was taken up, read and agreed to.

In pursuance of which, the President appointed as such

Mr. Clark offered a resolution, deploring and condemning the action of the last Congress in raising their salary, which was read.

Mr. Nichols offered a resolution, directing that one hundred copies of the rules of the Senate be printed for the use of the Senate, which was taken up, read and agreed to.

Mr. Kibbee offered an amendment to the fifth rule governing the Senate in executive session, directing the Secretary simply to notify the Governor of the result of the deliberation of the Senate on nominations made by the Governor, and not to furnish the Governor with the vote of each Senator, which was taken up, read and agreed to.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives, through Mr. Worthington, the Clerk thereof:

Mr. President:

I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that there is a quorum of the House present, and they are now ready to proceed to business. The House has also adopted a resolution, appointing a committee of three from the House, consisting of Messrs

Mr. Jones offered a resolution that, until otherwise ordered, the Senate meet at 10 o'clock A. M., and adjourn at 1 o'clock P. M., which was taken up, read, and agreed to.

Mr. Hillyer, from the committee appointed to wait upon his Excellency, the Governor, and notify him of the organization of the General Assembly, made a report, stating that they had performed the duty assigned them, and that the Governor would soon communicate with the General Assembly in writing.

The following message was received from his Excellency, the Governor, through Mr. Warren, his Secretary, to-wit:

Mr. President:

I am directed by his Excellency, the Governor, to deliver to the Senate a communication in writing, with accompanying documents.

On motion, the message of his Excellency, the Governor, was taken up and read, and is as follows:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT OF GEORGIA,
ATLANTA, GA., January 14, 1874.

To the General Assembly:

The reports of the Treasurer and of the Comptroller General, herewith transmitted, show the financial operations of the State Treasury for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1873. It will be seen that the amount received into the treasury from all sources during the year, including the proceeds of the sale of bonds, and the balance on hand January 1, 1873, is three million one hundred and seventy-two thousand seven hundred and eighty-eight dollars and seventy-four cents. The disbursements for the same period, including the amount of principal and interest paid upon the public debt, are two million two hundred and fifty thousand two hundred and thirty-two dollars and forty-nine cents. The amount of public debt, principal and interest, paid during the year, was one million three hundred and thirty-five thousand seven hundred and sixty-seven dollars and seventy-three cents. This amount is made up of the following items:

As required by the act approved February 19, 1873, I issued the sum of one million two hundred thousand dollars of bonds of the State, bearing eight per cent. interest, and to become due as provided in the act. These bonds have all been placed at par, and, as will appear from the report of the Treasurer, at an expense of less than one per cent. I respectfully recommend that the amount necessary to defray the expense of negotiating these bonds be appropriated, and that the Governor be authorized to draw his warrant therefor in favor of the Treasurer. The larger portion of the bonds was disposed of in this State, and the facility with which the loan was made shows, not only the confidence of our people in the pledged faith of the Government, but the sound condition of the public credit.

PUBLIC DEBT.

The following is a consolidated statement of the debt of the State on the first day of January, 1874:
The foregoing statement shows that the bonds issued in 1844 and 1848 will become due the present year. Means for their payment have been already provided in the sale of eight per cent. bonds. Of the gold quarterly bonds issued under authority of the act of September 15, 1870, the sum of $2,098,000.00 is outstanding. The sum of $500,000.00 of these bonds, in the hands of Russell Sage, to secure a loan of $375,000.00, has been surrendered to the Agent of the State in New York. The total amount of interest to be paid upon the public debt the present year is $586,460.00.

The amount of taxable property in 1873, as shown by the Comptroller General's report, was $242,487,382.00. This valuation, we may safely calculate, will be increased the present year to $250,000,000.00. Four and a half-tenths of one per cent. on this amount would raise $1,125,000.00; which, together with the revenue to be derived from other sources, will be sufficient to meet all just claims upon the treasury during next year.

Your attention is respectfully invited to the amendments of the tax laws suggested by the Comptroller General in his report. I renew the suggestion made in my last Annual Message to the General Assembly, that the law be so amended as to secure a correct valuation of the taxable property of the State. With such a valuation, there is but little reason to doubt that the money needed to supply the wants of the Government could be raised at a reduced rate of taxation.

AGRICULTURE.

From the vast importance which attaches to the subject, it would seem logical to give priority and supreme consideration to the agriculture of the State. It is too trite to repeat that this interest is so vital and extended, that it underlies and supports all other industrial pursuits. We are essentially an agricultural people, and will remain so, no doubt, for an indefinite period; and, while an intelligent and observing mind does not fail to appreciate a diversified industry, we nevertheless feel that the best interests of our society require that agriculture should be encouraged as the leading industry of the State. But is our agriculture advancing? Are the farmers and planters of the State prospering? and does that business which they have elected to follow, and upon which they are so entirely dependent, make them such annual returns as to satisfy a reasonable expectation? These questions, it is feared, must be answered in the negative. I have given, of late, much earnest and anxious reflection to the condition of this great industry in our State, and candor compels me to say that the result of my investigation is far from satisfactory. Many reasons might be given for the present depressed state of our agriculture. Chief among them are the imperfect modes of culture and fertilization which have so extensively obtained. It must be admitted, however, that there has been more intelligent effort directed towards the discovery of better and more scientific modes, since the close of the late war, than during any previous period in the history of Georgia husbandry. But what a vast amount of improvement is yet to be made? Of all the futile attempts upon the part of men to secure material prosperity, nothing can exceed in hopelessness the task of the farmer who toils in the cultivation of the soil whose sterility refuses any adequate return. It is not too much to assert that there are thousands of such acres in cultivation in our State, and that large sections, unless soon recuperated, will become so unproductive as to compel their abandonment. Here, then, is a case which is too vital to be tampered with, or treated with a resort to palliating and temporary expedients.

Throughout the leading States of Europe, the public mind seems to be profoundly interested upon the subject of improved husbandry. This interest has, in a great measure, extended throughout the older Atlantic States, and it affords great satisfaction to know that the farmers and planters of our own State are energetically seeking out new roads to success. All seem to agree that we can no longer suffer the exhausting drain on our production, which our trade in fertilizers has called for. Millions of dollars are each year sent out of the State to pay for commercial manures, which has been applied to our crops, and the prevailing opinion among our farmers seems to be adverse to the economy of their further use, at the high prices which is demanded for them. A cheap and portable manure seems, in our present condition, to be the grand desideratum in Georgia agriculture. With this secured, every other amelioration is within our reach. But, without it, no pains-taking in culture, and no expenditure of intellect or capital will produce encouraging results. Recent discoveries give promise that the tillers of the soil will, at no distant day, be placed in possession of sounder theories on the subject of fertilization, and of cheaper and more efficient formulas for the preparation of manures, than they have yet had. Sound policy requires, however, that in matters essential to success in this great department of industry, nothing should be left to the mere accidents of individual enterprise or research. The State, very properly, keeps jealous and sleepless watch over its financial department. It is deemed of vast importance that the income of the State, and its taxable property, should be digested in convenient forms and tables, and that the public treasure should be appropriated and paid out with elaborate particularity. But, when it comes to the production of this wealth, and the means by which it is to be gathered in, everything is left to the voluntary and unassisted exertions of each producer in the State.

After much reflection upon the subject, I am prepared to recommend to the General Assembly the establishment of a Department of Agriculture for the State. It would be difficult to enumerate the advantages which would result from the operations of such a department. Among its duties should be included the supervision of our mineral interests and resources, as well as the practical application of chemistry to agriculture and the mechanic arts. Men now distrust analyses and experiments which are given to the world on unofficial endorsement. Could the information, so much needed in the every day operations in the field and shop, be sent forth from such a department as the one here recommended, it would carry with it a weight and sanction rendering it acceptable to the public. Here could be gathered, from every source, the most advanced ideas and methods affecting the great interests committed to this department. Gradually the scope and value of the practical operations of the department would extend, so as to include a full detail of the physical characteristics and advantages of each county in the State. It is with regret that we observe how far the State of Georgia is behind, even some of the newly admitted States, in those valuable statistics justly deemed of so much importance by capitalists and immigrants.

In connection with the subject of ameliorating our agricultural interests, I would respectfully invite your attention to the propriety of revising the lien laws in force in this State. The most casual observer has not failed to note the pernicious influence which these laws have exerted upon our agricultural and other industries.

COMMON SCHOOLS.

I transmit herewith the annual report of the State School Commissioner, showing the operations of that department during last year. Of the special tax of one-tenth of one per cent., levied by virtue of the Act to provide for the payment of claims due to teachers, of 1871, there was collected prior to the 1st day of December last, $176,237.01. Of this amount, the sum of $174,000.00 has already been apportioned among the counties of the State. The School Commissioner is not in possession of the information necessary to enable him to report the amount of these claims yet remaining unpaid.

At the time the teachers of 1871 took service, there was no fund in the treasury for the payment of their claims. One year after the schools of 1871 were opened, the school fund, amounting to $242,027.62, was bonded, under the provisions of the act of July 28, 1870. This act required that the school funds then on hand should be paid into the treasury, to be used for other than school purposes. The act further provided that the bonds, in which the school fund was required to be invested, should be sold "under the direction of the Governor, to meet appropriations for school purposes, and for no other purpose." Authority was given by the act of August 19, 1872, to destroy these bonds and substitute other "lawfully executed bonds" in their place. These substituted bonds were required to be sold "at rates not injurious to the credit of the State," and the proceeds apportioned among the counties, on the basis of the school population. The fund so apportioned was required to be applied to the payment of the claims of teachers for 1871, till such claims were satisfied, "and then to future school work."

At no time since the passage of this Act has it been practicable to dispose of these bonds "at rates not injurious to the credit of the State." The condition of the public credit, since the passage of the Act, has required the exercise of great prudence and caution in placing our securities upon the market.

Much as I have desired that the just claims of teachers should be paid, I have felt that it would not be proper to raise money for that purpose by the sale of bonds. I especially invite the attention of the General Assembly to so much of the report of the School Commissioner as has reference to the claims now under consideration. If it should be thought proper to provide for their full settlement, I recommend that the suggestion of the Commissioner, in reference to the manner of payment, be adopted.

At the date of the Commissioner's report, he had received reports of school operations in one hundred and thirteen counties. Three months' schools have been kept up in most of the counties, with results which have, generally, been satisfactory. The faithfulness with which financial obligations have been met, has secured the confidence of the public. The system which has been inaugurated should be firmly established, and increased efficiency should be given to the work so auspiciously begun.

The sum of $250,000.00 was distributed among the counties for the support of schools last year. This sum is made up from poll tax, from the half rental of the Western and Atlantic Railroad, and from the dividends on stock owned by the State in the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company. I concur in opinion with the School Commissioner, that the amount annually received from these sources should not be materially increased by appropriations from the State treasury. This amount will be sufficient—at least for some time to come—for the support of schools in the several counties of the State, for three months in the year. All amounts supplemental of this, intended for school purposes, should be raised by local taxation. I fully approve the views expressed by the Commissioner upon this subject, and recommend them to the careful consideration of the General Assembly.

Your attention is invited to that portion of the Commissioner's report referring to the appropriation made by the General Assembly, at its last session, to the Atlanta University. That institution is not responsible to the State Government for the proper application of donations made for its support. Our institutions of learning, as far as practicable, should be fostered by the State Government, but no money should be given from the treasury for that purpose, without a sufficient guarantee for its proper application.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

I have the honor of presenting herewith the reports of the Board of Trustees and of the Board of Visitors, showing the operations of the State University during last year. The session closed August 6, 1873, on which occasion degrees were conferred upon thirty-three students, who had passed the examinations in the schools of the University, with which they had been connected. The number of students matriculated during the year was three hundred and eighteen. The several courses of study prescribed, and the number of students pursuing each course, are reported by the Chancellor as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Course</th>
<th>Number of Students</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The classical course</td>
<td>53 students</td>

<tr>
<td>The scientific course</td>

<td>51 students</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<tr>
<td>The State College</td>
<td>153 students</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The University had no preparatory school, and no freshman class, and the matriculation indicates a change in the structural working of the University.

Of the three hundred and eighteen students who attended the University last year, two hundred and ninety-one were from this State. This fact indicates that our people not only feel an increased interest in education, but that they also have a just appreciation of the educational advantages afforded by their State University.

The last session of the State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts showed the increasing prosperity of that institution. Under the careful supervision of President Broun, aided by the professors associated with him, it is rapidly growing in public favor, and promises soon to perform a prominent part in the work of education in the State. The college now has three departments, viz: Agriculture, Engineering and Applied Chemistry—each having its appropriate professor. In addition to the instruction obtained in these departments, the students of the college are also instructed, by the professors in the schools of the university, in mathematics, natural philosophy, modern languages and English literature. They also have the advantage of all the auxiliaries of education, such as the libraries, museum and literary societies of the university.

Towards the close of the year 1872, the North Georgia Agricultural College, located at Dahlonega, became a branch of the State College and a department of the University. That College was formally opened in January, 1873, and numbered, during its first session, one hundred and seventy-seven students. The Chancellor, in his report, speaks in the most encouraging terms of this branch of the University.

The income of the University for last year, from all sources and including cash balance, was $34,798.92. Of this amount there was received from tuition fees $10,540.00; from interest on the land scrip fund, $10,234.15, and from all other sources, $14,024.77. The expenditures for the same period were: for salaries, $27,383.27; for sundry expenses, $5,518.99. Cash balance, July 29, 1873, $1,896.66.
The expenditures on account of the State College were: for salaries, $9,706.91; for sundry expenses, not including repairs, $3,259.18.

The last payment for the Agricultural College land scrip, amounting to $96,192.00, was received in the month of July last. Of this sum, $96,000.00 have been invested in the eight per cent. bonds of this State, which have been turned over to the trustees of the University. The eminent rank which the University has assumed among the institutions of learning, is a just cause of pride on the part of the people of Georgia.

DEAF AND DUMB ASYLUM.

I submit herewith the Sixteenth Annual Report of the Trustees of the Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb. The number of pupils admitted to the institution during the year was sixty-seven. Six pupils completed, within the year, the term of six years allowed by the State.

The sum of $13,500.00 was appropriated at the last session of the General Assembly, to pay the officers and teachers of the institution, and for the support and education of the indigent pupils therein. This sum was found sufficient; and, in the opinion of the trustees, a similar sum will meet all the wants of the institution the present year. The General Assembly, at the last session, appropriated the sum of $1,500.00 to construct water works for the institution, and the further sum of $1,000.00 for repairs. By a judicious expenditure of these sums, the buildings have been repaired and furnished, adding greatly to the comfort of the pupils; and water works have been constructed of sufficient capacity to supply the institution. The trustees recommend that an additional term of three years in the institution be allowed to such pupils as may prove themselves competent, intellectually and morally, for the same; and, also, that a department be established for teaching articulation. They also suggest that the institution needs additional school-room furniture and proper systems of drainage and ventilation. I recommend that an appropriation of $13,500.00 be made to meet the ordinary annual expenses of the institution, and that such other sum be specially appropriated as its wants may require.

ACADEMY FOR THE BLIND.

Herewith is presented the report of the Board of Trustees of the Academy for the Blind, for the year 1873, with accompanying documents. The affairs of the Academy have been managed with due regard to economy, and its condition reflects credit upon the officers and trustees. The receipts during the year were:

From unexpended balance, January 1, 1873 $1,115.37
Appropriation for support of the Academy, 1873 11,000.00
Special appropriation for repairs 3,000.00

Total receipts for 1873 $15,115.37

DISBURSEMENTS IN 1873.

For support of Academy, 1873 $11,200.00
For repairs 3,000.00

Total disbursements $14,200.00

The number of students in the Academy has increased to a degree which will require a larger appropriation for the support of the institution during the present year. The Principal estimates that the sum required will be $12,000.00, which will give less than $275.00 to each student in attendance at the Academy.

A special appropriation of $3,000.00 is also asked for to complete certain improvements already commenced, and to repair the buildings. I recommend that these additional appropriations be made.

LUNATIC ASYLUM.

I have the honor to submit herewith the report of the Trustees of the Lunatic Asylum. The number of patients in the Asylum, at the date of the report, was five hundred and seventy-six. The capacity of the institution is not sufficient to accommodate over six hundred patients, and it is not improbable that it will be filled during the present year.

The report shows that the Asylum is in good condition; that its departments are well organized, and its business conducted with reference to economy and efficiency. No allowances, of any kind, are made to the officers and employees of the institution, (excepting the Superintendent and resident physician,) other than quarters and fuel to the officers residing in the Asylum building, and forage for one horse to the chief steward. Commissary stores, to the extent of $1500 per annum, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the maintenance of his table, are allowed to the Superintendent. This allowance is made to that officer, in view of the necessity which is imposed upon him of entertaining visitors to the Asylum, and for providing, from his own table, such special diet as is found proper for certain female patients.

The salary of the Chaplain of the Asylum was fixed by the Trustees, in December, 1872, at $500.00 per annum. The regulations require that officer to hold religious service at the Asylum once every Sabbath, and once during the week, and also the usual service attending the burial of the dead. The General Assembly, at its last session, appropriated the sum of $250.00 to pay the salary of the Chaplain, and the Trustees have not felt authorized to exceed the sum appropriated. They recommend that the additional sum of $250.00 be paid to the Chaplain for his past year's service, and that his salary be fixed at $500.00 per annum, or be left to the discretion of the Board of Trustees, as in case of other subordinate officers.

I respectfully call the attention of the General Assembly to the fact that the practice of furnishing intoxicating liquors, without proper authority, to patients and employees at the Asylum, is springing up, and threatening to become detrimental to the interests of the institution. For the suppression of this evil, I recommend that the sale of spirituous and malt liquors, within one mile of the Asylum, be prohibited by law, and that it be made penal to furnish such liquors to any patient at the institution, unless prescribed by the proper medical officer.

The report of the Trustees discloses the fact that, in many instances, there has not been a strict compliance with the law regulating the admission of pauper patients into the Asylum. The law does not provide for the admission of paupers who are not residents of this State. When a person has been convicted of a malady requiring him to be committed to the Asylum, it is the duty of the Court, presiding at the trial, to certify if such person is a pauper, but he shall not be certified a pauper, unless in whole or in part supported by the county, or unless the county is bound for his support.

It is further provided that, if there be persons who, by law, are bound and able to support the lunatic, the names of such persons must be given. If the lunatic has means enough to support himself, in part, the amount of such means must be stated, and must be paid towards his support. The object of these provisions of the law is, to protect the public from the burden of supporting lunatics who have the means of supporting themselves, or who ought to be supported by private individuals. I suggest that the law be so amended as to secure the observance, by officials, of these salutary provisions.

Attention is called to the suggestion of the Board, that no distinct provision of law exists for the discharge of patients, who, while not in condition to be certified of sound mind, are, nevertheless, harmless, and might, with benefit to themselves and relief to the State, be remitted to the care of their friends and relatives. In consequence of this defect in the law, the institution is becoming crowded with this class of patients. Some of the present inmates, who are healthy in body and harmless in mind, have been.
in the Asylum for periods varying from ten to twenty-eight years. I suggest that the law be so amended as to give to the trustees the power to discharge, for reasons by them deemed sufficient, any patient in the Asylum.

The reports of the Treasurer and Steward show the receipts and disbursements during the year, ending November 30, 1873. Duplicate vouchers of disbursements have been made out and placed on file in the Executive office, as the law requires.

According to estimates submitted by the Board of Trustees, $105,000.00 will be required for the support of the Asylum during the present year. The expense of each patient, on the basis of this amount, is fifty cents per day to the State. This estimate is not excessive, and I recommend that the amount asked for by the Board be appropriated.

PENITENTIARY.

The Annual Report of the Principal Keeper shows, that the total number of convicts now in the Georgia Penitentiary, is six hundred and sixty-four. Of these, ninety-three are white and five hundred and seventy-one are colored persons. There are one white and nineteen colored females among the convicts.

The present lease of the convicts will expire on the first day of April next, and it will be necessary that some action be taken at the present session of the General Assembly, directing the future disposition to be made of them. The State prison has been unoccupied for several years past, and is not of sufficient capacity or in proper condition to accommodate and keep securely the present large and constantly increasing number of convicts. If it should be determined not to lease the convict force in the future, but to confine them within the walls of the State prison, steps should at once be taken to enlarge the buildings, and make the repairs necessary for the safe keeping of the prisoners.
From the year 1817, when the Penitentiary went into operation, down to 1867, a period of fifty years, the average number of convicts within its walls was forty-two. The average annual appropriation, for the support and safe keeping of the prisoners, during the same period, was $9,210.00 or $219.00 for each one per annum. From this statement, it would seem impossible, if the convicts are kept and employed within the prison walls by the State, to make the Penitentiary system self-sustaining. To appreciate fully the justness of this conclusion, it should be remembered, in this connection, that, during the period just mentioned, all the convicts were white persons; and for that reason probably more capable of learning the arts in which it has been found practicable to employ convict labor. Of the convicts now in the Penitentiary, more than five to one are colored persons; most, if not all, of whom, by reason of their ignorance and former habits of life, can never be profitably employed in any of the mechanical arts. And when it is borne in mind, that for some years to come the number of convicts will probably be increased, rather than diminished, the disposition best to be made of the Penitentiary becomes a question of the gravest importance.

If the General Assembly, in its wisdom, should determine that it would be for the public interest to again farm out the convicts, I would suggest that authority be given to lease for a longer term than two years. The profitable employment of so large a force would necessarily involve a heavy outlay on the part of contractors, and it might be found difficult, if not impossible, to lease the convicts for a period less than five years, upon terms which would save the State from expense.

I respectfully invite the attention of the General Assembly to the report of the Principal Keeper, herewith submitted. It contains a succinct history of the Penitentiary from its establishment down to the present time, and furnishes facts which may materially aid you in determining the proper disposition to be made of the institution.
MACON & BRUNSWICK RAILROAD COMPANY.

I was informed on the second day of July last, by certain holders of the bonds of the Macon & Brunswick Railroad Company, which had been indorsed by the State, under the act approved December 3, 1866, that they had presented the interest coupons of their bonds to the company for payment, and that payment thereof had been refused. Accompanying this information were notices, showing that the coupons had been protested for non-payment on the first day of July, 1873.

By the second section of the act under which the bonds were indorsed, it is made the duty of the Governor, in the event that any interest upon the bonds so indorsed shall not be paid when due, to seize and take possession of all the property of the company, and apply the earnings of the road to the extinguishment of the bond or bonds or coupons, and to sell the road and other property belonging to the company, in such manner and at such time as in his judgment may best subserve the interest of all concerned. Under the authority thus given, I issued an order, July 2, 1873, seizing all the property of the company, and placing the same in the possession of a Receiver, to the end that the road, its earnings and the other property of the company might be held and disposed of, in accordance with the provisions of the aforesaid act. Acting under this order, George H. Hazlehurst, the Receiver, took possession of the road and other property of the company in behalf of the State. This prompt action was deemed necessary for the protection of the public interest. I was apprehensive, that any delay on my part would be taken advantage of by creditors to place the company in bankruptcy—in which event the public interest would unquestionably have suffered serious injury.

At the time the road was seized the company had outstanding about $70,000.00 of pass bills, which had been issued from time to time for convenience in its business transactions. These bills had gone into general circula tion, but were mostly held by the patrons and employees of the company. Any refusal to receive these bills, I found, would involve inconvenience and loss to the State. Many of the patrons of the road who held these bills notified me that they would withdraw their patronage, unless the bills were received for passenger fare and for freight. Many of the employees and laborers, also, who had received bills for services, threatened to abandon the road unless the bills were redeemed. Inquiry into the business of the road satisfied me that its earnings for some time to come would not be much in excess of its current expenses, and, therefore, that the State could not lose largely by receiving the bills in the business transactions of the road. The public interest required that the road should be operated so as not to involve the necessity of defraying its expenses out of the public treasury. Believing that, to make the road self-sustaining, it would be necessary to take the bills, I directed the Receiver not to refuse to accept them for freight and passenger earnings; and that the bills, when thus received, should be cancelled, and held by him as vouchers, to be used in the settlement of his account with the State.

After taking possession of the road I determined that it would not be proper for me then to exercise the authority vested in me, to dispose of it by sale. I had reason to hope, that the company would be able to make an arrangement to relieve the State and resume possession of the property. Acting upon this impression, I made as little change as possible in the practical management of the road. There has been little reduction in the working force on the road, and the track and other property have been kept in good condition. On account of the recent financial troubles in the country, the company report to me, that they will not be able to make any arrangement for the relief of the State. In consequence of this, it will become necessary for the General Assembly to make provision, at the present session, for the payment of interest upon the company's bonds for which the State is liable.
It is claimed that the amount of these bonds is $2,550,000. Of this amount $600,000.00 were indorsed under the act approved October 27, 1870. There is a doubt in the public mind as to the validity of the last mentioned indorsements. Information in my possession induces me to believe that a large amount of the bonds bearing this indorsement has never been legally negotiated by the company. The bonds which have not been so negotiated are still the property of the company, and, under the order of seizure, ought to be surrendered to the Receiver. No payment of the principal or interest of these bonds should be made until the Legislature is fully satisfied that the public faith is pledged therefor.

The net earnings of the road since its seizure, as reported by the Receiver, amount to $27,991.59. The earnings of the road have been derived, almost exclusively, from its local business. This has resulted from the fact, that it has not been practicable to make any satisfactory arrangement for through freights with connecting roads. The Receiver estimates that the net earnings of the road the present year will probably amount to $60,000.00. The history of this company illustrates the impolicy of granting the aid of the State to works of internal improvement. The road was commenced under very favorable auspices, and it was claimed that it possessed advantages which would render it self-sustaining. In less than eight years after the aid was given, however, the company has become unable to meet the interest upon its bonds, and a practical addition of several millions of dollars to the public debt is the result.

There are numerous charters upon our statute book, containing provisions for the grant of State aid to railroad companies. In some instances these companies have not organized, so as to claim their chartered privileges. In other instances organizations have taken place, but no work has been done. Some, and perhaps all, of these enterprises would, if completed, be useful to the public; but it may be confidently asserted, that no one of them possesses merit sufficient to warrant its construction at the public expense. It will hardly be found practicable to establish the credit of the State upon a solid basis, so long as it is in the power of private corporations or individuals, by complying with the comparatively easy conditions prescribed in these charters, to add countless millions to our public debt. I, therefore, recommend the passage of a measure, repealing the aid feature in every charter in the State, where the same has not actually become a vested right in the company claiming it.

NORTH AND SOUTH RAILROAD COMPANY.

In December, 1872, the North and South Railroad Company reported that the first section of twenty miles of its road had been completed, as required by its charter. I caused a thorough examination of the work and of the affairs of the company to be made, by commissioners appointed for that purpose, and by a civil engineer. I also caused reports to be made by the President and Directors of the company, showing the amount which had been invested in the road by private persons; and having become satisfied that the company, under its charter, was entitled thereto, I placed the indorsement of the State upon its bonds, to the extent of twelve thousand dollars per mile, for the twenty miles completed as aforesaid.

The length of the main line of the road between the termini, is one hundred and thirty miles. The length of road completed, twenty miles. The length of additional road graded is forty miles. The sum reported as invested in the Company is $680,196.73. Of this, the sum of $420,146.92 has been applied to the section of twenty miles already completed. In this amount are included the expenses of survey, location and equipment.

CONCLUSION.

The year just ended has been one of disaster to the material welfare of a large portion of our people. As these disasters could not be prevented, so they cannot be cured by simple legislation. The remedy for many of the evils of the times lies within ourselves. As far, however, as appropriate legislation can avail, I desire to say, it will be my agreeable duty to co-operate with the General Assembly in all proper efforts to ameliorate the condition of our common constituents. It is our highest duty, as it will doubtless be our chiepest pleasure, to do all we can to promote the general welfare, advance the public credit, enforce the laws, and protect and defend the rights and liberties of the people.

To the President and Members of the Senate:

Gentlemen,—Since you did me the honor to elect me Secretary of your body, I have received from his Excellency, Governor Smith, the appointment of Solicitor General of the Flint Circuit, and am in discharge of the duties of that office. Aware that there is a difference of opinion among you as to the legality of my holding both of these positions, I deem it proper (and in this those associated with me in the office concur) that I resign my position as Secretary. In doing this, my only regret is in the disruption of the very pleasant relations which have so long existed. I have endeavored to discharge the duties incumbent upon me in a faithful manner, and whether I have succeeded or not, is not a question for me to determine. If I have not, the default is mine, for at no time have I failed to receive at your hands the most gentlemanly courtesy and consideration; and I beg that you will, individually, accept from the gentlemen who retire with me, and myself, thanks for this kind treatment, as well as the assurance of our high personal regards.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully, your ob’t serv’t,

T. B. Cabaniss.

TREASURY OF GEORGIA,
ATLANTA, GEORGIA, January 17th, 1874.

This is to certify that the Comptroller General's report charges Mr. J. W Hudson, Senator from the 28th District, with sixty dollars more than he actually received. The mistake occurred simply by the Comptroller General's mistaking a one for a seven, which made the item read $374, instead of $314, for per diem and extra pay as committee-

Very respectfully,
MILLER GRIEVE,
Clerk of Treasury Department.

TREASURY OF GEORGIA,
ATLANTA, GEORGIA, January 17th, 1874.

This is to certify that the reports of the departments charge the Hon. W M. Reese, Senator from the 29th District, with $100 mileage, which amount he did not receive. The mistake occurred by the Clerk of the Treasury mistaking a credit of $100 for the mileage. This mistake was Reese was the solitary exception where a member did not charge or receive mileage.

MILLER GRIEVE,

First. Because, so long as Georgia discriminates between any of the rights mentioned in said Civil Rights bill, she does not afford "the ampest security and protection" to all, without regard to race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Secondly. Because we hold that the laws of the Congress of the United States are the Supreme law of the land, and States have no reserved rights by which such States can abridge the privileges and immunities of the citizens of the United States; but Congress has full power, under the Constitution, to pass all necessary laws for the protection of the citizens, without regard to race, color or previous condition of servitude.

Thirdly. That we deny the statement made in said resolution, to the effect that it is contrary to the wishes of the white and colored people of this State; that they do not wish the Civil Rights Bill enacted into law.

All of which we do most respectfully ask to be spread upon the Journal of the Senate.

Mr. Harris, Chairman of the Committee on the Lunatic Asylum, made the following report, which was read:

To the President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House of Representatives:

The Joint Committee of the Senate and House beg leave to report, that they made their regular annual visit of in-spectation to the Lunatic Asylum of this State during the past week, and are gratified to note the marked improvement in the general management of the Institution. Not to be minute in detail, they would, nevertheless, give their warmest commendation of the system of government adopted and enforced by the present able and efficient Board of Trustees.

On every hand, the evidence of good order, economy, and fidelity to trusts reposed, is manifest in all the various departments of the Institution. But, whilst much has been done, we note with pleasure the disposition of the present incumbents to still further economize the means, and advance the interests of the Institution, by well-digested plans of future reform, which the brevity of this report will not permit of our giving in detail. But we would especially commend the Steward’s department, in its various features of gardening, purchasing supplies at cheap rates, the establishing of an abundant self-sustaining dairy, and the raising of at least fifty head of pork-hogs, with scarcely any expense to the Institution—all of which is attributable, in no slight degree, to the fidelity, zeal, and practical energy of the honest, capable, and efficient Steward, Mr. E. D. Brown, aided and sustained by his faithful Assistant, Mr. John A. Orme.

The medical department, too, so all-important in such an Institution, has received our careful attention, and we cannot forbear, in this brief report, to add our meed of praise to that so often bestowed in past years on the honored and faithful public servant, Dr. Thomas F Green, the worthy and efficient Superintendent, who, with a master’s hand, has guided the destiny of the Institution from the cradle of its infancy to its riper age, and made it the home and refuge of the unfortunate and afflicted of our State. Truly, it is the proudest monument of worth that he can leave behind him! In this connection, we beg leave to mention, in terms of commendation also, the very efficient corps of Assistant Physicians, consisting of Dr. T. O. Powell and Dr. T. H. Keenan, together with the Apothecary, Dr. Wm. Cotting. The duties of these gentlemen are arduous and severe, and, in consideration of the skill, patience and fidelity with which they have discharged the same, we respectfully recommend—

That the Trustees increase the salary of the First Assistant to $2,000; Second Assistant to $2,000; Apothecary to $1,000; Assistant Steward to $1,000, and Secretary to $1,000. These salaries we think reasonable, and none too large for the services rendered.

And that a contingent fund of ten thousand dollars be allowed said trustees of the Lunatic Asylum to repair the rotten floors, and other necessary repairs in and about said Asylum, now urgently demanded.

And that the female attendants in charge of wards be paid three hundred dollars per year, each, for their services.

And one hundred and five thousand dollars for the support of the Institution for the year 1874.

In conclusion, we regret to say that, within the past few months, the Institution has been visited by that terrible scourge, the small-pox, sixteen cases having appeared, out of which number six died. The origin of the first case is unknown, but the reasonable supposition is that the disease was communicated to the inmates through the clothing of a negro patient, servant to the institution. Be this as it may, we take pleasure in exonerating all of the officers concerned of any negligence in the matter; and to quiet the fears of the public, we state that all apprehensions of a further spread of the disease are groundless, as no new case has occurred within the last forty days, and those attacked, with the exception of the six deceased, have either entirely recovered or are now in an advanced stage of convalescence. And whilst upon this subject, it may not be amiss for us to say that the cemetery—of the condition of which we had occasion to complain last year—has been neatly inclosed with a plain, substantial plank fence, and otherwise much improved in appearance.

And now, in final conclusion, we beg leave to say, that we saw much to commend, and little or nothing to condemn. On the whole, we consider the outlook of the institution more hopeful than for years past.

Respectfully submitted.
February 12, 1874.

Supplemental reports were also submitted by the Comptroller and Treasurer from the close of the fiscal year to February 1st, 1874, which reports were also examined by your Committee, and found correct.

The supplemental report of the Treasurer shows a cash balance in the Treasury of $708,406.89, which amount your Committee found in the hands of the Treasurer and his depositaries.

Your Committee call attention to the arduous and responsible duties of these officers, and to the laborious and faithful manner in which they have discharged them. The efficiency of the Comptroller is especially shown in the prompt collection of the taxes, and in the skillful management of all the interests of the State intrusted to him.

The Treasurer deserves the gratitude of the people for his zeal and skill in the successful negotiation of the loan of last year at par, under depressing circumstances, with smaller expense than ever before incurred, and in his management of the State's finances.

The clerks of these officers, Messrs. Renfroe and Grieve, are commended for the neatness and clearness with which their books and papers have been kept.

Mr. President:

A bill to regulate the charges of transportation of freight upon railroads within this State.

Also, a bill to amend an act entitled an act to create a County Court in each county of the State of Georgia, except certain counties therein mentioned, approved January 19, 1872, and for other purposes.

Also, a bill to amend an act entitled an act to protect the planters of this State from imposition in the sale of fertilizers, approved September 17, 1868, and to fix the fee for inspecting and analyzing fertilizers in the county of Chatham.

The House of Representatives has appointed as a committee on the part of the House, Messrs. Fort, McArthur and Tumlin, in pursuance of a resolution to investigate the claims of R. K. Hines, Clifford Anderson and Arthur Hood, for services rendered the State in the case of the Brunswick and Albany Railroad.

The House of Representatives has passed the following bill, to-wit:

A bill to be entitled an act to let or farm out the convicts of the Penitentiary of the State of Georgia, and for other purposes.

Mr. Black, Chairman of the Committee on the Institution for the Blind, made the following report:

Mr. President:

Your Committee have made their visit to that Institution, and are gratified to say that, with the exception of some cases of throat diseases which seems to be prevailing at this time, to some extent, among the pupils, everything seems to be in a flourishing and progressive condition.

The Principal, W. D. Williams, impressed us as an enthusiastic and earnest instructor—kind, attentive, tender and fatherly in his treatment and intercourse with these poor, unfortunate children under his charge; and that, from the exhibitions of progress and proficiency made by all classes, from the lowest in simple reading to the highest in arithmetic, geometry, etc., he is accomplishing great good in bringing an inward light to those who are deprived of that actual light, that is so dear and so great a blessing to all of us. He is the right man in the right place.

Professor Vincent Czurda, the musical instructor, has brought many of the pupils up to a high and surprising degree of musical excellence, and the performances of the pupils, both in vocal and instrumental music, are alike truly wonderful to the beholder, as well as gratifying to those who are cut off from the manifold amusements and pleasures that accompany sight, as well as creditable to the exertions of that gentleman.

In reference to the wants of the Institution, we have to say that, from the appropriation of last year, a new and substantial iron fence (of Georgia manufacture), with an equally substantial brick one at each end, has been built along the line of the lot on College street; and two new outbuildings, of three and two rooms respectively, have been erected for servants' quarters, which wisely removes them from the main building. Other repairs have also been made.

The trustees ask for the annual appropriation to be made twelve thousand dollars—the increase to be expended in the purchase of new books, the old ones being much worn and mutilated by long usage, being more subject to wear by the touch than by sight. The printing of these books in raised and large letters, and large volumes, is more expensive, and requires the outlay, and we recommend the appropriation for this purpose.

They also ask for an appropriation of three thousand dollars for necessary repairs, etc., to the buildings, etc. The new iron fence, as well as the two new outbuildings, should be painted. The late storm that swept over this portion of Georgia unroofed the building, and the same needs repairs. In many places leaks are doing much injury to the walls, as well as adding to the discomfort of the inmates.
The roof should be painted as soon as repaired, as a matter of preservation and economy. The building having been used by both armies during the war, as a hospital, the doors, walls, etc., have been defaced; the window-blinds, etc., have been much damaged, and are greatly in need of repairs and paint. Some sewerage and a coal house of close construction are also among the necessities. All inside fencing, and some hedging to protect the children from the idle and curious, would not be amiss.

Your Committee are satisfied that three thousand dollars will not be too large an appropriation to secure these requirements for the Institution; and, if they should be made with that amount, there will be but little necessity for much further outlay in years to come. And when completed, will add greatly to the Asylum and make it an ornament to the State, a comfort and blessing to its unfortunates, and an honor to its citizens who have founded and fostered this noble charity.

Respectfully submitted,

R. C. Black, Chairman.
J. E. Carter,
R. H. Crawford,
W W Mathews,
Committee.

made a report, which was read.

Mr. Hillyer, Chairman of the Joint Committee below
mentioned, made the following report, which was read:

Mr. President:

The Joint Committee appointed to investigate the matter of the appropriation made at the last session of the General Assembly in favor of the Atlanta University, and into the expediency of continuing the same, beg leave to report as follows, to-wit:

The occasion for the appointment of this Committee arose from certain charges made by H. M. Turner, in a letter published in the Savannah Morning News, which were, in substance, that his Excellency, Governor Smith, had failed to pay to this University the sum of $8,000 so appropriated, and had also failed to appoint a Board of Visitors to visit this Institution. It is true that his Excellency did not appoint a Board of Visitors for the Atlanta University, but it is also true that the Governor had no power or authority to do so, either under the charter of incorporation of the College, or under any law of Georgia. A mere reference to the report of the Comptroller General, or of the State Treasurer, will show how absolutely untrue is the charge of withholding the $8,000 appropriation. On the contrary, this sum was paid with great promptness, and its receipt has never been denied by the Trustees of this Institution. Your Committee are pleased to be able to state, in this connection, that they are assured, and believe, that the officers of this Institution are in no wise responsible for this untrue report, never having, in any manner, given authority to any one to state, or even to believe, otherwise than that this appropriation had been paid with all proper promptness.

The other branch of your Committee's duty—viz.: to report upon the expediency of continuing the appropriation—involved much trouble and investigation. The first question which your Committee were compelled to solve was, whether, in justice, this Institution had any right to have this appropriation continued.

Your Committee summoned before it, and freely examined, several gentlemen upon this subject, among whom were Mr. Orr, the State School Commissioner; Professor Broun, President of the State Agricultural College; Colonel Price, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Dahlonega College; Professor Ware, of Atlanta University; and Professor Mallon, of the Atlanta Board of Education.

From these gentlemen, and from reference to the act of Congress donating the land scrip, and from other reliable sources, your Committee has derived the facts upon which is based the following report:

The Congress of the United States donated 270,000 acres of land to the State of Georgia, to be used, upon certain conditions, for the establishment of a college for the education of the people in agricultural and mechanical arts. Acting Governor Conley, during his administration, sold the scrip for this land at the low figure of $243,000, being ninety cents per acre.

One of the conditions upon which this scrip was donated was that the State should invest a certain amount in building college buildings, etc. It is not for a moment pretended that this scrip was given solely for the white race; but it is admitted by everybody that the object of Congress was to educate every one, both white and colored, in the agricultural and mechanic arts, at little or no expense.

Inasmuch as the time within which the act of Congress required that the State should appropriate for the college building had nearly expired, and as the financial condition of Georgia at the time was such as to render it impossible or inexpedient that such an appropriation should be made, Governor Smith, upon taking charge of the office of Governor of the State of Georgia, very wisely determined to, and in fact did, donate the whole of this sum to the trustees of the University of Georgia, under a grant, a copy of which accompanies this report. The University of Georgia, having most of the buildings and apparatus necessary for instruction in those branches of science, established this Agricultural and Mechanical College at a smaller outlay of money than would otherwise have been necessary.

In the Legislature of 1871, when the colored people were strongly represented in this General Assembly, attempts were made to undo this action of the Governor, which attempts were finally overcome by an agreement, that if the donation to the State University was allowed to stand, the colored should annually have an appropriation from the Treasury, of $8,000.00 per annum. Outside of this compromise, which your Committee consider as absolutely binding, in honor, upon the members of this Legislature, we would state that grave considerations of policy, which it is unnecessary, in this report, distinctly to refer to, would impel us, in adjusting this national appropriation, to carry out the Congressional intention, both fully and fairly. Your Committee has been very reliably informed, that measures are now pending before Congress for a large increase in the amount of the donation of land scrip; and for this reason, if for no other, fairness should be our rule in adjusting the equitable claims upon that which we have already received. Your Committee would further suggest, that in the event of the passage of the Civil Rights Bill, we are assured, by Professors Brown and Ware, and the leading friends of education, both white and colored, and by our own good sense, that the State's protection of this College for the education of the colored people, would be a safeguard thrown around the State University, and the other Colleges of Georgia. Several considerations induce your Committee to recommend this appropriation directly from the Treasury, rather than by taking from the fund which has been already donated to the State University. We are assured by Professor Brown, that if the fund which has been already donated to the State University, were lessened by being made to contribute towards this appropriation, it would seriously impair the usefulness of the State Agricultural College, and of its branch at Dahlonega. Your Committee, therefore, strongly urge the passage of the bill introduced into the House by Mr. Mills of Chat­ham, as it will finally settle this complicated trouble. We have introduced this bill in lieu of asking that the claim be put in the appropriation bill, for the reason that his Excell­ency, the Governor, has informed your Committee that he could not approve of this appropriation, unless the State were protected in the expenditure of this money by the creation of a Board of Visitors. Your Committee believes that this bill amply protects the State in this respect, and gives certain other valuable rights to the people of this State, while, at the same time, it amply protects the colored people against the whims and feelings of changing Legislatures.

Your Committee, in concluding this report, will beg leave briefly to allude to the only other charge of H. M. Turner. He charges that whilst Governor Smith refused to pay the Atlanta University appropriation, he did pay a similar one in favor of the University of Georgia.

In reply to this charge, your Committee can state, with positiveness, that the amount in the appropriation bill, in favor of the State University, is not a donation, but a debt due to the University by the State of Georgia.

Nearly a century ago the State University sold certain lands to parties, for the sum of $150,000, and took the notes of the purchasers in payment. These notes not being promptly paid, the State purchased them from the Trustees of the University for $100,000, upon condition that only the annual interest of (8) eight per cent. should be always paid to the University.

This is the reason for the annual appropriation of $8,000.
We have ascertained, on good authority, that the State colclected these notes in full, and thus made a clear profit of $50,000 on the transaction.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. HILLYER,
JAS. B. DEVEAUX,
Committee on part of the Senate.

T. R. MILLS, JR.,
JOHN PEABODY,
L. M. FELTON,
Committee on part of the House.

But the true

Mr. Kibbee, Chairman of the Special Committee to investigate the claim of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co. against the State, made the following report, which was read:

Mr. President:
The Special Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives, to whom was referred the matter of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., who claim that they hold $120,000 of the bonds of the State of Georgia, as collateral security for a loan of $80,000 made by them to H. I. Kimball, on the faith of said bonds, respectfully submit—
That after a careful examination of the evidence taken concerning the validity of the bonds now held by said firm, as also of the circumstances under which said bonds were hypothecated with them, we have arrived at the conclusion that said bonds are valid and binding upon the State.
In our recommendation of the legislative action proper to be taken in relation to this claim, our three-fold guide has been the law, expediency, and moral right; and your Committee has labored faithfully, throughout the whole investigation, to know and unfold the entire truth.
We append herewith an abstract of the testimony presented to the Committee in support of said claim:
Early in September, 1870, a large number of the lithographed currency bonds issued under act of August 27, 1870, were sent to the National Park Bank of New York, to be hypothecated for the use of the State, by John Rice, its agent. Concurrent facts show that these bonds were issued as an expedient, whereby to effect temporary loans for the immediate necessities of the State; though there is nothing on the face of these bonds to indicate this fact.
They are in the usual form, are dated September 1, 1870, and have twenty years to run.

Rice hypothecated with Sage $480,000 of these bonds, and with Havermeyer $50,000. He gave $38,000 of them to Kimball, to be hypothecated for a loan to the State of $19,000. He also gave Kimball $50,000 of these bonds, on a certificate of Governor Bullock that he was entitled to them for, and on account of, the Opera House purchase.

On the 24th September, 1870, Kimball borrowed of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co. $32,000, on the faith of $45,000 of the currency bonds of the State, Nos. 526 to 538, and 701 to 732.

On the 28th of September, 1870, he hypothecated $38,000 currency bonds, Nos. 201 to 220, and 783 to 800, with J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., for the sum of $28,500, and deposited $19,000 of that sum with H. Clews & Co., to the credit of the State; and on the 22d day of November, 1870, he hypothecated with J. Boorman, Johnston & Co. $37,000 of the currency bonds, Nos. 351 to 375, and 1408 to 1419, for a loan of $27,750.

These three loans make a total loan of $88,500 (principal sum), upon the hypothecation of $120,000 of the currency bonds of the State, as collateral, as above set forth. The first two loans were at sixty days, and the last named, to-wit: that of November 22d, 1870, was at four months.

On the 25th November, 1870, the first mentioned loan was renewed at four months, and on the 29th November, 1870, the second loan for four months. On the 3d day of April, 1871, these several loans were consolidated, the interest account was paid, and a new loan was made at four months, expiring August 4, 1871, for $84,000, for which 120 bonds of the State of Georgia of $1,000 each, Nos. 201 to 220, 351 to 375, 526 to 538, 701 to 732, 783 to 800, and 1,408 to 1,419, were deposited as collateral.

And on the third day of August, 1871, the interest account and principal being paid, so as to reduce the claim to $80,000, and the renewal was effected at ninety days, expiring November 3, 1871, for $80,000, the above mentioned bonds being still retained as collateral.

The gold quarterly bonds, issued under act September 15, 1870, were ready to be placed on the market by the 1st January, 1871. One hundred thousand dollars of these bonds were paid to John H. James for the Executive Mansion, and the remainder of the original issue of $2,000,000—that is to say $1,900,000—were sent to Henry Clews & Co. as financial agents for the State, for sale. Of these bonds $250,000 were directed to be turned over to Kimball in payment of the Opera House, upon Kimball’s undertaking to return the currency bonds, which had been delivered to him, and $120,000 of which he had hypothecated with J. Boorman, Johnston & Co. as aforesaid. The evidence discloses that the bonds thus held by J. Boorman, Johnston & Co. were not taken up, but, on the contrary, the order of March 10, 1871, which first authorized Kimball to act as agent of the State at all, in relation to the cancellation and return of her bonds, gives him no authority to retire the currency bonds held by said firm.

Whether Kimball actually did or did not use the authority given him under the order of March 10, 1871, "to transfer the State account and agency, to negotiate loans, etc., to cause the currency bonds now held by the Fourth National Bank and by Messrs. Clews & Co., to be cancelled and returned to the treasury," is immaterial. It is clear that he had no authority to act in relation to the bonds held by the firm of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co. And it is equally clear that, if he had the authority to retire or cancel these bonds, he failed to do so. He did not receive from the Fourth National Bank any of the currency bonds held by that Bank. The bonds held by J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., it appears from the evidence, were never in the custody of the Fourth National Bank. On the contrary, the bonds held by this Bank, to-wit: $500,000, were long ago returned to the State treasury.
It further appears, that the bonds now held by J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., were all hypothecated with them on or by the 29th November, 1870, and that they have been held continuously by that firm, since that date to the present time. They appear to have had no notice that these bonds were intended to be retired and cancelled by the issue of quarterly gold bonds; but on the faith of these bonds, to have first loaned and then continued to renew the loans which they had made upon them, from time to time, until August 3, 1871, when the different loans were renewed for the last time, in a single loan of $80,000, maturing November 3, 1871, which loan remains unpaid, and for the payment of which they now hold the bonds in dispute.

In this connection we attach copies of the original obligations, executed and delivered by H. I. Kimball to the firm of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co. for the amount of the said several advances. We also annex a copy of the affidavit made by Isaac H. Knox, a member of said firm.

Mr. Knox swears, positively, that all of said 120 currency bonds were hypothecated with his firm by Kimball on or before November 29, 1870, and that said firm dealt with Mr. Kimball without any knowledge or suspicion of anything wrong, and in perfect good faith. We also attach a copy of the affidavit of G. W. Bachford, which verifies the statement made by the account and the affidavit of Mr. Knox. Mr. James Gardner, of Augusta, Ga., appeared before the Committee and testified to the high character and standing of the firm of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., and of the members of said firm.

Your Committee cannot presume fraud or false swearing. They must decide upon the evidence submitted, and, in the absence of all testimony to the contrary, must yield to the proofs produced.

The Bond Committee decided against the claim of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., not upon the ground that the original issue of the currency bonds was void or those bonds invalid, but because said firm received said currency bonds from H. I. Kimball after the gold quarterly bonds had been issued and put upon the market for the purpose of retiring and cancelling the currency bonds, and because said firm, by the exercise of reasonable diligence, could have ascertained this fact. See report of Bond Committee, pages 152 to 154.

The Bond Committee were clearly in error as to the facts. The currency bonds, hypothecated with the firm of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., if the evidence submitted to your Committee is credible, could not have been obtained by Kimball from the Fourth National Bank in New York at the time indicated in that report. On the contrary, they were actually deposited at that time with J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., who had received them in good faith, and without any reason calculated to excite suspicion, by the 29th November, 1870, long before Bullocks letter and authority to Kimball, and long before the gold quarterly bonds were put upon the market.

The Chairman of the Bond Committee was summoned before your Committee, and stated that said Committee had been in error as to the true facts of the case, and would doubtless have arrived at a different conclusion, had the facts been correctly understood.

Upon the evidence submitted, your Committee has been forced to the conclusion that nothing has been shown, in the original issue and circulation of the currency bonds which can authorize them to declare said bonds invalid, and not binding obligations upon the State of Georgia. They were issued under an act of the Legislature of Georgia. They bear the signature of the Governor and Secretary of State, and are under the great seal of the State. They are in the usual form, and nothing appears on their face calculated to excite suspicion. The State has, in fact, recognized the validity of the issue by using the quarterly gold bonds (admitted to be valid and binding) to take up and cancel said currency bonds; a part of said gold quarterlies were actually delivered, by the recognized financial agent of the State, to Russell Sage, to take up currency bonds held by him. The act under which the gold quarterlies were issued did not provide for the cancellation of the currency bonds; there is nothing upon the face of the act to indicate any such intent, or to put any holder of the currency bonds upon notice that any such purpose was contemplated. The Executive order of R. B. Bullock, dated March 10, 1871, long after said currency bonds were placed in the hands of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., was the first official indication of an intention to cancel the currency bonds with the gold quarterlies, and this order applied in terms to the currency bonds held at its date by the Fourth National Bank and by Messrs. Clews & Co. only. (See Report of Bond Committee, page 125.)

At this date the currency bonds in question were held by J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., and had been since Nov. 29th, 1870.

After as full an investigation as your Committee have been able to devote to this question, they have been forced to the conclusion that the currency bonds issued under the act of August 27th, 1870, were valid bonds, binding upon the State, and for which her good faith and honor stood pledged to all innocent holders. They have further been compelled to conclude, under the evidence submitted to them, that the $120,000 of these bonds hypothecated by H. I. Kimball with J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., on or before the 29th November, 1870, were received by them in good faith, and not under circumstances calculated to arouse the suspicions of brokers and money-lenders, dealing according to the usages of their business in the city of New York.

They, therefore, recommend that the Governor of the State be authorized to take up, for cancellation, the $120,000 currency bonds held by J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., and to replace them by quarterly gold bonds, now in the State Treasury, to an amount sufficient to cover the sum of $80,000, with interest from 3d November, 1871, to be ascertained and fixed by the Treasurer, but not to exceed $100,000 in said gold quarterly bonds.

CHAS. C. KIBBEE,
Chairman of Senate Committee;
and JAS. R. BROWN.

GEO. A. MERCER,
Chairman of House Committee.

Mr. President:
The minority of the Special Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives, to whom was referred the claim of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., upon one hundred and twenty thousand dollars of the currency bonds of the State of Georgia, alleged to be held as collateral security for a loan of eighty thousand dollars, made by them to H. I. Kimball on the faith of such bonds, dissent from the report of the majority of the Committee, and submit their reasons for the opinion that these bonds are not valid, and that this claim should not be paid.

The General Assembly, in the resolution approved August 26, 1872, declared all the currency bonds issued under the act of August 27, 1870, invalid, and of no binding force upon the State. In the same resolution, reference is made to this claim of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., as a claim, on their part, for an advance of $80,000, on $120,000 of such currency bonds, for the benefit of the State, and provision is made for them to furnish evidence to that effect. It will be seen, from the memorial and testimony submitted, that J. Boorman, Johnston & Co. now claim that this loan was made to H. I. Kimball on his private account, and that the bonds in question were hypothecated by him as collateral security, and that they base their claim upon the validity of the bonds alleged to have been received in good faith, in the ordinary course of trade.

We find, in the act of August 27th, 1870, in the testimony taken by the Bond Committee of the last Legislature, and in the additional testimony submitted to us, nothing to justify the conclusion that the report of that Committee, and the resolution of August 27th, 1870, were wrong. The purpose of that act was to authorize the Governor to effect a temporary loan for specified purposes, and provision was made for speedy payment.

This was notice that the issue of two millions of bonds having twenty years to run—an amount more than five times greater than was actually required—was unauthorized. A portion of the bonds held by J. Boorman, Johnston & Co. were numbered from 1408 to 1419 inclusive, proving an issue of more than fourteen hundred thousand dollars. The bonds, on the face, show that the signature of the State Treasurer to the coupons was lithographed, contrary to law, while it is stated in the body of the bond that the Treasurer had actually signed them. This should have put purchasers upon inquiry.

Therefore, conceding that these bonds were hypothecated prior to April 3, 1871, as now claimed—which we deny—that fact would not give them validity. Had the act of August 27, 1870, been passed by a General Assembly elected by the people of Georgia, this issue of bonds, under that act, was unauthorized and void. But the world knew that the State Government of Georgia did not rest upon the consent of the people; that it was imposed upon them against their will; that by reason of disfranchisement, a large proportion of intelligence and worth of the Commonwealth were denied representation; that military power was used to defeat even such partial representation as the people were able to obtain; and that the press proclaimed the purpose of the people not to recognize the fraudulent bonds with which the markets were flooded.

It is enough that Georgia has recognized and will pay all the bonds issued in conformity to law, even though aware that the greater part of the money realized from them was converted to the use of corrupt officials and their favorites. If more is required, the General Government, which is responsible for the condition of affairs in Georgia at that time, should pay their claimants, and not the burdened people of the State. A review of the testimony submitted to us, in accordance with the resolution of August 27, 1872, will disclose its insufficiency to prove that the State received the benefit of the loan of $80,000 made to H. I. Kimball.

It is remarkable that nearly eighteen months were suffered to elapse before this testimony was furnished; that no sufficient reason is given for the omission to furnish it before the Bond Committee; that the principal witness, Mr. Isaac H. Knox, managing partner of the firm of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co., when before the Bond Committee, entered into details as to other transactions with H. I. Kimball and other persons, but failed to enter into the details of this particular transaction; and that this length of time was required to discover that the $80,000 was not loaned to the State through Kimball as State agent, but was loaned to him on his own account, long before his appointment as State agent, upon the faith of the bonds.

If the books of the firm, and the notes or contracts of hypothecation, now submitted in evidence, prove the latter fact, this evidence would have established the same fact then; yet Mr. Knox, in his deposition before the Bond Committee, swears to the contrary. His deposition, made on January 24th, 1874, before Thomas L. Snead, Esq., Commissioner for the State, asserts that the loan was made to Kimball on his own account. The statements cannot be reconciled by us. No sufficient explanation has been given for the discrepancy. If a choice is to be made, we prefer to accept as correct that version of the transaction as to the character of the loan, which was given when the occurrence was recent. Therefore we do not think the Bond Committee acted upon a mistake of facts, and we do not believe that these bonds were hypothecated prior to April 3, 1871.

It is sought to make the State liable for these bonds because Kimball received them in payment for the Opera House, now the Capitol building, in Atlanta, Georgia.

The testimony does not, in our judgment, establish this fact. The Opera House was sold for $250,000, to be paid by the State, the city of Atlanta paying $130,000 of the purchase money. Of this amount $54,500 was retained by the State in the resolution of October 25, 1870, by which the purchase was authorized to be made. Russell Sage received $130,000 of the currency bonds, which have been returned to the Treasury and cancelled. This leaves but $65,500, which Kimball could have received from that source. We know this from evidence which does not come through interested persons. The State may have been defrauded in that transaction, as was customary at that time, and Kimball may have received all the currency bonds it is now contended he did receive. But it rests upon his own assertion. We decline to credit any statement from him unless fully corroborated by disinterested testimony.

The first loan is alleged to have been made to Kimball on September 24, 1870; the second loan on September 28, 1870. How could he have received these bonds in payment of the Opera House, when the purchase was not made until October 25, 1870, the time of the passage of the resolution authorizing the purchase to be made? If delivered to him prior to October 25, 1870, in his hands, these currency bonds would be doubly fraudulent, because issued without the knowledge of the State Treasurer, and contrary to law, and fraudulently obtained.

The Executive order of Governor Bullock, of March 10, 1871, directing Kimball to retire all the currency bonds, and replace them with quarterly gold bonds, is silent as to any bonds in the hands of J. Boorman, Johnston & Co. Why this omission? Why direct the cancellation of currency bonds in the hands of Clews, and others, and not these particular bonds, if then held by J. Boorman, Johnston & Co.? If Kimball received them in payment for the Opera House, at the time alleged, that fact must have been known to the Governor. He would have referred to these bonds and directed their cancellation. We submit that these facts show conclusively that he did not receive these bonds in the manner and at the time alleged, and that the report of the Bond Committee, as to the source from which he obtained them, is sustained.

With an earnest desire to ascertain the truth, and to do justice to all, we have given this claim the most thorough investigation which our other duties permitted, in the limited time. It is matter of regret to us, that our conclusions should differ from those of the majority of the Committee—gentlemen of distinction and ability. But a sense of duty impels us to withhold our assent to their recommendation, which we believe to be unwarranted by the testimony, and which we deprecate as tending to reopen questions adjudicated by solemn enactment of the General Assembly, upon a fair hearing and full investigation.

The Messenger of the Senate feels unwilling to separate from the members and officers of the Senate without giving brief, yet sincere, expression of his gratitude for the many acts of kindness which he has received from them.

He can truly say, that nothing has disturbed, for a single moment, the pleasantness of an association which now terminates with the session. Each and all have deported themselves towards him, not only as gentlemen, but as friends.

Though the present parting may be forever, he cannot, while memory performs its functions, forget to esteem, with the most sincere and grateful regard, the noble spirits who form the Senate and her attachés.

A tangible memento, which was their gift, shall not only be treasured by him personally while living, but shall pass to his descendants with the tradition that it was the gift of men who illustrated, by their lives, every virtue that ennobles the human race.

In bidding adieu to Senators and officers, he offers the earnest wish that in each hour of their future they may be attended by prosperity and happiness.

Mr. Brown moved that the bill lie on the table, which was lost.

Pending the consideration of this matter the hour of 12 o'clock P. M. having arrived, the President made the following remarks:

Senators:

The hand upon the dial plate signifies the hour which demands the adjournment of this Senate, and our separation. To many of us, in all human probability, this separation will be final. This, to me, is a sad thought, and as I rise in my place to perform the last duty required of me as your presiding officer, that of declaring this Senate adjourned without a day, the Chamber seems solemnized with it. The gloom of this thought is relieved alone by the memory of that unfailing kindness and courtesy upon your part, which has sustained and encouraged me through the long period which I have been your presiding officer, and which, I assure you, I shall remember with pleasure, and gratitude through all the coming years of my life. That we have in our daily labors been cheered with that abundance of good will, cordiality and charity towards each other which seldom characterizes a brotherhood, you must all feel and appreciate.

That the daily action of your body has been inspired with a high, pure and lofty desire to serve your State faithfully and patriotically, free from all designs of mere selfish ambition, has not only been attested again and again by your action and conduct upon this floor, but your works will follow after and stand as living monuments to your wisdom and integrity.

But few legislative bodies have had presented to them an equal opportunity to do good, and but few, I imagine, have ever assembled surrounded and environed with greater difficulties. The good you have accomplished will ever vindicate your patriotism, and the obstacles which you have overcome will testify to your wisdom.

Dark indeed was the day of our convocation—an empty treasury and a prostrated credit. To add to the gloom and darkness of that hour, there was a feeling of despondency pervading the country well calculated to impress the minds of the most ardent patriots with mistrust in their abilities to conduct the State safely through the manifold dangers which surrounded her. With great earnestness and singleness of purpose, you applied yourselves assiduously to the task; and, under your guidance, aided by your compatriots of the other branches of the government, she has weathered the storm, and stands to-day the peer of the proudest of her sisters. For your inspired wisdom and heroic fidelity, manifested on so many occasions during the period of your arduous services, a good people will not fail to award you the plaudit of "well done, good and faithful servants."

Unlike those who labor for mere applause, you have not consumed your time nor wasted the people's money in needless debates upon questions which more properly belonged to the national legislature, but your labors have been devoted mainly to measures affecting Georgia alone.

In refusing to be drawn aside from the task of relieving your State from the embarrassments consequent upon a long period of misrule—surrounded, as you have been, by vexed political problems, the solution of which promised but little good to any one—your course has been both wise and patriotic.

While your course has not been that of partisans, you have maintained, upon all questions involving the great cardinal principles of Democratic Government, a position which entitles you to the confidence and esteem of every lover of liberty, and every friend of the Constitution.
You have been firm, without being aggressive; you have stood by the truth, neither compromising or sacrificing principle; and, by your justice, wisdom and moderation, have commanded the respect even of your enemies.

In conclusion, Senators, allow me to return to you my heartfelt thanks for the charity and forbearance which you have manifested towards my imperfections and shortcoming as your presiding officer, and for the kindness and courtesy you have extended me upon all occasions. Trusting that upon your return home to the bosom of your families, and to mingle again with those whom you have served so faithfully and so well, you may be met with the cheer and smiles of rosy health, and a proper appreciation by your constituents for your noble efforts for them and for your State, and that Heaven may bless and prosper you and those you love, I bid you all adieu.

The President then declared the Senate adjourned sine die.
