An Act to provide a College for the benefit of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts in the State of Georgia."

Be it enacted, etc., That the sum of eight thousand dollars be, and the same is hereby, annually appropriated to the Atlanta University, upon condition that said institution shall admit, for instruction in the same, as many colored pupils, from each county in the State, free of charge for tuition, as there are, or may be, members of the House of Representatives of this State from such county, to be nominated by said members respectively, so long as said appropriation continues: Provided, the Governor shall not draw his warrant for the said sum until the Trustees of said institution shall have submitted a plan, for the expenditure of said sum, to a Board of Commissioners, consisting of the Chancellor of the State University, and two members of the Faculty of the same, to be selected by him, and until such plan, upon such modification as may be required of them, each year in writing, and filed in the Executive office, and said Commissioners shall, at all times, have authority to exercise all power necessary to see that said fund is faithfully applied according to said plan of expenditure.

Resolved further, That said Commissioners be instructed to see that said fund is faithfully applied according to said plan of expenditure and in no other way.

(Extracts from Message of July 7, 1887.)

THE ATLANTA UNIVERSITY.

In transmitting the reports made by the Board of Visitors appointed to attend the examinations of the University of Georgia, and of the Atlanta University, your attention is respectfully asked to the following extract from the report in reference to the Atlanta University:

"We feel it to be our duty to call the attention of your Excellency to a fact in connection with the Atlanta University which was a surprise to us, and which we feel sure is not in accord either with the policy and provisions of the Legislature of the State, or with the theory of our institutions.

We find in attendance at the Atlanta University, a number of white students of various ages and both sexes, most of them having more or less connection with the members of the faculty, or other officers; and one, at least, entirely unconnected with the officers. We mention these relations of the white students, not with the intention of suggesting that there is any real difference between allowing the attendances of the children of the faculty, and children of those other than the faculty, but in order that all the facts may be known. We have ascertained by conference with the members of the faculty of this institution, that it is their avowed intention to receive all white children who apply for admission into the school; and we interpret this, in connection with certain publications of theirs, as a desire to break down the existing barriers against the co-education of the two races. We desire to say that we regard this practice as not only intrinsically wrong, but as being in this case an improper use of the money appropriated by the State to this institution. In every enactment which the Legislature has made upon this subject since, and including the year 1874, as well as in the constitutional delegation of authority to make it, the appropriation has been made for the benefit of the colored race alone. Indeed, the Act of 1874, in terms, devotes the sum of $8,000 per annum solely to that people, and the Act is in the nature of a contract by which they receive the sum in lieu of other moneys. It occurs to us that the admission of white children to a participation in the benefits of this appropriation, aside from the violation of the general policy of the State, is in this case a misuse of public money."

From this extract from the Board's report, it appears not only that white children are received as pupils at the Atlanta University, but the authorities of that institution avow their determination to matriculate all white children who may apply for admission.

The sum of $8,000, annually appropriated under the Act of March 3d, 1874, to the Atlanta University, is one-half of the interest on $243,000, which was the sum realized by the State from the Agricultural Land Scrip, under the Act of Congress of July 2, 1862, and the amending Act of April 14, 1864: "donating public lands to the several States and Territories, which may provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts." This amount was at first an item in the general appropriation bill, but afterwards the Act of March 3, 1874, was passed, annually appropriating such sum to the Atlanta University.

There is an obligation on the part of the State to give to its colored population this sum of money each year; but, if no such legal obligation existed, the State, guided by an enlightened public policy, would continue such appropriation to colored institutions of learning.

The Constitution of the State, however, in providing for the establishment of a system of common schools, expressly provides that they shall be free to all children of the State, but that separate schools shall be provided for the white and colored races. The General Assembly of the State, in all its legislation upon the subject of education, has been careful to observe this provision of the State Constitution.

In fact, the people of Georgia, in every form in which public opinion can be expressed, have declared their unalterable opposition to the co-education of the races, and it must be considered as a part of the settled policy of the State in reference to the colored race. The co-education of the race is opposed in the interest of the colored as well as the white race. It tends to the deplorable result of amalgamation, so destructive to both races. All races which have achieved anything in this world have been homogeneous. I am in favor of the highest education of the colored people of this State of which they are capable; but my first advice to them for the elevation of their race would be to keep it separate and distinct.

Georgia's policy upon this subject is plainly expressed in her laws and Constitution, and based upon the conviction that the interests of both races demand that the children of the two should be educated apart, and she cannot abandon that policy or permit any one to ignore it, upon any false principles of sociology or political economy. Eight thousand dollars must continue to be devoted to the education of the colored race; but it is for the General Assembly to determine how that sum shall be appropriated. The colored race in Georgia is making most commendable progress in education, and the State government will render every aid in its power to its colored citizens.

The sole question to be settled is this: "How can this annual appropriation of $8,000 be used so as to secure to the colored race the largest benefit?"
The Board of Visitors of the State University for 1887, in their report filed in the executive office, stated that they had "found in attendance at the Atlanta University, a number of white students of various ages and both sexes," and that they had ascertained, by conference with the members of the faculty of that institution, that it was their avowed intention to receive all white children who applied for admission into the school. The Board, coupling this avowal with the fact stated and with the character of certain publications emanating from members of the faculty of the Atlanta University, construed it to mean a determination upon the part of the authorities of that institution to break down the existing barriers against the co-education of the races, and animadverted upon it, as wrong in itself, and as involving in its execution an improper use of the fund appropriated by the State.

In transmitting this report of the Board of Visitors to the General Assembly, with the special message which I had the honor to address to that body on the 7th day of July, 1887, I called special attention to these portions of said report, and condemned in most emphatic terms the co-education of the races, practiced in the Atlanta University, as a plain violation of the Constitution of this State, and a disregard of its settled policy, which could not be tolerated or ignored. This subject attracted some attention in the last Legislature, and before its adjournment the following joint resolution was adopted:

(Resolutions of September 23d, 1887, elsewhere in this Exhibit.)

Under date of December 6th, 1887, the Commissioners, designated in the first Section of the Act of 1874, and referred to in the foregoing resolution, consisting of Chancellor Mell, and Professors Carbonnier and Rutherford, filed a report in the executive office, in which they stated: "We have the honor to inform your Excellency that we have this day returned to the Trustees of the Atlanta University the plan for expending the $8,000 conditionally appropriated by the State, unapproved because they have failed to comply with the Resolution of the General Assembly.

Approved September 23, 1887.

No application has been made for the appropriation for 1887, by the Trustees of the Atlanta University; but if it had been, under this report of the Commissioners, by the Act of 1874, and the Resolution of 1887, the Governor was forbidden to draw his warrant in their favor for the amount. It therefore remained in the Treasury, and, as already stated, was reverted on the 1st day of July, 1888.

The question remains, What shall be done with this sum of money? And in addition to this question arises, How shall the appropriation of $8,000, provided by the Act of 1874, be made in future so as to do the greatest good to the greatest number of the colored people of Georgia?

The Atlanta University is not in any sense the representative of the colored people of this State; nor is it so regarded by them. Even if it was, no appropriation can be made to it from the Treasury for educational purposes without a violation of the Constitution and laws of Georgia. Nor can the Legislature decline to vote an appropriation annually to aid in the education of the colored people of the State, without a violation of the quasi contract between them and the State, evidenced by the Act of 1874. It is right, and it is expedient, that the State should observe the utmost good faith in its dealings with this class of her people. Under the Act of 1874, which, if it is interpreted by its caption, was intended as an equitable adjustment of the claims of the colored race for a portion of the proceeds of the Agricultural Land Scrip, good faith requires that such annual appropriation should be made. At the same time, it should be made with such safeguards of State supervision that it never could be used to thwart the settled policy of the State upon the subject of the co-education of the races. This, in my opinion, is the most important and far-reaching question connected with Southern civilization. There are several institutions in Georgia for the education of the colored race, patronized and controlled entirely by them. The appropriation might be made for one year to one of these institutions, so that, without violating the provision of Paragraph 1, Section 6, Article 8, of the Constitution of the State, all of them in succession would enjoy the benefits of the bounty of the State. Or it might be made, as heretofore suggested, for the establishment and maintenance of a Normal School for the education of colored teachers for the colored race.

I recommend that an annual appropriation of $8,000 be made for the education of the colored race, and that the appropriation for 1889 be $16,000, so as to embrace, with the usual sum for that year, the eight thousand dollars for 1888, which they have never received.

EXHIBIT C.

The Legislature of the State of Georgia, not being now in session, I, John B. Gordon, Governor of said State, under and by virtue of the authority granted me by the Act of Congress, approved August 30, 1890, entitled, "An Act to apply a portion of the proceeds of the Public Lands to the more complete endowment and support of the Colleges for the benefit of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, established under the provisions of an Act of Congress, approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two," do hereby assent for and in behalf of the State of Georgia to the provisions of said Act of August 30, 1890, and to the purpose of the grants therein made.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the Capitol in the city of Atlanta, this October 11th, A. D., 1890, and of the independence of the United States of America, one hundred and fourteen (114).

PHILIP COOK, Secretary of State.

GREAT SEAL.

APPENDIX No. 3.

[Public—No. 249.]

An Act to apply a portion of the proceeds of the public lands to the more complete endowment and support of the colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts established under the provisions of an Act of Congress approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That there shall be, and hereby is, annually appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, arising from the sales of public lands, to be paid as hereinafter provided, to each State and Territory for the more complete endowment and maintenance of colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts now established, or which may be hereafter established, in accordance with an Act of Congress approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars for the year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety, and an annual increase of the amount of such appropriation thereafter for ten years by an additional sum of one thousand dollars over the preceding year, and the annual amount to be paid thereafter to each State and Territory shall be twenty-five thousand dollars to be applied only to instruction in agriculture, the mechanic arts, the English language and the various branches of mathematical, physical, natural and economic science, with special reference to their applications in the industries of life, and to the facilities for such instruction: Provided, That no money shall be paid out under this Act to any State or Territory for the support and maintenance of a college where a distinction of race or color is made in the admission of students, but the establishment and maintenance of such colleges separately for white and colored students shall be held to be a compliance with the provisions of this Act if the funds received in such State or Territory be equitably divided as hereinafter set forth: Provided, That in any State in which there has been one college established in pursuance of the Act of July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and also in which an educational institution of like character has been established, or may be hereafter established, and is now aided by such State from its own revenue, for the education of colored students in agriculture and the mechanic arts, however named or styled, or whether or not it has received money heretofore under the Act to which this Act is an amendment, the Legislature of such State may propose and report to the Secretary of the Interior a just and equitable division of the fund to be received under this Act between one college for white students and one institution for colored students established as aforesaid, which shall be divided into two parts and paid accordingly, and thereupon such institution for colored students shall be entitled to the benefits of this act and subject to its provisions, as much as it would have been if it had been included under the Act of eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and the fulfillment of the foregoing provisions shall be taken as a compliance with the provision in reference to separate colleges for white and colored students.

SEC. 2. That the sums hereby appropriated to the States and Territories for the further endowment and support of colleges shall be annually paid on or before the thirty-first day of July of each year, by the Secretary of the Treasury, upon the warrant of the Secretary of the Interior, out of the Treasury of the United States, to the State or Territorial Treasurer, or to such officer as shall be designated by the laws of such State or Territory to receive the same, who shall, upon the order of the trustees of the college, or the institution for colored students, immediately pay over said sums to the Treasurers of the respective colleges or other institutions entitled to receive the same, and such Treasurers shall be required to report to the Secretary of Agriculture and to the Secretary of the Interior, on or before the first day of September of each year, a detailed statement of the amount so received and of its disbursement. The grants of moneys authorized by this Act are made subject to the legislative assent of the several States and Territories to the purpose of said grants: Provided, That payments of such instalments of the appropriation herein made as shall become due to any State before the adjournment of the regular session of legislature meeting next after the passage of this Act shall be made upon the assent of the governor thereof, duly certified to the Secretary of the Treasury.

SEC. 3. That if any portion of the moneys received by the designated officer of the State or Territory for the further and more complete endowment, support and maintenance of colleges, or of institutions for colored students, as provided in this Act, shall, by any action or contingency, be diminished or lost, or be misapplied, it shall be replaced by the State or Territory to which it belongs, and until so replaced no subsequent appropriation shall be apportioned or paid to such State or Territory; and no portion of said moneys shall be applied, directly or indirectly, under any pretense whatever, to the purchase, erection, preservation, or repair of any building or buildings. An annual report by the president of each of said colleges shall be made to the Secretary of Agriculture, as well as to the Secretary of the Interior, regarding the condition and progress of each college, including statistical information in relation to its receipts and expenditures, its library, the number of its students and professors, and also as to any improvements and experiments made under the direction of any experiment stations attached to said colleges, with their costs and results, and such other industrial and economical statistics as may be regarded as useful, one copy of which shall be transmitted by mail free to all other colleges further endowed under this Act.

Sec. 4. That on or before the first day of July in each year, after the passage of this Act, the Secretary of the Interior shall ascertain and certify to the Secretary of the Treasury as to each State and Territory whether it is entitled to receive its share of the annual appropriation for colleges, or of institutions for colored students, under this Act and the amount which thereupon each is entitled, respectively, to receive. If the Secretary of the Interior shall withhold a certificate from any State or Territory of its appropriation the facts and reasons therefor shall be reported to the President, and the amount involved shall be kept separate in the Treasury until the close of the next Congress, in order that the State or Territory may, if it should so desire, appeal to Congress from the determination of the Secretary of the Interior. If the next Congress shall not direct such sum to be paid it shall be covered into the Treasury. And the Secretary of the Interior is hereby charged with the proper administration of this law.

Sec. 5. That the Secretary of the Interior shall annually report to Congress the disbursements which have been made in all the States and Territories, and also whether the appropriation of any State or Territory has been withheld, and if so, the reasons therefor.

Sec. 6. Congress may at any time amend, suspend, or repeal any or all of the provisions of this Act.

Approved August 30, 1890.
APPENDIX No. 4.

[Public—No. 534.]

An Act to establish a national military park at the battle-field of Chickamauga.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That for the purpose of preserving and suitably marking for historical and professional military study the fields of some of the most remarkable maneuvers and most brilliant fighting in the war of the rebellion, and upon the ceding of jurisdiction to the United States by the States of Tennessee and Georgia, respectively, and the report of the Attorney-General of the United States that the title to the lands thus ceded is perfect, the following described highways in those States hereby declared to be approaches to and parts of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military Park as established by the second section of this Act, to wit.: First—The Missionary Ridge Crest road from Sherman Heights at the north end of Missionary Ridge, in Tennessee, where the said road enters upon the ground occupied by the Army of Tennessee under Major-General William T. Sherman, in the military operations of November twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and sixty-three; thence along said road through the positions occupied by the army of General Braxton Bragg on November twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, and which were assaulted by the Army of the Cumberland under Major-General George H. Thomas on that date, to where the said road crosses the Southern boundary of the State of Tennessee, near Rossville Gap, Georgia, upon the ground occupied by the troops of Major-General Joseph Hooker, from the Army of the Potomac, and thence in the State of Georgia to the junction of said road with the Chattanooga and Lafayette or State road at Rossville Gap; second, the Lafayette or State road from Rossville, Georgia, to Lee and Gordon's Mills, Georgia; third, the road from Lee and Gordon's Mills, Georgia, to Crawfish Springs, Georgia; fourth, the road from Crawfish Springs, Georgia, to the crossing of the Chickamauga at Glass Mills, Georgia; fifth, the Dry Valley road from Rossville, Georgia, to the southern limits of McFarland's Gap in Missionary Ridge; sixth, the Dry Valley and Crawfish Springs road from McFarland's Gap to the intersection of the road from Crawfish Springs to Lee and Gordon's Mills; seventh, the road from Ringgold, Georgia, to Reed's Bridge on the Chickamauga River; eighth, the roads from the crossing of Lookout creek across the northern slope of Lookout Mountain and thence to the old Summer-town road and to the valley on the east slope of the said mountain and thence by the route of General Joseph Hooker's troops to Ros-ville, Georgia, and each and all of these herein described roads shall, after the passage of this Act, remain open as free public highways, and all rights of way now existing through the grounds of the said park and its approaches shall be continued.

SEC. 2. That upon the ceding of jurisdiction by the Legislature of the State of Georgia, and the report of the Attorney-General of the United States that a perfect title has been secured under the provisions of the Act approved August first, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, entitled "An Act to authorize condemnation of land for sites of public buildings, and for other purposes," the lands and roads embraced in the area bounded as herein described, together with the roads described in section one of this Act, are hereby declared to be a national park, to be known as the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park; that is to say, the area inclosed by a line beginning on the Lafayette or State road, in Georgia, at a point where the bottom of the ravine next north of the house known on the field of Chickamauga as the Cloud House, and being about six hundred yards north of said house due east of the Chickamauga River and due west to the intersection of the Dry Valley road at McFarland's Gap; thence along the west side of the Dry Valley and Crawfish Springs roads to the south side of the road from Crawfish Springs to Lee and Gordon's Mills; thence along the south side of the last named road to Lee and Gordon's Mills; thence along the channel of the Chickamauga River to the line forming the northern boundary of the park, as hereinbefore described, containing seven thousand six hundred acres, more or less.

SEC. 3. That the said Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park, and the approaches thereto, shall be under the control of the Secretary of War, and it shall be his duty, immediately after the passage of this Act, to notify the Attorney-General of the purpose of the United States to acquire title to the roads and lands described in the previous sections of this Act under the provisions of the Act of August first, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight; and the said Secretary, upon receiving notice from the Attorney-General of the United States that perfect titles have been secured to the said lands and roads, shall at once proceed to establish and substantially mark the boundaries of the said park.

SEC. 4. That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to enter into agreements, upon such nominal terms as he may prescribe, with such present owners of the land as may desire to remain upon it, to occupy and cultivate their present holdings, upon condition that they will preserve the present buildings and roads, and the present outlines of field and forest, and that they will only cut trees or underbrush under such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe, and that they will assist in caring for and protecting all tablets, monuments, or other such artificial works as may from time to time be erected by proper authority.
SEC. 5. That the affairs of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park shall, subject to the supervision and direction of the Secretary of War, be in charge of three Commissioners, each of whom shall have actively participated in the battle of Chickamauga or one of the battles about Chattanooga, two to be appointed from civil life by the Secretary of War, and a third, who shall be detailed by the Secretary of War from among those officers of the Army best acquainted with the details of the battles of Chickamauga and Chattanooga, who shall act as Secretary of the Commission. The said Commissioners and Secretary shall have an office in the War Department building, and while on actual duty shall be paid such compensation, out of the appropriation provided in this Act, as the Secretary of War shall deem reasonable and just.

SEC. 6. That it shall be the duty of the Commissioners named in the preceding section, under the direction of the Secretary of War, to superintend the opening of such roads as may be necessary to the purposes of the park, and the repair of the roads of the same, and to ascertain and definitely mark the lines of battle of all troops engaged in the battles of Chickamauga and Chattanooga, so far as the same shall fall within the lines of the park as defined in the previous sections of this Act, and, for the purpose of assisting them in their duties and in ascertaining these lines, the Secretary of War shall have authority to employ, at such compensation as he may deem reasonable and just, to be paid out of the appropriation made by this Act, some person recognized as well informed in regard to the details of the battles of Chickamauga and Chattanooga, and who shall have actively participated in one of those battles, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of War from and after the passage of this Act, through the Commissioners, and their assistant in historical work, and under the Act approved August first, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, regulating the condemnation of land for public uses, to proceed with the preliminary work of establishing the park and its approaches as the same are defined in this Act, and the expenses thus incurred shall be paid out of the appropriation provided by this Act.

SEC. 7. That it shall be the duty of the Commissioners, acting under the direction of the Secretary of War, to ascertain and substantially mark the locations of the regular troops, both infantry and artillery, within the boundaries of the park, and to erect monuments upon those positions as Congress may provide the necessary appropriations; and the Secretary of War in the same way may ascertain and mark all lines of battle within the boundaries of the park and erect plain and substantial historical tablets at such points in the vicinity of the Park and its approaches as he may deem fitting and necessary to clearly designate positions and movements, which, although without the limits of the Park, were directly connected with the battles of Chickamauga and Chattanooga.

Sec. 8. That it shall be lawful for the authorities of any State having troops engaged either at Chattanooga or Chickamauga, and for the officers and directors of the Chickamauga Memorial Association, a corporation chartered under the laws of Georgia, to enter upon the lands and approaches of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park for the purpose of ascertaining and marking the lines of battle of troops engaged therein: Provided, That before any such lines are permanently designated the position of the lines and the proposed methods of marking them by monuments, tablets or otherwise shall be submitted to the Secretary of War, and shall first receive the written approval of the Secretary, which approval shall be based upon formal written reports, which must be made to him in each case by the Commissioners of the park.

Sec. 9. That the Secretary of War, subject to the approval of the President of the United States, shall have the power to make, and shall make, all needed regulations for the care of the park and for the establishment and marking of the lines of battle and other historical features of the park.

Sec. 10. That if any person shall wilfully destroy, mutilate, deface, injure, or remove any monument, column, statues, memorial structure, or work of art that shall be erected or placed upon the grounds of the park by lawful authority, or shall wilfully destroy or remove any fence, railing, inclosure or other work for the protection or ornament of said park, or any portion thereof, or shall wilfully destroy, cut, hack, bark, break down, or otherwise injure any tree, bush, or shrubbery that may be growing upon said park, or shall cut down or fell or remove any timber, battle relic, tree or trees growing or being upon such park, except by permission of the Secretary, of War, or shall wilfully remove or destroy any breast-works, earth-works walls or other defenses or shelter, on any part thereof, constructed by the armies formerly engaged in the battles on the lands or approaches to the park, any person so offending and found guilty thereof, before any justice of the peace of the county in which the offense may be committed shall for each and every such offense forfeit and pay a fine, in the discretion of the justice, according to the aggravation of the offense, of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars, one-half to the use of the park and the other half to the informer, to be enforced and recovered, before such justice, in like manner as debts of like nature are now by law recoverable in the several counties where the offense may be committed.

Sec. 11. That to enable the Secretary of War to begin to carry out the purposes of this Act, including the condemnation and purchase of the necessary land, marking the boundaries of the park, opening or repairing necessary roads, maps and surveys, and the pay and expenses of the Commissioners and their assistant, the sum of one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars, or such portion thereof may be necessary, is hereby appropriated, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and disbursements under this Act shall require the approval of the the Secretary of War, and he shall make annual report of the same to Congress.

Mr Speaker:

The Governor instructs me to deliver to the House of Representatives a communication in writing.
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
ATLANTA, GEORGIA, NOVEMBER 19TH, 1890.

To the General Assembly:

Owing to many extraordinary demands upon the Contingent Fund of this year, the entire appropriation has been drawn from the Treasury by my predecessor, and I am informed that for two months there has been a deficiency. In consequence of this, many bills which can only be paid from the Contingent Fund remain unsettled. The increased demands of the several departments, and the natural growth of the official business connected therewith, require more money than formerly. This fund is drawn upon to pay all the contingent expenses of the Treasury department, Comptroller-General’s office, State Library, Secretary of State, and Executive department, as well as all advertisements by the departments, rewards, express and telegraphic accounts, stationery, fees in special cases, etc.

This want of money to pay for postage and other expenses is an embarrassment to the Executive, and I therefore request that an immediate appropriation be made, supplementing the Contingent Fund for this year.

W. J. Northen.

Mr. Speaker:

I have been directed by His Excellency, the Governor, to deliver to the House of Representatives a communication in writing.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ATLANTA, GA., NOVEMBER 26, 1890.

To the General Assembly:

It becomes my painful duty to announce to you the death of Hon. James M. Smith, which occurred at his home in Columbus, Ga., on the 25th instant.

In January, 1872, this distinguished Georgian was inaugurated Governor of the State for the unexpired term of Rufus B. Bullock, resigned. His administration of that office was so satisfactory to the people that at the end of that term he was chosen, almost unanimously, for the full term of four years. A fearless nature and a strong intellect well fitted Governor Smith to grapple with the numerous and difficult questions which, upon the recovery of the State government by the Democratic party, were presented for executive action.
Upon the organization of the Railroad Commission, Governor Smith was appointed thereon, and acted as Chairman thereof for the term of six years. How ably and well he discharged the duties of that office it is unnecessary for me to declare.

For the past several years he has presided on the bench of the Superior Court of the Chattahoochee Circuit with marked ability, and to the satisfaction of the bar and people.

His death has created a vacancy in said last mentioned office, which it devolves upon the General Assembly to fill.

W J Northen.

Mr. Hill, of Cherokee, of the Committee on Journals, reported that the Journal had been examined and approved.

Pending the reading of the Journal, Mr. Fleming, of Richmond, gave notice that at the proper time he would move to reconsider so much of the Journal of yesterday's proceedings as relates to the passage of the bill providing for the analysis and inspection of cotton seed meal, and for other purposes.

The Journal was then read and confirmed.

Having received the requisite constitutional majority, the bill passed, as amended.

An invitation from Hon. W L. Calhoun, President of Board of Trustees of the Confederate Soldiers’ Home, to the officers and members of the General Assembly, to visit the Soldiers’ Home on Wednesday afternoon next, was received.

Which invitation, upon motion, was accepted.

Mr. Speaker:

The Committee on Privileges and Elections have had under consideration the contested election case from the county of Liberty, in which William J. James contests the seat of Newton J. Norman in this body as Representative from that county.

This contest, as made by the contestant, related solely to Midway precinct, in the 1359th district of Liberty county, and was based upon the ground that the Superintendents consolidating the vote for the county refused to count the vote of that precinct.

The election was held October 1, 1890, and the official returns of the county show that Newton J. Norman, sitting member, received eighty-two (82) votes majority in the county.

Upon the hearing of the contest, one of the essential issues was whether James Miller, one of the managers at said Midway precinct, was a freeholder.

Under Section 1288, paragraph 9, Code 1882, the Superintendents consolidating the vote were officers of the law. The presumption is they did right. It was for the contestant to show to the contrary. To do this the contestant offered the following testimony:

"Were you a freeholder 1st day of October, 1890? I was." Contestee objected to the above question and answer when offered, upon the ground that a freeholder is one who owns land or some interest in land, which should be shown by some written deed or instrument conveying the title, or some interest in said land, which written evidence is the best evidence and should be produced.

The above testimony was introduced on November 1, 1890, when James Miller was on the stand before the officer presiding to take testimony. Later on, November 3, 1890, a copy deed, dated 23d February, 1882, from "Rebecca L. Mallard" to the "estate of James Miller," was offered in evidence. This deed was accompanied with the following ex parte affidavit:

GEORGIA, LIBERTY COUNTY

Personally appears James Miller to me well known as such, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is an heir of the estate of James Miller, the grantee mentioned in the above deed, and that he has never conveyed his interest therein, and that he is now one of the owners in common of said land. Sworn to and subscribed before me, this November 3d, 1890.

(Signed) James Miller.

In presence of (Seal) Geo. Mills,
C. S. C. L. C.

The above deed and affidavit were objected to by contestee’s counsel, when offered, on the following grounds:

1. Because the original deed was not accounted for and the copy was not admissible until that was done.

2. Because the affidavit was ex parte and not the proper way to prove the matter set forth therein; and also because the said James Miller was accessible as a witness in this case and had already been sworn therein, and because the affidavit as appears is not signed by James Miller.

There being no evidence except the above to show that James Miller was a freeholder, and the same not being admissible for that purpose, and there being no claim in the contest that he was a freeholder by any other name, it does not appear from the evidence that James Miller was qualified to hold the election at Midway precinct. That being true, no election was held at Midway precinct, and the Superintendents consolidating the vote could not count the same. Code 1882, §§1282, 1287 and 1334; Walker et al. vs. Sandford, Ordinary, and vice versa, 78 Ga., 165.

It appears further from the returns at said Midway precinct that only one of the two returns required by law was signed at all, and that by only one of the precinct or election managers. The other return was not signed by either precinct or election manager, nor filled out. Nor were either of the tally-sheets signed by either of the precinct or election managers.

On the part of the contestee, or sitting member, it was claimed that at the Riceboro precinct the ballot-box was left for a considerable time during the day of election in the hands of a third person, and no manager present. This claim by contestee is found true, as appears from the evidence.

Your committee is, therefore, of the opinion that said Newton J. Norman should retain his seat in this body as Representative from Liberty county, and so recommend to the House.

Respectfully submitted.

EDMUND W MARTIN, Chairman.

Upon motion of Mr. Baxter, of Bibb, the report of the Committee on Privileges and Elections was taken up for consideration.

Mr. Baxter moved the adoption of the report.

Mr. Crawford, of McIntosh, moved to amend the report by substituting the name of James, in lieu of Norman, which amendment was lost.

Upon agreeing to the report of the committee, Mr. Crawford called for the ayes and nays, which call was not sustained.

The report of the committee was then agreed to.

The second special order of the day was taken up, to-wit: House bill No. 39, to-wit:

A bill to amend article 3, section 9, paragraph 7, of the Constitution of 1877, by paying the members of the General Assembly a salary, instead of a per diem, etc.

The bill was read the third time.

Mr. Hill, of Meriwether, moved to disagree to the report of the committee, which was unfavorable to the passage of the bill, and upon this question called for the ayes and nays, which call was sustained.
Upon the call of the roll of the House the vote was as follows.

The above facilities having been supplied, we recommend that the remainder, if any, of the above $6,000, be applied to such needed repairs, as the discretion and sound judgment of the Trustees may dictate.

We find that the Trustees have been careful in their examination of the books and therefore did not enter into details. A partial examination, however, warrants an approval of the system of book-keeping and reflects credit upon all concerned.

The inmates are well cared for and appear contented.

The Committee on the Lunatic Asylum submitted the following report, and three hundred copies were ordered printed for the use of the House.

Mr. Speaker:

The Committee on Lunatic Asylum begs leave to make the following joint report:
The short space of time allowed your committee from the duties of general legislation does not admit of an investigation sufficiently thorough to make an accurate report in detail as to the management or the necessities of this great charitable Institution.

We desire to call the attention of the proper authorities to the condition of the Main Building, which demands some repairs, of flooring, gutters, pipes and painting; other buildings apparently in fair condition. It is suggested that the building known as the Hospital be fitted up and used for such patients as may be prudently lodged together, so as to afford additional room for applicants now awaiting admission. We heartily approve the effort now being made to improve the grounds with such means as may be spared from the general appropriation.

KITCHEN AND LAUNDRY DEPARTMENT.

The subsistence supply seems to be both ample and wholesome; in the center kitchen four of the boilers and a range are so much worn and out of repair that they should be replaced with new ones.

The Engineering Department demands more important additions. Two boilers for water and steam pipes, that are in a leaky condition, should be removed and new pipes put in their places; cement flooring in kitchen is badly worn and needs repair. The water supply is scarcely adequate for the demands, but the supply may be increased by the use of a pump at the Artesian well. We do not think an extra appropriation is demanded for that purpose.

Store-room is not yet completed, but is well under way, and we think that it should be finished with the sum heretofore appropriated, or if that is exhausted, then whatever contingent or surplus in any other sum or sums may be used for that purpose.

We find the books admirably kept in points of easy reference and perfect accuracy, and the system should be most heartily commended.
The warrants for such expenditure are drawn by the Steward, then approved by the Superintendent, and finally paid by the Treasurer by check on the Milledgeville Banking Company, which has been by legislative enactment made a State depository for public funds, and has also been made so for the Asylum by the present Board of Trustees. Each warrant must show on what particular fund it is drawn, as for instance: For clothing, drugs, laundry, salaries; or any special appropriation, as for warehouse, flooring, or boilers; so that the committee readily found the disbursements for each month and for every item. The books and vouchers were present before us, and were thoroughly examined, with the highly gratifying result of finding every dollar accounted for and sustained by proper proofs.

The committee also find that the Cashier of the Banking Company is required to submit monthly a sworn statement of what has been drawn out by the Treasurer, and what cash is still on deposit with the Bank. This, also, is to be commended. It is a check on the Treasurer, and any proper officer of the Asylum, or Trustees, can at any time know what is the condition of the Treasury.

It would seem that no money of the State can possibly be wasted, and most certainly no money can be embezzled or misappropriated without certain and swift detection and exposure.

In conclusion, the committee beg to congratulate the Joint Committee, and more especially the State, upon the splendid conduct of this department of the Asylum.

MATRON'S DEPARTMENT

Is under the care of Mrs. J. M. Darnell, whose intelligent business methods deserve our most cordial approbation; her whole department is thoroughly systematized.
Bedding, clothing, rooms and halls, all manifest great care and painstaking on the part of the officials.

 Convalescent Department.

In which there are a large number of patients progressing towards ultimate restoration. Their surroundings are made as pleasant and agreeable as their mental and physical conditions will admit. Cleanliness, order and various diversions and means of amusement are at their command. The Library and periodicals of the day furnish mental employment for those who desire it. There is, however, a matter of very serious consideration to be thought of in this connection. The literature with which this class of patients should be supplied should be carefully pruned and divested of every tragic and sensational element, as well as every immoral or impure thought. The unbalanced mind is a fertile soil for the growth of the seeds of evil. The supply of periodical literature should therefore be subjected to the closest scrutiny.

 Farm, Garden and Stock.

Farm and horticultural products of the Asylum property contribute largely to the comfort of the inmates, as well as diminish the appropriations necessary to their maintenance. Milk, beef and pork, in addition to vegetables raised on the premises, cover a considerable part of the necessary demands of support.

There are now about seventy (70) head of cattle belonging to the property. This number might possibly be increased to some extent favorably to the interest of the tax-payers, as well as the comfort of our unfortunate charges. We find from the report of the Trustees, that there are now belonging to the Institution fifteen (15) mules and two (2) horses, in addition to other stock fed and cared for at public expense.

We find discharged, restored, one hundred and fifty-two (152); improved, sixteen (16); unimproved, but harmless, five (5); eloped, thirteen (13); total deaths, one hundred and fifty-seven (157).

STEWARD'S DEPARTMENT.

We have made an examination of the Steward's Books and find them neatly and correctly kept; all the vouchers properly filed, with much credit to that faithful and efficient officer.

THE APOTHECARY'S DEPARTMENT

We find in nice order, weights, measures, necessary for the business, and prescriptions orderly filed.

The various unfavorable criticisms which have been and are still freely circulated in regard to the officer in this department probably originated prior to the adoption of Rule No five (5), which occurred on June 20th, 1890, of which there is evidence as a basis for such criticisms.

In this connection we most earnestly urge a rigid adherence to the enforcement of that rule; and we desire to have the rule understood as applying to opium and its products, as well as to alcoholic stimulants.

Your committee would respectfully call attention to exhibit "F," page 60 of Report, showing amount paid employees to be forty-nine thousand nine hundred and seventy-seven dollars and sixty-nine cents ($49,977.69). We are not told how many wages hands are employed, nor is it stated the amount per month paid to any one employee. The limited time that we have had since the delivery of the report, about the 26th of November, prohibits a satisfactory investigation. We would suggest to the Trustees that the report should be indexed and placed on the desks on the first day of the session of the General Assembly; and we further respectfully recommend that one of the Trustees be elected for the purpose of examining the expenses of the Institution, noting receipts, balancing the books and furnishing a copy of the same to be filed in the Executive Department; and that he be allowed compensation therefor. We offer one further suggestion to the Trustees as to the subject of appointments: It has been frequently stated there has been a tendency to nepotism observed in the appointments; we desire that no grounds for such criticisms should exist.

Your committee most earnestly desire to promote the interests of those who are so helpless and entirely dependent upon the great public charity, and at the same time we are forced to a rigid sense of justice and humanity by daily observation of the weary toil-worn, struggling masses of the country, who are already heavily burdened with taxes, who have to deny themselves and their families everything in the way of luxuries; who are forced to observe the most pinching economy to save them and their loved ones from dire distress. We cannot, therefore, conscientiously recommend an appropriation of more than one hundred and eighty thousand dollars ($180,000) for all purpose whatsoever for the year 1891, and a like amount for the year 1892.

We desire to tender our sincere thanks to Dr. Powell, Superintendent, and to other Physicians and officials for the uniform courtesy and kindness extended to us during our recent visit to the Asylum. We desire to express to you our appreciation of the highly satisfactory manner in which you have discharged the onerous and often disagreeable duties resting upon you. And finally, we would tender our thanks to Col. Grieve for the ability with which he has discharged the trust reposed in him and his courteous attention to our body.

In addition, we would recommend that any unexpended balance, of whatever character, now on hand, be placed at the disposal of the Trustees, to be used, in their discretion, for the best interest of the Institution.

(Signed) J. E. NUNNALLY,
Chairman of Senate Committee.

Dr. I. H. HAND,
Chairman of House Committee.

Mr Speaker:

The Governor has approved the following Acts of the General Assembly, to-wit:

An Act to incorporate the Talbotton Loan and Investment Company.

Also, an Act to incorporate the People's Bank, of Talbotton, Georgia.

The Governor returns House bill No. 5, with reasons for his disapproval thereof, which are herewith transmitted:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Atlanta, Georgia, December 9, 1890.

To the House of Representatives:

I return herewith, without my approval, House bill No. 5, entitled an Act to incorporate the Southern Exchange Bank.

In my judgment, the 5th section of the bill is clearly against the settled policy of the State as to the manner of collecting taxes on money invested in banking institutions, and if this bill becomes a law, it would operate unjustly against other banking companies; and while the stockholder in this bank living in Georgia would be made to pay State and county tax upon his stock, the non-resident shareholder would be practically exempt. He would certainly be beyond the jurisdiction of this State and its tax officers.
In this proposed charter a majority of the incorporators are non-residents, and it is fair to presume they intend to become stockholders. The practical operation of the section mentioned would be to place whatever stock they, or other non-resident subscribers, might take in the company, beyond the reach of the State for purposes of taxation.

Our Constitution also declares that "laws of a general nature shall have uniform operation throughout the State," etc. We have a general law, which is repeated in every tax Act since 1876, fixing the manner in which capital invested in banking institutions shall be taxed. This bill proposes to exempt this bank from the operation of the general law and fix another and very different manner of returning and collecting taxes from its shareholders.

Our Constitution also declares that "all taxation shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects." This bill also violates this clause of our organic law.

For these reasons I withhold from the bill my approval.

W J NORTHEN.

The following communication was received from His Excellency, the Governor, through Mr. Harrison, his Secretary, to-wit:

Mr. Speaker:

I am directed by the Governor to deliver to the House of Representatives, a communication in writing, with an accompanying document.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 9, 1890.

To the General Assembly:

I have the honor to transmit herewith the report of the Military Advisory Board made to the Governor. Profoundly impressed with the importance of the subject to which it relates, I would respectfully urge upon the General Assembly the duty of making further provision in behalf of the military force of the State.

Volunteer troops are our only form of organized militia, and these are composed, mainly, of young men of limited means. These young men, to build up and perfect these organizations, willingly devote their energies and what time can be spared from their daily avocations. They furnish that protection to persons and property which is "essential to the peace and security of the State," and they only ask, in return, that the expense necessarily incurred in equipping and training them shall be borne by the public treasury.
Our law provides that the military shall be subordinate to the civil power, and shall not be called out except when the civil authority is overridden and is unable to preserve order. This law should, of course, be strictly observed, but when the proper contingency arises, and it is deemed necessary to call out the military, it is of the last importance that it should be a disciplined, well trained, effective force, and not merely a collection of armed men.

The "Encampment" is the readiest, as well as the most economical means, of securing proper training for the Volunteer Militia—of converting "raw levies" into disciplined troops—and I recommend that this school for the soldier be adopted as a public institution and that it be generously supported by the State. The money required to maintain an efficient military establishment, will, in my judgment, be wisely expended. In no other way can adequate protection to life and property be so cheaply secured. I commend the many admirable suggestions of this report to the earnest consideration of the General Assembly.

W. J. Northen.

To the Governor of Georgia:

The Advisory Board begs leave to report that it has given serious consideration to the condition of the military force of the State, and herewith submits its conclusions:

The military law of Georgia is a good one. It needs some changes, but such as will be of no avail if the suggestions of this report go unheeded by the General Assembly. The present military force in Georgia is organized under laws passed in conformity with the Constitution of 1877. The Constitution is clear, unambiguous, and mandatory in declaring this military force to be essential to the peace and security of the State, in directing the General Assembly to provide for the training, arming and equipping of the same, and to provide also for pay and rations when the force is in actual service by the authority of the State, which latter clause clearly means when the force is called out in time of war, or to suppress a riot or insurrection, or when it is ordered out by the commander-in-chief for parade or inspection, or when it is ordered by him into camps for practical instruction in everything that goes to make the soldier ready for emergencies.

It is not the province of this Board, nor should it be necessary, in its formal report to the Governor, to attempt to urge the General Assembly, representing the people of the State, to perform its duty under the Constitution in this regard, it being presumed that the people of Georgia, through their constituted agents in the General Assembly in 1889, will carry out and perfect the scheme of the Constitutional Convention of 1877 upon this subject; yet it may not be amiss to refer to the constitutional and statutory provisions of the law of Georgia bearing on this matter.

The Constitution of Georgia, in article 10th, section 1st, declares: Paragraph 1. "A well regulated militia being essential to the peace and security of the State, the General Assembly shall have authority to, provide by law, how the militia of this State shall be organized, officered, trained, armed and equipped, and of whom it shall consist." Paragraph 2. "The General Assembly shall have power to authorize the formation of volunteer companies and to provide for their organization into battalions, regiments, brigades, divisions and corps, with such restrictions as may be prescribed by law, and shall have authority to arm and equip the same." Paragraph 3. "The officers and men of the militia and volunteer forces shall not be entitled to receive any pay, rations or emoluments when not in active service, by the authority of the State."

The Constitution could not possibly have declared more expressly and more definitely that a well organized militia system, or volunteer system, as the case might be, was and is absolutely necessary to that highest object of government, "the peace and security of the State."

The whole scheme of the government of Georgia contemplates a military establishment, real, active, "semper paratus." The Constitution, in its preamble, declares: "To perpetuate the principles of free government, insure justice to all, preserve peace, promote the interests and happiness of the citizen, and transmit to posterity the enjoyment of liberty, we, the people of Georgia, relying upon the protection and guidance of Almighty God, do ordain and establish this Constitution."

In the bill of rights (article 1, section 1, paragraph 2), this emphatic declaration is made:

"Protection to person and property is the paramount duty of government, and shall be impartial and complete."

By article 5, section 1, paragraph 11, of the Constitution, the Governor is made commander-in-chief of the military force of the State.

In article 10, section 1, a well regulated militia, or volunteer force is declared to be "essential to the peace and security of the State," and power is bestowed upon the General Assembly to "arm and equip" the same.

Construing these portions of the Constitution together, then, what is the result? It is this: the Constitution was ordained and established, among other things, to preserve peace; the bill of rights demands, as the "paramount" or highest duty of government, the "complete" protection of "person and property;" the 10th article declares how "peace" shall be preserved and this "complete" protection be afforded, namely, by a well organized, armed, equipped military establishment; the executive is made commander-in-chief of this force, so that he can, with celerity and strength, perform his high functions and duties. It is his duty to attend to the execution of the laws of Georgia, and the military is his strong right arm (if maintained and supported; otherwise the sinews of the right arm are wanting).

The Code of Georgia, section 51, declares:

"It is the duty of the Governor to see that the laws are executed. For this purpose, he has power, as Commander-in-chief, to call out the military whenever, in his discretion, the due enforcement of the process of the courts is so resisted and set at defiance as to require such interposition;" and in section 52, in cases of insurrection, etc., he has power to call out the military, and, "when so called into action, he has power to make all necessary provision for their transportation, accommodation, equipment and support." There can be no other conclusion, then, than that a well-disciplined, well organized and ready military force is a necessary part of the executive branch of the government, so declared by the Supreme Law and the Statutes of Georgia. There is no room for doubt on this grave matter. The enactments are clear and imperative. The words are clear and plain, and the sense distinct and perfect, arising on them, hence there is no necessity to have recourse to other means of interpretation.

Says Judge Story, the great commentator: "Every word employed in the Constitution is to be expounded in its plain, obvious and common sense meaning, unless the context furnishes some ground to control, qualify or enlarge it. Constitutions are not designed for metaphysical or logical subtleties, for niceties of expression, for critical propriety, for elaborate shades of meaning or for the exercise of philosophical acuteness or judicial research. They are instruments of a practical nature, founded on the common business of life, adapted to common wants, designed for common use, and fitted for common understandings. The people make them; the people adopt them; the people must be supposed to read them with the aid of common sense, and cannot be presumed to admit in them any recondite meaning or any extraordinary gloss." (See Potter's Dwarris on Statutes and Constitution, ch. 19, page 653 et seq.)

The plain, common sense meaning of article 10, then, is that the people give to their servants, the General Assembly, authority to arm and equip a military establishment, because it is absolutely "essential to the peace and security of the State."

Such authority, based on the assertion of the necessity, for its exercise, is a solemn command. The obvious meaning of "to arm and equip" is not to give guns and accoutrements and then stop, but to go on and keep the military "equipped." "Equip" (Webster's dictionary) means "to furnish for service or against a need or exigency; to fit out; to supply with whatever is necessary to efficient action in any way; to provide with arms, or an armament, stores, munitions, rigging, or the like; said especially of ships or of troops."

"Equipment" (Webster's dictionary) means "anything that is used in equipping; furniture; habiliments; warlike apparatus; equipage; as, the equipment of a ship or an army." If it is essential to equip, it is equally so to continue to equip; the word has a future signification, as well as a present.

One of the cardinal rules of construction covers this: (Code, section 4, 2d item) "the present or past tense shall include the future."

The word "equip," small as it is, has a tremendous meaning; a better word could not have been selected by the framers of the Constitution. It covers the furnishing of everything necessary to support the commands.

The limitation in paragraph 3, as to pay and rations to officers and men, only when called out by the State, does not curtail the significance of this big little word "equip."

Each provision of the Constitution is mandatory.

It is the province of an instrument of this solemn and permanent character to establish these fundamental maxims and fix those unvarying rules, by which all departments of the Government must at all times shape their conduct.

* * * We are not, therefore, to expect to find in a Constitution provisions which the people, in adopting it, have not regarded as of high importance and worthy to be embraced in an instrument which, for a time at least, is to control alike the Government and the governed, and to form a standard by which is to be measured the power which can be exercised as well by the delegate as by the sovereign people themselves. * * * It is but fair to presume that the people, in their Constitution, have expressed themselves, in careful and measured terms, corresponding with the immense importance of the powers delegated, and with a view to leave as little as possible to implication." (Cooley's Constitutional Limitations, pages 94 and 95.)

We are to suppose, therefore, that the distinguished authors of the Constitution had a beneficial end in view; had a complete knowledge of the strength and extent of the words they employed, and that, when they enacted this pithy and easily understood article 10th, they meant every word of it.

We are to further suppose that the people of Georgia, when they adopted this Constitution by an overwhelming vote, meant that article 10th should be carried out as soon as possible by the General Assembly; not in its letter, but in its entire spirit; not parsimoniously, but liberally, because "essential to the peace and security of the State."

No article of the Constitution is of more importance than another; each is the equal of every other; all taken together make up the will of the people of Georgia. The General Assembly owes its existence to article 3d; a volunteer force, thoroughly organized, disciplined and equipped for all emergencies, should owe its existence to article 10th; each of said articles is mandatory.

So is article 5th, which creates and defines the executive branch of the government.

Paragraph 12th, section 1st of said article 5th, declares, among the duties of the Governor, this: "He shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed, and shall be a conservator of the peace throughout the State." How? By the aid of the military force of the State, if necessary.

Article 10th supplements and adds force to article 5th; the latter makes a Governor; the former makes the Governor strong; strong to execute the laws, strong to conserve the peace.

How is all this to be carried out?

By annual appropriation, just as is made for any other branch of the State government.

Article 7th, sect. 1, par. 1st, gives ample power to tax for this purpose.

The General Assembly has power therein conferred to tax "For the support of the State government and the public institutions."

Argument, surely, is not needed to demonstrate that the volunteer force of the State, constitutionally organized, is a "public institution," and is essentially a part of the executive branch of the government.

It cannot be maintained that Georgia is too poor to appropriate money for this necessity. She could sell out her property at any time and pay off nearly, if not all her debt, and her wealth is steadily increasing.

A proper economy can be exercised in such an appropriation, as in any other.

There is a well defined distinction between economy and parsimony.
"Economy avoids all waste and extravagance, and applies money to the best advantage."

"Parsimony is frugality carried to an extreme, involving meanness of spirit and a sordid mode of living."

Economy is a virtue. Parsimony is a vice.

Georgia has been parsimonious; she should be economical in this as in any other governmental necessary expense.

What has the State done, to carry into effect the Constitution of 1877, in this regard?

In the session of 1878–79, and 1880–1, certain laws were passed, organizing the volunteer forces, which are now comprised in the Code of Georgia, from Section 1103 (a) to Section 1103 (rr) inclusive; and then, in the session of 1884–85, this matter received considerable attention from the General Assembly, and on the 13th of October, 1885, a very elaborate statute was passed, amending the previous Acts above mentioned, which Act is embodied in Acts of 1884–85, pages 74 to 88 inclusive, and providing for the entire organization, government and discipline of the troops of the State; and during the same session an Act was also passed, on 17th of October, 1885, see page 62, amending Section 1104 of the Code, declaring the volunteer organization to be a portion of the militia of the State; the two Acts taken together, distinguishing the present force of the State, as the active militia. In this military law of 1885, the General Assembly made quite an advance in carrying out the Constitution of 1877. In section 5, of said Act, on the subject of uniforms, it struck out the clause in the old law, requiring volunteers to uniform and equip themselves at their own expense, and declared that a service uniform should be adopted, to be prescribed by the Governor, etc.

Again, in section 14, the "military fund," which had been previously so characterized as a fund to be kept apart, in the Treasury of the State, was made to embrace "all moneys appropriated, from time to time, by the General Assembly, for the support, maintenance or equipment of the State volunteer forces," clearly indicating that it was in the contemplation of the General Assembly to make appropriations to carry the said law into effect.

In section 21 of said Act, it was made the duty of the Governor to take immediate steps to gather and collect together the arms, equipments and military property of the State, which had been issued to commands then disbanded, or no longer in actual existence, and to bring suits upon bonds, given to secure the State, for the issuance of such arms, equipments or military property; and in section 22, the Advisory Board is created, its duties defined, and the necessary expenses of said board were declared to be a proper charge, to be paid out of the military fund, upon the Governor's warrant.

These laws, theoretically, recognize the obligation resting upon the General Assembly to carry into effect article 10 of the Constitution, and the volunteer commands of the State, organized in pursuance of said laws, or made part of said force, had a right to assume that the State of Georgia would appropriate sufficient money to give vitality to said enactments.

It now remains for the General Assembly to provide means for all of the objects contemplated in said laws in relation to the military force, or else previous Legislatures will have done a vain thing in enacting such statutes.

The present force of the State is in an exceedingly poor military condition; many commands are struggling to exist in spite of adverse circumstances, but a large proportion of the force is in a pitiable condition, which reflects no credit upon the State of Georgia.

Although the executive branch of the government has, for a great many years past, repeatedly urged upon the General Assembly the maintenance and support by the State of this important "public institution," the right arm of the Governor, the military force, notably in 1859, by Governor Joseph E. Brown, in his message to the General Assembly, declaring that the military system was then neglected, more so in Georgia than in any of the original thirteen States, and urging the State to take charge of the organization and the training of said force, and recommending that a tax be assessed and collected for this purpose, and since the Constitution of 1877, by the earnest messages of Governors McDaniel and Gordon, yet the General Assembly has been deaf to the appeals and advice of the Executive branch of the government, and has not as yet appropriated one dollar for this purpose.
Without going into particulars, it is well known that the majority of the States of the American Union have, in the past quarter of a century, and especially in the past ten years, recognized the importance of this subject, with the result of well-equipped well-trained bodies of men in each of the same, of whom the said States are justly proud, and for whom everything is provided by appropriations from the State Treasury, from the canteen of the soldier, to the armory of the regiment. Even the Southern States, not so prosperous as Georgia, have followed in the course marked out by the Northern, Middle and Western States, with the most gratifying results. Can it be presumed for one moment that the people of Georgia, having recognized and declared most solemnly the necessity of a similar force in Georgia, in order to maintain peace and good order within the borders of the State, heeding the advice of the Father of his Country, “in times of peace to prepare for war,” intend that the present so-called military force in Georgia shall be disbanded?

And yet, this is the issue now presented. It is simply impossible to maintain the present force, or any force worthy of the name, unless the State of Georgia takes hold of the matter, as other States have done, and regulates, maintains and supports it. If an experiment should be tried, and the entire force of Georgia be disbanded, we venture to assert that it would shortly become necessary, in view of the disturbances of the peace, immediately consequent, for the Governor to call an extra session of the General Assembly, to make provisions for the erection of military commands, supported entirely by the State, so as to ensure the peace and security of the citizens of Georgia, in their persons and property.

As heretofore shown, it was pointed out to the General Assembly, several years ago, that thousands of dollars’ worth of arms, the property of the State, turned over to it by the United States government, were in the hands of disbanded commands, or of commands which should be declared disbanded, and that this property could only be recovered through the agency of the Adjutant and Inspector-General’s office, and yet not a dollar was provided for the expenses of this work, and not even for the postage required by the offieer in charge of said department in corresponding concerning this important matter. As it is now, inspections are required by the military law of the State, to ascertain the condition of the various commands, yet not a dollar is provided to pay the expenses of the inspecting officer, and consequently this necessary function of the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office is poorly performed. The Advisory Board is properly provided for in the military law, as found necessary by the experience of years in other States, and is required to meet at the capital, from time to time, on the call of the Governor, having a general supervision over the various commands of the State, and yet not a dollar is provided for the necessary expenses of the Advisory Board in obeying the order of the Governor.

We find that a fine military spirit is prevalent in some of the State commands, and in others where they had organized in great hopes of continued efficiency, that the military spirit has been chilled by the neglect of the State to maintain such command, and that the result is to-day that Georgia has no military force worthy of the name, and that something must be done for the credit of the State, or else that the only thing remaining to be done by the Advisory Board is to sternly and critically inspect every command in the State, and to take steps for the disbandment of fully two-thirds of the same, as being unmilitary and inefficient, without, perhaps, any fault of their own, but from force of circumstances. The Advisory Board, animated by a desire and intention to do its duty, is prepared to go to this extreme extent, and even further, if necessary, but before doing so begs to recommend, as absolutely necessary, if the Constitution and statutes on this subject are to be carried out in their letter and spirit:

First.—That the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office should be properly organized and maintained, as being the source from which must come efficiency, and to this end, the Adjutant and Inspector-General should receive a salary, performing, as he does, at the same time, the duty of Keeper of Public Buildings, of two thousand ($2,000) dollars per annum; and that there be added to this office an Assistant Adjutant and Inspector-General, with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, who shall also be instructor in rifle practice, with a salary of twelve hundred ($1,200) dollars per annum; and that the sum of eighteen hundred ($1,800) dollars per annum be provided for all the expenses of said department, including travelling, stationery, reports, expenses of the Advisory Board, and everything necessary to maintain this department, to be expended under order of the Governor, making, in all, five thousand ($5,000) dollars per annum, appropriated for the Adjutant and Inspector-General's Department. We consider this a necessary minimum amount to run this department, and we are satisfied that it will be economy for the State to expend it, and it would simply increase the expenses of said department thirty-five hundred ($3,500) dollars, inasmuch as the salary of the Adjutant and Inspector-General now, he being also Keeper of Public Buildings, is fifteen hundred ($1,500) dollars.

Second.—We recommend, that the sum of two hundred ($200) dollars per annum be appropriated to each company of the force, as organized under the present law, to provide for all expenses of said company; provided, that said company shall not receive said amount, unless it shall present, upon regular inspection, at least the minimum active uniformed strength required by law, and shall be reported by the inspecting officer, as being in a good military condition, including its arms and equipments.

Third.—We recommend that, in order to properly train the force of the State, and to make it a practical and efficient body, annual encampments be provided for, so that each command shall be ordered for one week, by the Governor, into camp, there to be drilled, disciplined and taught the practical duties of camp life; to this end, we recommend that two (2) camping grounds be provided, one in the upper portion of the State and one on the coast, the use of said camping grounds to be donated to the State, upon bids to be invited by the Advisory Board, and selections to be made by said Board, and we feel satisfied that, in this way, the State can acquire a lease, say for ninety-nine (99) years, to two camping grounds well located and ample in their dimensions, and suitable for all purposes; and we recommend, that thereafter the State shall maintain the same, providing tents and everything else necessary, and pay to the troops, when called out in this active service, in said annual camps of instruction, the following compensation per diem: non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates, one ($1) dollar; lieutenants, two ($2) dollars; captains and field officers, three ($3) dollars; and one ration, for each officer and man, and that transportation shall be furnished to the officers, men and horses from their homes to the camp and return.

Fourth.—We recommend, also, that a simple and serviceable uniform be adopted for the entire force of the State.
In this connection, we note that the tendency of the force throughout the State is towards simplicity in uniform, following the modern idea, in Europe and America, on this subject. We do not ask that the State provide this uniform yet, though it should do it. The uniform, however, should be prescribed, and one year's experience can enable the Adjutant and Inspector-General to report how far the said uniform can be provided, in addition to the other demands upon his department, from the supplies from the general government, and then further legislation can be had in this regard. In this connection, however, there should be furnished to each command, as soon as possible, canteens, haversacks, knapsacks and blankets, so that when a command is ordered out by the Governor, it will be in immediate condition to go where needed. As it is now, the Advisory Board finds that there is not a canteen or haversack, a knapsack or a blanket, furnished by the State of Georgia to its troops.

Fifth.—As to the matter of ammunition, there is a grave want felt; rifle practice is neglected, and among the few commands where it is to some extent looked after, the ammunition for the same is in a large part purchased by the commands, or the members thereof. This should not be. Sufficient ammunition should be furnished at once, and continuously, for the purpose of rifle practice; the command should be compelled, not only to parade for rifle practice annually, but also to be instructed in the same, at least ten (10) times a year, with scores taken down and reported to the Assistant Adjutant and Inspector-General, so that said reports can be condensed, and in this way, the efficiency of the force be largely increased. It is no common thing to find members of the various commands, who are not only unfamiliar with the weapon, but who are totally ignorant of its uses, and can merely handle the same in the manual of arms. This ammunition should be furnished by the State, and for this purpose a sum of at least twenty-five hundred ($25,000) dollars, annually, should be appropriated, as an experiment, in order to ascertain what should be the true amount to accomplish the ends desired, and we feel satisfied that the tabulated reports from the Adjutant and Inspector-General's office, at the end of two years, would demonstrate that it had been a wise expenditure.

Sixth.—We earnestly recommend that all of the arms belonging to the State of Georgia, not in the hands of commands recognized as a part of the existing forces, be gathered in by the Adjutant and Inspector-General's Department, as soon as possible, to be disposed of as the Governor may direct, either by sale, exchange, or to be used in arming other commands, and that suits be bought by the State upon the bonds of officers, for guns lost and unaccounted for.

The Advisory Board recommends, in conclusion, that the State appropriate the sum of twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars, annually, for all the purposes indicated in this report. This is not enough, but it will put the force in fair condition. When compared with the annual appropriations of such States as New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts, it is an insignificant sum. It must be noted that Georgia, as a purely agricultural State, with large plantations and farms, worked under the system of slavery, is not the Georgia of to-day, with her foundries, machine shops, factories and diversified manufacturing establishments, her mines of coal, iron, gold and other minerals, her quarries of marble, slate and granite, and her vast transportation companies.

Georgia's population is now mixed by immigration from other States and from foreign countries, and it is apparent that the framers of the Constitution of 1877 were wise in declaring a military force to be "essential to the peace and security of the State."

Ayes, 133; nays, 0.

Having received the requisite constitutional majority, the bill passed, as amended, to-wit:

A bill to be entitled an Act to amend article 3, section 7, paragraph 7, of the Constitution of the State, by adding thereto the following words: But the first and second reading of each local bill in each house shall consist of the reading of the title only, unless said bill is ordered to be engrossed;

Whereas, Article 3, section 7, paragraph 8, of the Constitution requires that no law or ordinance shall pass which refers to more than one subject matter, or contains matter different from what is expressed in the title thereof; and

Whereas, Rule 32 of the Senate and Rule 41 of the House requires that "no debate shall be admitted upon any bill at the first reading," and the question shall be, "shall this bill be committed, or engrossed?" and

Whereas, Experience has shown the wisdom of these rules forbidding debate upon its first reading, and until a committee to which a bill has been referred has become accurately and thoroughly acquainted with its intent and force and reported their opinion of it, and the Rules themselves prove that it is unnecessary to read more than the title of the bill when first introduced; and

Whereas, If this amendment becomes part of the Constitution, the result will be to shorten the ses­sions of the General Assembly, and thus largely re­duce the expenses of the Legislative Department of the State Government, and to that extent diminish the burdens of taxation upon the people of the State; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly, of the State of Georgia, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, That the Constitution of this State be amended by adding to article 3, section 7, paragraph 7, the following words: "But the first and second reading of each local bill in each house shall consist of the reading of the title only, unless said bill is ordered to be engrossed," so that said paragraph, when amended, shall read as follows: Every bill, before it shall pass, shall be read three times upon three separate days in each house, unless in case of actual invasion or insurrection; but the first and second reading of each local bill shall consist of the reading of the title only, unless said bill is ordered to be engrossed.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That whenever the above proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be agreed to by two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of the General Assembly, the Governor shall, and he is hereby authorized and instructed to cause said amendment to be published in at least two newspapers in each congressional district in this State, for the period of two months next preceding the time of holding the next general election.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That the above proposed amendment shall be submitted for ratification or rejection to the electors of this State at the next general election to be held after publication, as provided for in the second section of this Act, in the several election districts of this State, at which election every person shall be entitled to vote who is entitled to vote for members of the General Assembly. All persons voting at said election in favor of adopting the proposed amendment to the Constitution, shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: “For ratification of the amendment of paragraph 7, of section 7, of article 3, of the Constitution,” and all persons opposed to the adoption of said amendment, shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: “Against the ratification of the amendment of paragraph 7, of section 7, of article 3, of the Constitution.”

Sec. 4. Be it further enacted, That the Governor be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed, to provide for the submission of the amendment proposed in the first section of this Act to a vote of the people as required by the Constitution of this State, in paragraph 1, of section 1, of article 13, and by this Act; and, if ratified, the Governor shall, when he ascertains such ratification from the Secretary of State, to whom the returns shall be referred in the same manner as in cases of elections for members of the General Assembly, to count and ascertain the result, issue his proclamation for the period of thirty days announcing such result and declaring the amendment ratified.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ATLANTA, GA., December 16, 1890.

To the House of Representatives:

I herewith return, without my approval, House bill No. 22, entitled an Act to amend the charter of the Contractors' Association, to confer certain powers and privileges on same, and for other purposes.

This proposed amendment does not properly set out the Act to be amended. It does not state when the original charter was granted, or the purpose of its granting.
The proposed amendment is also objectionable because it seeks to prevent any modification of the charter, either in the legislation or elsewhere, without the consent of the Association and its branches.

The bill is not very clearly expressed, and the terms and conditions which it seeks to put upon the State, to say the least, are of doubtful propriety

Mr Speaker:

The Committee on the Academy for the Blind respectfully report that on December 8th the Senate and House Committees visited the Georgia Academy for the Blind, in Macon, for the purpose of inspecting the same.

We take great pleasure in saying that we found the Academy buildings, for both white and colored inmates, in excellent condition in every respect. The property is splendidly cared for, there being no evidences of neglect visible anywhere. The new dormitory for white males is a handsome structure of stone and brick, four stories high, and is rapidly nearing completion. The white females will occupy the main building, which is commodious and elegant. The academies for whites and blacks occupy different premises.

The committee were entertained with exhibitions by the pupils, and were greatly surprised and gratified at the proficiency of these sightless unfortunates in spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar and other common school studies. Their skill in music, vocal and instrumental, is truly remarkable. Their industrial training is also excellent. We confidently assert that no school of a similar curriculum can show pupils of superior proficiency. The instruction they receive eminently qualifies them to make their own livelihood.

The number of pupils are, whites, 77; colored, 16; total, 93.

We heartily endorse the management of Principal W D. Williams, who has faithfully and ably discharged the duties of his office since 1858, without a word of complaint from any source. The State has a valuable public servant in this gentleman, and the blind children committed to his care, a tender and considerate guardian.

We close this report by saying that the Academy for the Blind is a monument to the philanthropy, benevolence and wisdom of the State of Georgia and is one of her noblest charities.

Respectfully submitted.

JOHN T. BOIFEUILLET, Chairman.

Mr Speaker:

Mr. Clifton, Chairman of the Penitentiary Committee, submits the following reports, and asks that the same be read to the House.
Respectfully submitted.

Clifton, Chairman.

We, the Penitentiary Committee of the House of Representatives, beg leave to submit the following report:

On the 9th of December we visited the camps in Dade county, at Coal City. It was very evident that our visit was not unexpected, and that preparations had been made to give everything connected with the camp as good an appearance as possible.

We found the bedding and clothing for the convicts in a filthy condition, and so were the buildings in which they are confined at night, notwithstanding the fact that they had been given extra attention in anticipation of our inspection.
We recommend the entire separation of the whites and blacks at night.

We found that two children had been born at the camps—one soon after the mother was imprisoned, and the other, a child of an old convict. This shows that the sexes are not kept separate as they should be.

We found little complaint as to the character or quantity of food furnished.

In order to see the kind of work and the amount required of each man, your committee entered the mines where the coal was being taken out. It was an experience never to be forgotten. In many instances we found the men working in such places as rendered it necessary for them to lie on their stomachs while at work, often in the mud and water, with bad ventilation, in order to get out the daily amount of coal that would save them from the punishment to be inflicted by the whipping boss. We condemn in the strongest terms the rule that requires each man to mine a given quantity of coal daily or receive this punishment.

In conclusion, your committee beg to submit that we have only been able to make a limited inspection of these camps.

We are thoroughly convinced that there are many abuses which should be corrected, and many reforms could and should be made in providing for the welfare of these unfortunate people. It is our intention to make a thorough inspection of all the convict camps in the State during the coming summer, and to make such recommendations as we think proper and necessary. We respectfully urge the lessees of all the convicts to provide ample clothing for them and to pay more regard to their personal comfort.

We condemn the present convict system, and would recommend that in the future the sentences of youthful convicts be changed so that they may work out their terms on the public works.

We cannot close our report without suggesting that Monday, December 22, 1890.

a board of pardons be created, whose business shall be to examine all applications for pardon. We believe there are convicts in the camps who should be pardoned, but the Governor has not the time to investigate these cases.

Respectfully submitted,

W. Clifton, Chairman,

There being two reports and having heard the evidence of the committee, we endorse the majority report.

W. D. Wells.

We, the undersigned sub-committee from the Penitentiary Committee of the House of Representatives, submit the following report: On the 19th day of December, 1890, we visited the convict camp known as Chattahoochee camp. We find the convicts engaged in making brick. We find the sanitary condition of the camp very good. We find that the men are very well fed. We find that they are furnished with plenty of good vegetables and that they are furnished with plenty of food suitable for laboring men. We find a deficiency in the bedding, so far as relates to the mattresses, and do recommend that they be supplied at once with plenty of good mattresses.
With this exception we find that the convicts are very well satisfied with their treatment.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

We, the undersigned Penitentiary Committee of the House of Representatives, beg leave to submit the following minority report:

On the 9th of December we visited the convict camps in Dade county, at Coal City. We found the convicts engaged in digging coal and burning coke. The convicts are in fine health and have every appearance of being well fed and well cared for. We did not, after making inquiry of the convicts in the absence of any guard or official of the camp, find a single complaint about their treatment. They are furnished fresh beef two days in the week, and have a good variety of vegetables all the time. We find the sanitary condition of the camps in excellent condition. We find that every convict occupies the same bed given him, and that no change is made by the convicts. We find that the whites and blacks occupy the same building, but not the same bedding.

We find that the convicts are doing the same work and in the same manner as free labor is performed in the business of mining coal. We consider it unjust to censure the officials of the camp for the men being worked in the coal mines when they have no power to prevent it; if any one is to be censured it should be the Legislature that authorizes it. We believe that the officials of the camps are faithfully discharging their duty. We find that the mines are well ventilated by means of quite a number of air courses at each mine, in fact they are the best ventilated mines in the South. We further find that each convict has a right to wash at night, and they are furnished with a dry suit of clothes at night. We also find that the good health is remarkable at this camp. We further find that the convicts are not subjected to any cruel treatment and all of them speak in the highest terms of Captain Wm. O. Reese and his subordinate officers at the camp. We find that the convicts in the mine are not forced or subjected to work in any place or manner other than free coal mines do for pay, or any other rules or regulations other than those adopted by free laborers who work in coal mines at that place and other mines.

We also find that the convicts are given a task of so many mining cars to be dug and loaded each day. We also find that quite a number of the convicts complete their task for the day by 12 o'clock, and that they receive 10 cents per car for all extra work. Some of them have now in the hands of the officials $50 to $100 that they have made by extra work. We also find that the convicts are not worked on Sunday; that the buildings are kept comfortable by means of a number of very large stoves furnished with all the coal necessary to keep the building warm.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

G. W. M. Tatum,
J. H. Dennard,
A. N. Coffey,
J. W. Turner,
P. B. Trammell.
