Guerry, the Senator elect from the County of Quitman, as their President, and Fred. H. West, Esq., of the County of Lee, as Secretary, and are now ready for business, and that a committee of three be appointed on the part of the Senate, to join such committee as may be appointed by the House of Representatives, to inform his Excellency, the Governor that both branches of the General Assembly are now organized, and ready to receive any communication he may have to make.

In pursuance of which the President appointed Messrs. Cone, Miller, and Harris of Worth.

Mr. Cone offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the rules of the last Senate be adopted for the government of the present Senate, until altered or amended.

The following Senators appeared and were sworn in by the President, and took their seats, to-wit:

From the county of Whitfield, the Hon. Wm. R. Moore.
From the county of Troup the Hon. B. H. Hill.
Mr. Paine offered the following resolution.
Resolved, That Editors and Reporters for the Press in Georgia, be furnished by the Messenger, under the direction of the President, with convenient seats and desks on the floor of the Senate. Which was taken up, read and agreed to.

The following message was received from the House, by Mr. Diamond, their Clerk, to-wit:

Mr. President—I am directed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that they have organized by the election of the Hon. Isaiah T. Irvin, member elect from the county of Wilkes, as their Speaker, and James J. Diamond, Esq., of the county of DeKalb, as their Clerk, and that they are now ready to proceed to business. I am also directed to inform the Senate that the House has passed a resolution appointing Messrs. Lester of Cobb, Broyles of Whitfield, Lewis of Greene, Thrasher of Fulton and Ely of Dougherty, committee to join the committee appointed by the Senate, to wait upon his Excellency the Governor, and inform him that both branches of the General Assembly are now organized, and ready to receive any communication he may desire to make.

On motion of Mr. Johnson of Clayton, the Senators proceeded to draw and choose their seats.

Mr. Paine offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to revise and amend the rules of the Senate; which was agreed to.

In pursuance of which the President appointed Messrs. Paine, Harris of Worth, and Tracy, as that committee.

Mr. Seward moved to suspend the rules of the Senate for the purpose of introducing a bill; which was agreed to.

Mr. Seward introduced a bill to be entitled an act to change the time of holding the Superior Courts in the counties of Lowndes, Brooks and Thomas in the Southern Judicial District; which was read the first time.

Mr. Miller offered the following resolutions, which were read:

Whereas, The late attempt at Harper's Ferry, in the State of Virginia, to excite a portion of the slaves of the South to insurrection, has produced the highest degree of indignation in the minds of the Southern people against the perpetrators of that outrage, their aiders and abettors, and affords just ground to apprehend a renewal of their efforts in other places; and whereas, the action of Governor Wise and President Buchanan meets with our unqualified approbation, we deem it incumbent upon the members of the Legislature of the State of Georgia, to give the most authoritative expression of their sentiments. Therefore,

Resolved, That we regard the effort to excite the slaves of the South to a servile insurrection, with the most intense indignation, and trust that the parties to this insane and treasonable plot, may meet with the most prompt and signal punishment, believing, as we do, that while it will be meting out a just retribution for their crime, it will exert a wholesome influence in deterring others from countenancing similar movements.

Resolved, That the prompt and energetic action of Governor Wise of Virginia, and President Buchanan, in suppressing the outbreak at Harper's Ferry, and in their efforts to capture the insurgents, evince a degree of manliness and patriotism, honorable alike to them, and worthy of our warm admiration as citizens of a Southern State.

Resolved, That we pledge the State of Georgia to uphold and support the State of Virginia, and the President of the United States, in the position they have assumed in connection with this unfortunate affair, and we earnestly counsel the utmost vigilance in guarding against the recurrence of a similar conspiracy in our own borders, or elsewhere at the South.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing preamble and resolutions be transmitted by the Governor of Georgia, to the Governor and Legislature of Virginia, and the President of the United States.

Mr. Printup offered the following resolution:

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives, That both branches of the General Assembly do convene in the Representative Chamber on Saturday, the 5th inst., at 10 o'clock, A. M., to proceed to the election of the Secretary of State, Comptroller General, Treasurer, Surveyor General, Director of the Bank of the State of Georgia, and State Printer.

On motion the rules of the Senate were suspended, and the same was taken up.

Mr. Seward moved to amend the resolution, by inserting the words, "United States Senator," which was lost.

The resolution was then agreed to.

Mr. Cone, Chairman of the committee appointed to wait upon his Excellency the Governor reported that they had discharged the duty assigned them, and that his Excellency the Governor, would communicate a message to both branches of the General Assembly this day at 11 o'clock.

The following Message was received from his Excellency the Governor, by Mr. Waters, his Secretary.

Mr. President—I am directed by his Excellency the Governor, to deliver to the Senate his Annual Message, with accompanying documents.

On motion of Mr. Cone, the Annual Message of his Excellency the Governor, was taken up and read, as follows:
GOVERNOR’S MESSAGE.

Fellow-Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives:

In the seventeenth Section of the first Article of the Constitution of this State, it is declared that “every bill shall be read three times, and on three separate days, in each branch of the General Assembly, before it shall pass, unless in case of actual invasion or insurrection;” and in the same section it is further declared, that “all Acts shall be signed by the President in the Senate and the Speaker in the House of Representatives.”

BILLS LOST, WHICH WERE NOT ENGROSSED AND ENROLLED.

On the day of the adjournment of the Legislature, at its last session, so large a number of bills passed both Houses that it was not possible for the Engrossing and Enrolling Clerks to copy and prepare all for the signatures of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, before the hour of adjournment. Consequently, all bills in this condition were lost. Had they been enrolled after the Legislature had adjourned, they could not then have been signed by the President in the Senate nor by the Speaker in the House of Representatives.

NOT SIGNED BY PRESIDING OFFICERS.

A number of other Bills which had been properly enrolled and prepared for signature, but which, by some oversight in the hurry of business, had not been signed by either one or the other of those officers, were brought to the Executive Office, about the time of adjournment; and finding, on examination, after the Houses had adjourned, that the constitutional provision above mentioned had not been complied with, I withheld my signature from them, believing that it could not then give them the force of law. These Bills are herewith returned to the respective Houses in which they originated. It is believed that many of them were never read a second time, on any previous day of the session, but that, when they came up in their order for a second reading, the captions or titles only, and not the entire Bills, were read. The Constitution is imperative that not only the title, but the Bill, shall be read, as well on the second as on the first or third reading. If any one reading may be dispensed with, all may; and the Bill, no matter how important, may be passed upon three readings of its title only, while its provisions are unknown to many of the members of each House.

HASTY AND INCOSIDERATE LEGISLATION CONDEMNED.

The numerous examples of hasty and inconsiderate legislation, which we so often witness, are becoming a source of great detriment to the State, and should be discouraged by all prudent legislators. One of the great evils of the age is, that we legislate too much. As a general rule, the failure of a Bill that has merit in it is less to be regretted than the passage of a bad law. Wholesome rules of law with which the people have become familiar, should not be changed, unless for good cause, after very mature deliberation. A failure on the part of the Legislature to observe this rule, has involved our laws in much uncertainty, and has often kept the people in ignorance of their true meaning. Our legislators have frequently given too little attention to their duties during the earlier part of the session, and have left the greater part of the business of the session to be transacted within the last few days before adjournment. Hence, their inability to give to each important measure, brought before them at the close of the session, the attention and deliberation necessary to its proper disposition. The consequence has been, that we have had much inconsistent and unwise legislation. If we would learn wisdom by experience, we might do much to correct this evil in future. I feel it my duty to use all the influence and power of my position to that end. I shall not, therefore, hesitate to lay aside and withhold my sanction from all such bills passed in the hurry and confusion which usually precede an adjournment, as fail to command the approbation of my judgment, together with all such as have not been plainly and correctly enrolled and signed by the proper officers.

TRIVIAL, LOCAL, INDIVIDUAL AND CLASS LEGISLATION.

I would further suggest the propriety of dispensing with a great deal of the trivial, local, private and class legislation which is introduced into almost every General Assembly, much of which is useless because it benefits no one, and much of it is unjust and mischievous, because it benefits a few individuals at the expense of the many. Let it be remembered, that each useless local Act introduced and passed cumber the Journals and the pamphlet of Acts, and that the State pays out of money raised from the people by taxation, for printing 4,000 copies of the Journals of each House and 5,000 copies of the Act itself, and that one day spent by the General Assembly in the passage of such Acts costs the State over $2,500 00, in pay of members, officers and other expenses. A proper and just regard for economy demands reformation in this particular. The same objections that are applicable to trivial and local legislation, apply to much of our private or individual and class legislation, with many other objections on account of its injustice and inequality. It would, in my opinion, be much better for the Legislature, with few exceptions, to lay down general rules of law, and let all alike regulate their conduct by them.

Exercise of the Veto Power.

Entertaining these views, I have, during my term in office, frequently withheld my sanction from bills of the character above described. In so doing, I do not consider that I have been wanting in respect for the General Assembly. The Constitution has assigned to the Governor, as well as to the General Assembly, official powers and duties, and the people should hold him responsible for the independent exercise of his official powers, as well as the faithful discharge of his official duties. Neither House of the General Assembly feels that it is wanting in respect for the other when it refuses to pass a Bill which it does not approve, though it may have been passed by the other. The Constitution declares that the Governor “shall have the revision of all Bills passed by both Houses, before the same shall become laws;” and it only gives to the General Assembly power to pass laws, “notwithstanding his dissent,” by two-thirds of both Houses.

If the Governor, therefore, out of respect for the two Houses, signs a Bill which his judgment does not approve, he denies to the people the exercise of that Executive revision, which, under the Constitution, they have a right to demand, as a protection against hasty or unwise legislation.

New Counties.

I beg leave to call the attention of the General Assembly to our new county legislation. There may have existed a necessity, a few years since, for the creation of several new counties. Some of the old ones, which were laid out when the population was very sparse, were found to be too large for convenience when they became more densely settled, and legislative interference became necessary. Since the precedent of forming new counties has been established, it is believed it has already been followed further than the public interest may have required. Bills for the organization of new counties covering small strips of territory, are now passed, which, ten years since, would have met with no favor in the Legislature.

The number of applications for new counties increases in a ratio almost double that of the number made at each session. We now have 132 counties in the State. The whole amount of tax paid into the State Treasury by each of a considerable number of our counties, is less, by several hundred dollars, than the amount drawn by each of them from the Treasury in payment of its members, and for other usual and necessary purposes. This deficiency of several hundred dollars must, therefore, be made up to each out of tax paid by others. I recommend in future, as a general rule, to which I think there should be few, if any, exceptions, that no new county be formed which does not embrace within its limits a territory at least as large as the average size of the present counties, without reducing the old counties from which it is taken, each to a less area than that proposed for the new county; and that no such Act be passed until the Legislature is satisfied that the State tax to be paid by the proposed new county, when formed, will be at least sufficient to reimburse the State for all moneys which she will be compelled to pay from her Treasury on account of its formation; and that each county from which territory shall have been taken to form the new one, will be left with the like ability.

Reduction of the Number of Senators and Representatives.

The further fact that the number of Senators and Representatives is increasing with the increase of the number of new counties, is, to my mind, another reason why few if any other new counties should be formed. Our legislative Assembly is already much too large, expensive and unwieldy. A Senate composed of one hundred and thirty-two members differs but little from a House of Representatives, except in name. It is almost impossible for so large a body to maintain that calm and dignified decorum, and to act with that coolness, deliberation and caution, which are indispensable to the proper discharge of the high functions of a wise and grave Senate; which, when properly organised, is justly looked to as one of the strongest bulwarks of liberty in a republican government.

I would, therefore, most respectfully urge upon your consideration, the importance of an early change of the Constitution, so as to reduce the number of Senators and Representatives. I would suggest that the Senate be reduced to thirty-three members, which would be an average of one for every four counties; and the House of Representatives to one hundred and fifty-two members, which would be two to each of twenty counties having the highest representative population, and one to each of the remaining counties. Each of these bodies would then be quite large enough for the proper discharge of all its constitutional functions. Each county would have a distinct and separate voice in the House of Representatives, the twenty strongest having each two Representatives. The adoption of this suggestion would reduce the present number of Senators and Representatives, from three hundred and one, to one hundred and eighty-five, being a reduction of one hundred and sixteen. Upon the score of just economy, this reduction should be made, if the efficiency and wisdom of the General Assembly will be nothing impaired by it. Let us look at the question for a moment, in this light. Should the example of the last General Assembly, the members of which voted themselves each six dollars per day, be followed as a precedent, (the propriety of which has been doubted,) these one hundred and sixteen Senators and Representatives will, in future, draw from the Treasury six hundred and ninety-six dollars per day, during the session. If the session continue but forty days, this will amount to $27,840 00 each session. To this add $31 00 to each, which is about the average mileage of a member, and the mileage of the one hundred and sixteen would amount to $3,596 00; which, added to the per diem pay as above fixed, makes a total of $31,436 00, thereby saving to the State, should the proposed reduction be made, that sum, each session of forty days; should the session be longer, the sum will be greater. But it is believed, now that the sessions are annual, that the people do not expect them to be protracted beyond forty days, and that no sufficient reason exists for so doing, as all the necessary business, with diligent attention during the earlier part of the session, may be dispatched within that time. The above sum is now raised annually by taxation from the people, and is, in my opinion, expended in a manner worse than useless—as the General Assembly, under its present organization, is believed to be a less safe and efficient body than it would be if organized upon the plan above proposed. For the purpose of ascertaining the sense of the people directly upon this subject, I recommend that a law be passed by the present Legislature, authorizing the call of a convention of the people, to take into consideration the propriety of the proposed change, or such other change as will accomplish the object, together with other necessary alterations of the Constitution. Should a reasonable reduction be made, the saving of expense at a single session of the Legislature would nearly pay the expenses of the convention. The Legislature, as at present organized, including per diem and mileage of members, clerk hire, &c., costs the State about $2,650 00 for every day it is in session.
Pay of Clerks and Per Diem of Members Should be Fixed by Law.

In this connection, I will remark that the item of clerk hire, alone, has frequently been most exorbitant and unreasonable. It is believed that much of this unnecessary expense has resulted from the practice too often adopted by the Chief Clerk and Secretary, of employing a large number of supernumeraries. During the session of 1853, and 1854, the clerk hire in the House of Representatives amounted to $24,410, and in the Senate to $7,346. Since then, a law has been passed, limiting the number of clerks to be employed; and I recommend a further enactment, fixing the pay of each clerk, except two enrolling clerks, at $4 00 per day, and the enrolling clerks each at $5 00 per day. There would be no difficulty in obtaining the services of any number of clerks needed, at these prices, who are quite as competent as those heretofore employed at six and seven dollars per day. The Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House of Representatives, during the last session of the Legislature, (which lasted only thirty-nine days,) received each seven dollars per day, and an additional sum of five hundred dollars, appropriated to each. This appropriation and per diem together amounted to nineteen dollars and ninety-seven cents, each, per day, besides all the contingent expenses incident to the office of each, which were also paid out of the Treasury. Neither of these officers had, I think, five days of official labor to perform after the adjournment of the Legislature.

I recommend that the compensation of each of these officers, be fixed by law; and I would suggest that the actual contingent expenses of the office of each be paid, and that each receive not exceeding ten dollars per day for the time he is engaged in the duties of his office, without further appropriation. I am satisfied that it would also be better to fix the per diem of the members of the Legislature by law, than to leave it, as heretofore, to be determined by themselves at each session.

On account of the lateness of the hour in the session when the bill appropriating money for the support of the government, is usually passed and presented to the Governor for his sanction, he is sometimes left to the alternative of giving it his sanction when it contains items of appropriation, which are, in his judgment, unnecessary and exorbitant, and which he does not approve; or, of vetoing it and calling an extra session of the legislature to pass an appropriation bill without those items; which would cost a much larger sum than the amount contained in the parts of the bill to which he objects.
If the compensation of the members and of all officers of every character connected with the body, were fixed by law, much of this embarrassment would be avoided; as any proposed change would then be brought up in a separate bill and acted upon with reference to its individual merits. Indeed, propriety would seem to dictate that no appropriation of doubtful expediency, should be fastened upon the regular appropriation bill, the legitimate object of which is only to appropriate the several sums of money which are known to be necessary to support the government. All other proposed appropriations should be acted upon separately, leaving each to stand or fall on its own merits.

Change of the Constitution.

In accordance with my recommendation, a bill passed each branch of the General Assembly, at its last session, by a constitutional majority, entitled, "An Act to change the 1st Section of the 3d article of the Constitution of this State." The object of the proposed amendment is, to authorize a change of venue in the trial of criminal cases, when, in the opinion of the presiding Judge, the ends of justice may require it; so that a defendant indicted for murder or other crime, in one county, may, if the Judge deems it necessary to the ends of justice, be transferred to, and tried in another county adjoining the one in which the crime is charged to have been committed. The bill was properly enrolled, and was signed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, but was not signed by the President of the Senate. As the Constitution requires that a bill of this character shall pass two successive legislatures, each by a two-third majority, before it shall become a part of the Constitution, and as a diversity of opinion seems to exist among members of the legal profession, as to the necessity of the signatures of the presiding officers of the Legislature during the Session at which the bill was first passed, I thought it advisable to publish the bill, as required by the Constitution, (which has been done,) and to submit it, with the facts, for your consideration. I deem the proposed change of the Constitution an important one, for the reasons given in my last Annual Message.

Amendment of the Penal Code.

While on the subject of criminal law, I desire to call the attention of the legislature to other changes, which I deem important. When a defendant, under the present law is convicted of a crime, the punishment of which is death or penitentiary imprisonment, and the case is carried to the Supreme Court and the judgment of the Court below is affirmed, the defendant, if he is not out on bail, must remain in jail, a charge to the county, until the next term of the Superior Court, which is sometimes nearly six months, before he can be re-sentenced. To avoid this delay of justice and the consequent unnecessary expense to the county, in such cases, I would suggest that the law be so changed as to authorize the Judge of the Superior Court in such cases, to re-pronounce the sentence, in vacation at Chambers, upon motion of the Solicitor General without delaying the execution of the law till the next regular term of the Court; which delay sometimes enables the guilty to escape, and which in almost every case, imposes a heavy tax upon the county.

By the 18th section of the 14th Division of the Penal Code, it is enacted "that any person against whom a true bill of indictment is found for an offence not affecting his or her life, may demand a trial at the term when the indictment is found, or at the next succeeding term thereafter, which demand shall be placed upon the Minutes of the Court, and if such person shall not be tried at the term when the demand is made, or at the next succeeding term thereafter, Provided, that at both terms there were juries empanelled and qualified to try such prisoner, then he or she shall be absolutely discharged and acquitted of the offence charged in the indictment."

The Supreme Court first held that the defendant might make the demand at any term after the finding of the bill of indictment. They have since held that the demand can only be made at the term when the indictment is found, or at the next succeeding Term. For the purpose of making the law more certain, I recommend that this Section be so amended as to permit the defendant to make the demand at the Term when the bill of indictment is found and a statement of the case read in open Court by the Solicitor General, or at the first or second term thereafter, or at the third Term if the Solicitor fails to read the statement of the case in open Court at the term when the bill is found, or to notify the defendant or his counsel that the bill has been found true by the Grand Jury. And on the other hand, for the purpose of promoting the ends of justice by securing a speedy trial of offenders, I recommend such change in the law as shall compel defendants in criminal cases, to come to trial, at furthest, by the second Term of the Court after the Term, at which the bill of indictment is found, unless further time be given by the Court on account of very special Providential cause.

PARDONING POWER.

During my term in office, I have seldom exercised the pardoning power. While I admit that there are rare cases, as in the case of newly discovered evidence after the conviction, which might reasonably have changed the result, had it been before the Court on the trial, and a few other cases, where the power should be exercised, I do not doubt that its exercise may be, and often is, much abused. I have therefore thought it my duty to exercise it with great caution, believing that it is far better, as a general rule, for the safety and welfare of society, that the decisions of the Courts and juries deliberately made, with all the facts before them, should not be disturbed. I have no sympathy with that sickly sentimentality, which always, forgetful of the injuries inflicted upon the innocent by the guilty criminal, would in the name of mercy, turn loose upon the community every felon in whose favor a sympathetic appeal can be made. I have not only refused the exercise of the pardoning power—except in a few very special cases, such as in my opinion were contemplated by those who formed our Constitution—but I have also refused to respite defendants in cases of murder, when, in my opinion, after an examination of the evidence, the finding of the jury, and the judgment pronounced by the Court, were in conformity to law, and the principles of justice. In such cases my opinion is, that the officers of the law should not be hindered in its execution; and I have not, therefore, suspended the sentence, nor referred the case to your consideration. The Constitution does not say that the Governor, in such cases, shall grant a respite, but only that he may do it. It is evident, therefore, that it is made his duty to exercise a sound discretion, in determining whether or not the case is proper to be referred to the decision of the Legislature.

Penitentiary, and State Asylums.

For a statement of the present condition and management of the Penitentiary, the Lunatic Asylum, the Academy for the Blind, and of the Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb, I refer you to the respective Reports of the persons in charge of those institutions.

General Eli McConnell, Principal Keeper of the Penitentiary, in his official capacity, by my instruction, took control of its repairs and reconstruction, as contemplated by the act of the last Legislature, which appropriated $30,000 for that purpose. He is erecting the buildings with convict labor; and as each building is completed, the value of its construction is to be estimated by good mechanics, who are disinterested, and the sum awarded by them, is to be paid to him as Principal Keeper for the use of the Penitentiary, out of the appropriation. The appropriation will not, probably, be sufficient to defray the expense of the erection of all necessary buildings for Work-shops, Dining-room, Chapel, extension of Cell building, &c. After these shall have been completed, it is important that the walls he repaired and parts of them entirely rebuilt. I therefore recommend an additional appropriation of twenty five thousand dollars, to complete the necessary repairs and reconstruction.
W. & A. Railroad.

For information in reference to the condition, management and incomes of the Western and Atlantic Railroad, for the year ending 30th September last, you are referred to the Report of Dr. John W. Lewis, its very vigilant, efficient and worthy Superintendent. I feel that I do but an act of justice when I say, that in my opinion, the State has at no time had connected with the Road, in any capacity, a more competent, trustworthy and valuable public servant. It will be seen by reference to his Report, that the sum of $402,000 in cash has been paid into the State Treasury from the net earnings of the Road during the fiscal year ending 30th Sept. last; and it will be seen by the report of the State Treasurer and Comptroller General, that four hundred and twenty thousand dollars have been paid into the Treasury during the fiscal year ending 20th Oct, 1859. The old iron on about 25 miles of the track, has, since 1st January, 1858, been taken up and its place supplied with heavy new rail. The Road-bed and all the superstructure and machinery are kept in excellent order. No new debts are contracted which are not promptly paid monthly, if demanded; and no agent appointed or retained in office during my administration, is known to be a defaulter to the amount of a single dollar.

I confess that the amount paid into the Treasury from the road, during the past year, has somewhat exceeded my expectations. For this I am indebted not only to the Superintendent, but also to the untiring efforts of the honest, industrious, and faithful officers and agents associated with him and under his control.

It has, I think, been clearly shown within the last two years that the Road owned and controlled by the State is a productive piece of property; and with proper management in future, I feel safe in the prediction that it will remain so, and that the incomes from it will continue to increase with the increase of population, business and wealth in the country.

So long as the Road remains under my control, I invite strict scrutiny into its management; for I subscribe fully to the doctrine that it is proper to hold public functionaries to rigid accountability. And I am willing that judgment be pronounced upon my official conduct under the application of this rule.

In the construction of the Road under State management, it is not doubted that there were in many instances too lavish an expenditure of the public money, and that it cost a much larger sum than it should have cost. I am not prepared, on that account, however, to admit that any good reason exists why a State may not manage a great public work of this character with as much honesty, economy and success as a corporation. To accomplish this object it is only necessary that the officer having the appointing power select agents who are competent, honest and faithful; that he lay down strict rules for the government of their conduct; that he give so much of his individual attention to the work as will enable him to know whether or not those rules are violated; and, in every case where he discovers he has been deceived in the selection of a proper agent, or where an agent has palpably violated the rules laid down for his government, that he have the moral firmness and nerve, without regard to personal considerations, to apply the corrective, by a prompt removal. The observance of these rules is, in my opinion, a duty of the appointing power, from which he should never shrink. If he performs this duty he can seldom fail of success.

Regarding it as a matter of interest, I have endeavored, at the expense of considerable labor, to ascertain the original cost of the State Road; but I find it impossible, for the reasons given in the able and very valuable report of Col. P. Thweatt, Comptroller General, who has also given much attention to this subject to arrive at a conclusion with entire accuracy. It is believed that the Report of Mr. Garnett, then Chief Engineer, made in 1847, of the amount expended to that time, is about correct. He estimates the whole cost to the date of his Report, at $3,305,165 88. Since that time there has been appropriated to the construction of the Road, its equipment, &c, in Cash, and in the bonds of the State, the sum of $1,136,366 27. Add these sums together, and we have $4,441,532 15, as the total amount appropriated by the Legislature, and paid out of the State Treasury for the construction and equipment of the Road. This, in my opinion, is a very near approximation to correctness.

I am aware that some persons, in accounting for the gross incomes of the Road since its completion, have charged large amounts of these incomes to construction. These sums were, I think, generally more properly chargeable to repairs, &c. than to original construction. As an instance, the Etowah bridge was burned down some years after the road had been in operation, and it became necessary to build a new one. The cost of this could not properly be chargeable to original construction, but was, I think, properly chargeable to repairs on account of casualty. A portion of the iron originally laid down on the track became so much worn as to be unsafe, and it was necessary to procure and lay down new iron in its place. The cost of this also was properly chargeable to repairs and not to original construction. If a Depot building was sufficient, when the Road was completed, to accommodate all who had business at the place, but which afterwards, on account of the decay of the structure or increase of business at the location, was found to be insufficient, and it became necessary to build a new one, its cost could not justly be charged to original construction.

Without multiplying instances of this kind, I conclude that as soon as the Legislature had appropriated a sufficient sum to complete the road, and to place upon it the superstructure and machinery necessary to the transaction of the business offered by the country to the road, the original construction account was at an end, and that all such enlargement of buildings, reconstruction of bridges, renewals of superstructure, repairs of track, &c, &c, as were afterwards required for the safety of transportation and travel over the road, or for the accommodation of increased business, is properly chargeable to expense of keeping up the road, and not to expense of building and putting it into operation. Had the road remained unproductive to the Treasury for a quarter of a century, on account of bad crops, casualties from fire or flood, commercial pressure, bad management, or from any other cause, it could only have been evidence that the original investment was an unfortunate one for the time; but surely the repairs made and all the State's losses during that time, could not, in justice to the officers afterwards in charge of the road, be properly chargeable to original cost in calculating the per cent which the road might afterwards pay upon the original investment. Estimating the original cost, therefore, at $4,441,532 15, the road during the past fiscal year (ending 20th October last,) has paid into the Treasury of the State nearly nine and a half per cent upon the original investment. And it should not be forgotten in this connection, that it was built at a time when railroading was not well understood, and that it was built as a public work, at a cost greatly more than would have been expended in its construction, even at that time, by a private company.

Had the same economy been used which is usually practiced by private companies, the whole cost of the Road would not probably have exceeded, if it even had amounted to $3,000,000.

The sum paid into the Treasury during the past year is fourteen per cent upon that sum. In comparing the present management of the Road with Company management, it is certainly just to the present officers, who did not build it, to count the per cent upon such sum only as the Road should reasonably have cost had it been built by a Company, and not upon such sum as it may have cost under the extravagant system which is sometimes practiced in the original construction of public works.
GEORGIA MILITARY INSTITUTE.

It is to be regretted that the Georgia Military Institute at Marietta has not been as prosperous the last year as its friends had anticipated. This may be the result chiefly of our defective legislation for its government. As at present organized, it is under the control and management of a Superintendent, a Board of Trustees and a Board of Visitors, whose powers, respectively, are not well defined. In this conflict of jurisdiction, that decision and dispatch is wanting which is absolutely necessary in maintaining government in the Institute. The consequence has been that the number of Cadets is greatly diminished, and the character of the Institute has suffered in public estimation.

At the end of the last term, Col. A. V. Brumby, the late able Superintendent, and Capt. McConnell, late Commandant, resigned their respective offices; and Maj. W. F. Capers, who has for a number of years held a similar position in our sister State of South Carolina, has been elected Superintendent, and Capt. W. J. McGill, of Charleston, has been elected Commandant. These gentlemen have both accepted, and are now at their respective posts, giving, as far as I can learn, general satisfaction. It is to be hoped that with the necessary legislation for the government of the Institute, they may soon be able to restore it in public confidence and raise it to a high state of prosperity. Maj. Capers yielded reluctantly to the call of the authorities of the Institute, and only upon the guaranty given by the joint Board of Trustees and Visitors that his salary should be made secure. The position which he resigned in Charleston was paying him as large a salary as he is promised in this State, and it was there secured by the State. I therefore recommend that the sum of $2,500, be appropriated to pay the salary of the Superintendent, and that this be an annual appropriation for that purpose till the incomes of the Institute become sufficient to defray all its expenses and pay the salaries of all its Professors.

By a joint resolution of the last General Assembly the Governor, in connection with the Board of Trustees, was authorized and empowered, (should they deem it necessary for the welfare of the Institution,) to employ an additional Professor for the same. By virtue of this authority they engaged the services of the Rev. John W. Baker; but on account of the reduction of the number of Cadets occurring soon after his appointment, and the consequent diminution of the incomes of the Institute, he has not received his salary. As he was employed by authority of the legislature, good faith requires that a sum sufficient to pay his salary for the time he has served, be appropriated.
At their last joint meeting, the Board of Trustees and the Board of Visitors, after much deliberation, agreed upon a bill to be laid before the legislature, proposing such changes in the law for the future government of the Institute as experience has shown to be necessary. Among other things it is proposed to abolish both the old Boards, and to substitute in their place a single Board, to be charged with the entire government of the Institute. It is also proposed to connect the Institute with, and make it part of, the Military organization of the State, and to give to the Commander-in-Chief, the same control over its officers which he has over other Military officers of the State. This it is believed, will secure more strict military government, which is considered indispensably necessary to the success and usefulness of the Institute. I therefore, respectfully recommend the passage of the bill proposed by the joint Boards.

MILITARY SYSTEM—VOLUNTEER CORPS.

For the purpose of giving new life and energy to our military system, which is now almost entirely neglected, the importance of affording to a portion of the youth of our State a thorough military education, cannot be too highly appreciated. The people of many of the States of this Union are falling behind most of the civilized nations of the earth in military training. Within the last twenty years the more powerful nations of Europe have probably advanced more in military science and skill, and in all the arts of war, than they had during any previous century. It is believed that no one will doubt the correctness of this remark who has observed attentively the late struggles between the contending powers in the Crimea and in Italy.

There is not a more brave and patriotic people on earth than those of the United States; and there is probably no nation whose militia is so reliable on the field of battle, yet in this day of constant advancement in Military science, those who depend alone upon patriotism and valor enter the field, even in their own defence, under great disadvantage. Should our country be invaded by any of the great powers of the other hemisphere, our people would be found at the commencement of the struggle to be almost destitute of military training. Until this deficiency could be supplied, they might be unable to contend with the disciplined troops of a regular army, without great loss of life and much detriment to our national character.

There is probably no State in the Union, certainly not one of the old thirteen, in which military training is more neglected than in our own. We know not how soon we may be brought to the practical test of defending ourselves against the assaults of foreign ambition, or the more unnatural attacks of those who ought to be our brethren, but whose fanaticism is prompting them to a course which is daily weakening the ties that bind us together as one people. The father of his country has admonished us to prepare for war in time of peace. If we would profit by his advice it is necessary that we reorganize our military system. I do not hesitate to say, that the State should offer every reasonable inducement for the organization and training of volunteer military corps, as the best and most efficient mode of reviving the military spirit among our people. This cannot be done until she has made provision for arming such companies. At present, the only provision for this purpose, is the distribution of the small quota of arms which the State receives annually from the General Government, and which is wholly inadequate to the demand. The consequence is, that many of our volunteer companies are without arms, while many others would be organized were it known that they could be supplied with suitable arms.

Frequent applications are made to this Department for arms with a view to the organization of new volunteer companies; and when those who apply are informed that they cannot be supplied, all further attempt to organize such companies are abandoned.

For the purpose of encouraging the organization of volunteer corps, I recommend that all laws now in force requiring the performance of military service other than that performed by volunteer corps, be suspended, except in case of insurrection or invasion; and that a commutation tax be assessed and collected, from each person of twenty one years of age, or upwards, who is subject to do military duty in the State, and who is not a member of an organized volunteer corps which drilled at least once a month throughout the year, preceding the collection of the tax. This tax should be large enough to raise a sum sufficient to arm the entire Volunteer force of the State, with the latest and most approved style of arms. As soon as a sufficient sum shall be collected in this way, I recommend, as a means of procuring the contemplated arms, that it be expended in the erection at some suitable location in the State, of a State Foundary for the manufactory of arms and other munitions of war. This would make the State much more independent in case of emergency. The God of Nature has supplied us, in rich profusion, with all the materials necessary to the accomplishment of this purpose.

If ample provision were made for arming our volunteers, they would exhibit much military pride; and the young gentlemen educated at our State Military Institute, would, in all probability, be elected to the command of many of the companies, who would bring into practical operation, in training our militia, the science and skill which they have acquired at the Institute. In case of war, we could then bring into the field a large force of well trained volunteers, commanded by officers of thorough military education, who would, in almost every case, be natives of our soil. Our untrained militia, if called into the field, with such a force and such officers at their head, would at once become infused with the military spirit, and soon with much of the military skill, of the volunteers, and would constitute with them an invincible army.

CODIFICATION OF THE LAWS.

Provision was made by the last General Assembly for the codification of the laws of this State, and Hon. H. V. Johnson, Iverson L. Harris, and David Irwin, were elected Commissioners to perform that important service. The two former declined to accept the appointment. The statute provides that any vacancy which may occur among the Commissioners, shall be filled by the next General Assembly. To prevent a failure of the commission, and the defeat of the object had in view by the Legislature, I proceeded at once, in accordance with the power vested in me by the Constitution, to fill said vacancies, till the next session of the General Assembly, by the appointment of Hon. T. R. R. Cobb and Hon. Richard H. Clark. These gentlemen accepted the appointment, and, in connection with Judge Irwin, have been prosecuting the work hitherto with great energy.

It is not doubted that this work, when completed, will contribute much to systematize and simplify our laws, which will enable the people much more readily to comprehend their true meaning. The time allowed the Commissioners by the statute within which to finish the entire work, is only twenty months. I think it hardly possible for them to complete the work within that period, with that care and accuracy which are indispensable to its contemplated usefulness. I would, therefore, recom mend an extension of the time to two years, and that the compensation allowed each Commissioner be fixed at three thousand dollars per annum, while engaged in the work.

As it will be proper, that a very plain and legible copy of the entire code, as finally agreed upon by the Commissioners, should be prepared in manuscript, to be laid before each House of the General Assembly, and if adopted by them, that a copy be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, as an entire Act, it was considered indispensable that the Commissioners have a clerk to do this clerical labor. I therefore appointed B. B. deGraffenried, Esq., of this city, who is eminently qualified, as clerk to the Commissioners. I recommend that such sum be appropriated to him, annually, while engaged in that capacity, as will amply compensate him for his services. I would also suggest the propriety of appropriating to each of the Commissioners such portion of his salary as may be reasonable, to be paid at such times, while engaged in the work, as the General Assembly shall designate.

Cobb's Statutes and Forms.

By a joint resolution of the last General Assembly, it was made my duty to appoint three Commissioners to examine the manuscript of the proposed new work of Hon. Howell Cobb, of Houston, which is an enlargement and improvement of his Analysis and Forms; and in the event of a favorable report by the Commissioners, it was also made my duty to subscribe for such number of copies for the State as should, in my judgment, be necessary. On receiving from the Commissioners a very favorable report of the work, I subscribed, in behalf of the State, for 3,000 copies, at five dollars per copy. For the purpose of facilitating the early completion and distribution of the work among the counties, I advanced to Col. Cobb, in accordance with the spirit of the resolution, $3,000, from the contingent fund, in part payment. The books have been received at the Library; and as many of them as may be necessary will be distributed among the counties, with the laws and journals of the present session.

The work is ably and faithfully executed, and does much credit to its distinguished author. It is expected that the remaining $12,000, due on the State's subscription, will be appropriated at your present session.

Weights and Measures.

An appropriation of $10,000 was made at the last session, for the purpose of supplying all the counties not then supplied with standard weights and measures. Soon after the close of the session, I caused circulars to be addressed to the Clerks of the Superior Courts of the several counties, informing them of the fact of such appropriation, and requesting each to report to me whether his county was supplied with these standards; and further notifying each, that his county would be considered as supplied unless he furnished the information. In reply, I received information of the deficiencies which existed in 113 counties. From the remaining 19 counties no reply was received, and I was left to presume that each of the latter was fully supplied. I have since caused to be manufactured and supplied to each county whose clerk informed me of any deficiency, the standard weights and measures which were considered necessary. If the supply needed by any county has not been shipped to its nearest railroad depot, the fault rests with its own officer who failed to furnish information of its necessities.

I have also caused to be deposited in the State Arsenal, at this place, 27 sets of standards similar to those furnished
The counties above mentioned, which are subject to the future direction of the Legislature.

These weights and measures are of a very superior quality, and it is not doubted that they are entirely accurate. They were manufactured by John W. Kissam, of New York, under the supervision of Col. John T. Smith, of that city, who was formerly a Secretary in this Department.

Census of 1859.

In accordance with the requirements of the Constitution, the last Legislature made provision for taking the State Census this year, which has been done; and it will become your duty to make the septennial apportionment of members among the respective counties, in proportion to their respective population.

Library.

For several years past, an annual appropriation has been made, of $1,000, to increase the State Library. It should be the pride of Georgia to supply herself with a library as extensive and valuable as that possessed by any other State in the Union; and I trust her Representatives will continue to provide for its annual increase.

The Library is at present kept in one of the rooms of the Capitol, which is entirely too small for the purpose. Many valuable books and documents, for want of room in the Library, are now kept in the basement rooms of the State House, where, on account of the dampness of the rooms, they are much injured. I therefore recommend that an appropriation of $10,000, or such other sum as may be necessary, be made, to build a fire-proof brick building on the public ground east of the State House, to be used for the purpose of a Library.

Mineralogical and Geological Survey.

In the event of a future mineralogical and geological survey of the State, one of the rooms in the proposed new building might be used as a Cabinet for the deposit of valuable specimens of ores, fossils, &c. I do not doubt that such a survey would bring to light immense wealth, which is now buried in the bosom of our State. I therefore renew the recommendation made in my message to the last Legislature, that provision be made by the State for such a survey.

Boundary Line Between Georgia and Florida.

I am informed that the last Legislature of Florida agreed to the propositions contained in the joint resolutions passed by the Legislature of this State at its session of 1857, for the settlement of the boundary line between these States, upon the basis agreed upon by the late Executives of the two States. The Governor of Florida, being desirous that the line between the terminal points which have been agreed upon be re-surveyed, as contemplated by the joint resolution of the Legislatures of the two States, has appointed B. F. Whitner, Esq., as Surveyor on the part of Florida; and I have appointed Prof. Orr, of Emory College, as Surveyor on the part of Georgia, who will proceed soon to run the line, and thus terminate, I trust, all further misunderstanding between the two States, in reference to this vexed question.

I recommend the passage of an Act authorizing the Governor, so soon as the survey is completed, to draw his warrant upon the Treasury for such sum as will compensate Prof. Orr, for his services.

Atlantic and Gulf Railroad.

In May last, I visited the Atlantic & Gulf Railroad, and I take great pleasure in saying that I consider it an excellent road, so far as it is completed, reflecting great credit upon the able, energetic and efficient officers who have had the work in charge, and upon the trustworthy and intelligent board of directors who have the supervision and direction of its affairs. While the work seems to have been faithfully done, my opinion is that those having the control have permitted no wasteful or extravagant expenditure of the State's money. In common with the citizens of Georgia, I deeply regret the death of Dr. James P. Screven, the late able and untiring President of this Road. It is said, that in his extraordinary efforts to push forward to its completion this great thoroughfare, which is to give new life and energy to a large and very interesting section of our State, he contracted the disease which terminated his valuable life. The work, when completed, will stand as a well deserved monument to his memory. The Board of Directors, since the date of my last Message having certified to me, as the statute requires, that the second, third, and fourth instalments, of sixty thousand dollars each, have been paid in by the private stockholders, on their subscription, I have, in each case, issued fifty thousand dollars of the State's bonds, as the statute directs, and delivered them to the company, at par, as the State's installments due upon her stock. The whole amount of bonds issued to this time, on account of the road, is $250,000, for which the State holds that amount of stock in the company. The Directors having lately notified me that the fifth installment of $60,000 has been lately paid in by the private stockholders, I have prepared $50,000 more of the bonds, which are now ready for delivery, and will be demanded in a few days.
STATE AID.

In my annual message to the last Legislature, I gave it as my opinion that it would be good policy for the State to lend her credit to aid in the construction of such other railroads as may be necessary to the more full development of her vast resources, provided she be made perfectly secure, beyond doubt, against ultimate loss. I still entertain the same opinion. In lending her aid in the construction of a road, I only propose that the State indorse the bonds of the company, after a reasonable proportion of the road is first completed, for a sum sufficient to purchase the iron to complete the rest, as fast as the company, at its own expense, shall have first graded the road and laid down all the timbers and superstructure, ready for the iron.

For the purpose of securing the State against loss, on account of this liability, I propose that she take and retain a mortgage or statutory lien upon the entire road, as well the part completed before her liability was incurred as the part completed afterwards, with all the superstructure, rolling stock, fixtures, franchises, and appurtenances of every character belonging to the company, with the right to sell the whole, after sixty or ninety days advertisement, whenever the company fails to meet and promptly pay any installment of interest or principal due on said bonds. And should any portion of the State's liability remain unextinguished, after the sale of the road, I propose that the whole deficiency, whatever it may be the amount, be divided among the solvent stockholders, in proportion to the number of shares owned by each, and that the Comptroller General, under an order from the Governor, issue execution immediately against each, for his proportion of the deficiency, to be levied and collected by the Sheriff of the county in which the defendant resides; or of any county in which he may have property. This would, in my opinion, make the State amply secure. Indeed, it is not probable that she would ever have to call upon the stockholders to make up a deficiency after the sale of a road; as it is not reasonable to suppose that any company of sensible men, simply because the State would agree to indorse their bonds under the very binding restrictions above proposed, for a sum sufficient to purchase the larger part of the iron, would ever invest their capital in grading and building a road which would be of so little value, when completed, that the whole road, and all its appurtenances, including the iron upon the entire track, and all the rolling stock, would not bring, if sold, a sum sufficient to pay for only the part of the iron for the price of which the State would be liable.

Capitalists do not usually invest their money, where they not only expect no dividends or incomes, but the loss of the principal, with an ultimate liability to future additional loss; consequently, it is not reasonable to suppose that the stockholders in any company, under the proposed plan, would undertake to build a road, and receive the State's aid by the indorsement of their bonds, unless they were satisfied that the road was a public necessity, and that the stock, after the road should be completed, would pay reasonable dividends.

The law, if passed, should be a general one, giving to every company in the State, engaged in the construction of a railroad, the same aid, subject to the same liability. It may be objected, that the terms upon which it is proposed to grant the aid are so onerous that no prudent company would avail themselves of its benefits, and that no encouragement would be given by the proposed plan to the development of the resources of the State; and it may be asked, what are the advantages of State aid, under this plan? To this it may be replied, that the company, with the State's indorsement upon its bonds, can sell them at par in the market, and thereby save itself from the ruinous loss which it would have to bear, should it be compelled, by its necessities, as such companies often are, to expose its bonds in the market, without such indorsement, for the purpose of raising money to complete its road. Many companies, which are now doing a prosperous business, while constructing their roads, were compelled to sell their bonds at sixty cents in the dollar, to raise money with which to complete them. Had the bonds of any such company had the proposed indorsement, they would have commanded par in the market, and thus over one-third of the cost of construction would have been saved to the company. As an illustration, suppose it will cost $600,000 to build a road between two given points, and the road, if built, would be of much public utility, and do much to develop the resources of an interesting section of the State, and a solvent company, without the cash at present, undertakes to build it upon credit, by the sale of its bonds, as such roads are often built, the bonds must be offered in the market, and will bring only sixty cents in the dollar. It will cost $1,000,000 of bonds to raise the $600,000 in cash. When due, these bonds must be redeemed by the company at par. It will, therefore, cost the company $1,000,000 to build the road. But, suppose the State indorses the bonds; they will then bring par; and $600,000 of the bonds will bring $600,000 in cash. The company, in that case, would have but $600,000 of bonds to redeem; consequently, it would cost them only $600,000 to build the road. The State's indorsement would, therefore, be worth $400,000 to the company. The State would remain perfectly secure, and have her resources greatly developed, and the lands of her citizens in the viincty of the road much enhanced in value, which would increase not only the aggregate wealth of the people, but the amount of taxes due to the State.

Without the endorsement of the State the Road would not probably be built. Before the company would undertake to build it, the Stockholders, as prudent men, would calculate the per cent; it would probably pay in dividends after its completion; and they might be satisfied that it would pay eight per cent upon the cost, if it could be built for $500,000, and be willing in that case to incur the liability and proceed with the work. Should it, however, cost $1,000,000 to build the same Road, it could then pay in dividends from the same amount of business, but little over half of eight per cent, and in that case, they would refuse to incur the liability or to proceed with the work. Consequently, the road would not be built; the resources of the section would not be developed; the price of lands would not be raised, and the amount of tax paid into the Treasury would not be increased. Hence, I conclude that it will be a wise policy on the part of the State to grant the aid upon these terms, that no prudent company will receive it until the stockholders are satisfied that the road will pay when completed, and that the aid will be very valuable to a company engaged in building such a road.

It is sometimes said that in justice to the railroad companies already in existence, the State should not aid or encourage the building of other roads which may come in competition with those now in operation. Some of these companies are now making very large profits, and while I desire to see them prosper, and would not wish to see their dividends reduced below a point where the stock would be reasonably profitable, no matter how much other interests might be thereby promoted, I am unwilling that such sections of the State as are without railroads should be denied their benefits on the ground that the large incomes of some of the wealthy companies now in existence might be reduced by giving these sections an opportunity to participate in the advantages which would result to them from the construction of other roads. Indeed, I entertain no doubt that the interest of the people requires that the number of roads be increased till no one shall have a monopoly of the business of any very large portion of the State, provided that each shall be left with sufficient business to make its stock reasonably remunerative.

The greater the competition between the roads the lower will be the freight and fare, and the better for the interest of those who travel and ship freight over them. When there is no competition for the purpose of accumulating larger incomes, the freights are usually placed by the Company at a very high figure,
Again, I deny that any Company has a right to complain that injustice has been done it by the State, should she permit or encourage the building of such roads as the interest of her people in different sections require, which do not in any manner violate the chartered rights of such company. Most of our railroad charters contain guaranties to the respective companies, that no lateral road shall be built within a certain number of miles of the road of the company to which the guaranty is given; say twenty miles, as an instance. These corporations claim that the charter is a contract between the State and the company, and they cling with tenacity to every chartered right given them by this contract, and exercise it, if profitable, no matter how onerous its exercise by them may be to other interests in the State. They should therefore be content with the contract; and should not be heard to complain when the State exercises rights reserved by her when she granted them their charters. The State, in the case above supposed, as an instance, when she granted the charter, guaranteed to the company an exclusive right over a strip of her territory forty miles wide. With this guaranty they were content, accepted the charter, invested their money, and built the road. The interest of a large number of persons outside of the limits embraced in the guaranty probably afterwards requires that they have a road; the State encourages its construction and it is built. What injustice is done to the first company and how have they been deceived? They have the full measure of their rights, and the full benefits of what they insist upon as their contract. It is true, they may not have so large a monopoly as they desire, but they have all they contracted for; while another portion of the State is developed, and the people have the benefits of low freights, resulting from the competition.

The State has taken stock in two railroad companies. I oppose this policy, and do not think she should be a partner with her citizens in such an enterprise. My opinion is that she should have no interest in any property over which she has not the entire control. By endorsing the bonds of the company, with ample security, she complicates herself with none of its private management or affairs.

BANKS AND BANKING.

By the second section of the Act of 22d December, 1857, usually known as the bank Act, it is enacted that "when any bank or banks now incorporated or which may hereafter be incorporated in this State, shall refuse or fail to pay specie for any of its bills, notes or drafts, or other writing for which they may be bound, when demanded by any individual or individuals, shall be liable to suit thereon in any of the Courts of law or equity in this State, and such individual or individuals, in addition to the principal of said notes and the lawful interest thereon, shall receive ten per cent. damages for such refusal or failure upon the amount so refused or failed to be redeemed in specie: and it shall be the duty of all juries, in such cases, to find a verdict in favor of the plaintiff against such bank, or banks, for the principal, interest and damages," &c.

For the purpose of protecting the people of the State as far as possible against the evils of Bank suspensions in future, and of restraining the banks from such reckless and extravagant speculation and overissues as usually lead to suspension. I recommend that the above recited law be so changed as to make it the duty of the jury, in every such case as that mentioned in the statute, to find for the plaintiff the principal and interest due upon each bank note or other obligation which the bank has refused to redeem in specie on demand, with twenty-five per cent damages; the interest to be computed from the time of the refusal to redeem the note in specie when presented; and that the plaintiff be entitled to judgment at the first term of the Court.

I also recommend, that the penal code of this State be so changed as to declare that a future suspension of specie payment, by any bank in this State, shall be adjudged as conclusive evidence of fraud on the part of the President and directors of such bank; and that the same be declared to be a high misdemeanor; and punished by confinement and hard labor in the Penitentiary of this State, for a term not less than five, nor more than ten years; and that the Grand Jurors of each county in this State, in which a bank is located, shall, at the opening of each term of the Court, in addition to the oath now prescribed by law, further swear that they will diligently inquire, and true presentment make of all cases of bank suspensions which have occurred in the county since the last term of the Court; and in case any Grand Jury shall present any bank as, having suspended specie payment, that it shall be the duty of the Solicitor General forthwith to make out bills of indictment against the President and Directors of such bank. In my message to the Legislature, I expressed the opinion, that in view of all the imperfections and abuses of our present banking system, we should do all in our power to bring about its complete reformation; and if this be not possible, that we should abandon it entirely. I consider that the people of Georgia have endorsed this opinion: and I respectfully urge upon their representatives the enactment of such laws as will carry it into practical effect. The liability of the banks and bank officers, should be made so stringent as to deter them in future from trifling with the rights of the people, for the purpose of advancing their own interest and their own speculations.
The last Legislature, by its liberal enactments and enlightened views upon the subject of Common School Education, not only rendered the State a most valuable service and entitled itself to the thanks of the whole people, but set an example of liberality in favor of education which challenges the approbation and deserves the imitation of all its successors. It is true, the Common School System adopted, was not perfect, nor was this to have been expected. So great a work must be progressive and a succession of wise enactments, guided by the light of experience, can alone perfect it. But the last Legislature did take a most important step in the right direction. It laid broad and deep the foundations of a system upon which, if its successors are equally wise, a most beautiful and perfect structure in all its magnificient and symmetrical proportions, will soon be reared.

In addition to the sum heretofore appropriated and distributed annually for education, it made an annual appropriation of $100,000; to be paid out of the net proceeds of the W. & A. Road; and provided that the School fund should be further increased, annually, as fast as the public debt is decreased; and that the interest heretofore paid to the State’s creditors, shall in future as fast as the debt is paid, be added to the School fund, and distributed for educational purposes.

This $100,000 appropriation was made under the supposition that the net incomes of the State Road would not exceed $300,000, per annum. As before stated, the Road has during its last fiscal year, paid into the Treasury of the State $402,000, clear of all necessary expenses and repairs.

Estimating the future incomes from the Road at a like sum per annum, I see no just reason why the annual appropriation for school purposes, may not be safely increased to $150,000, exclusive of the interest on the old fund, and the interest on the bonds which are to be issued for educational purposes as the State debt is paid. I earnestly recommend this increase of $50,000, per annum, in the annual appropriation. If this be made, the amount for distribution, next year, from the State Treasury for Educational purposes, will be nearly $200,000.

Deposit with Bank of Savannah.

The School Act of last year authorized me to deposit the School Fund, and other surplus funds in the Treasury, with any of the banks of Augusta or Savannah, at interest, upon the best terms I could make with the banks. Under this authority, I was able, on the 14th day of January last, to deposit the sum of $100,000 with the Bank of Savannah; for which it gave its obligation to pay interest on the amount, at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, till the third Monday in the present month, which is the time fixed by the statute for the distribution of the fund among the counties. The interest to be received from the bank will be nearly $6,000, which will be added to the amount to be distributed, together with some $10,000 of surplus in the Treasury. As an inducement to the bank to take the $100,000, on these terms, I agreed to give it the benefit of the other deposits of the State, for which it furnishes the Treasurer, without premium, all the Northern Exchange needed in payment of the interest on the public debt, &c. Justice to the Bank of Savannah requires me to state, that it has been prompt and liberal in the discharge of its obligations to the State; and that I was fully convinced, after a correspondence with several other banks in the cities of Augusta and Savannah, in reference to this deposit, that the Bank of Savannah was disposed to act a more liberal part towards the State, for the increase of the School Fund, than any other bank with which I corresponded upon the subject. It was the first to obey the law, and make its returns as required by the Act of 1857. I consider it not only a solvent institution, but as prompt and reliable as any bank in the State.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS.

The second Section of the School Act of 1858 imposes upon the Grand Jury and Ordinary of each county, the duty of devising a plan for the advancement of education in the county, and gives them absolute control over the application of the fund. This portion of the law would seem to require amendment. The appropriate duties of the Grand Jury connected with the Court, usually require their entire time, while in session; and they cannot, in connection with their other duties, give to this subject the attention which its importance demands. I therefore recommend such change in the law as will transfer this jurisdiction to an intelligent Board of School Commissioners, to be chosen annually by the Justices of the Inferior Court and Ordinary of each county.

SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION AND ORDINARIES.

The School Fund of each County is now paid by the Treasurer of the State to the Ordinary of the county, who is under bond for its proper application and faithful disbursement. The sum now annually distributed is large, and there is no provision of law which requires each Ordinary to report to the Governor or the Legislature, or to any other authority at the Capitol, how he has disposed of the fund in his hands. To prevent any misapplication of this fund, and for the purpose of holding all persons who have control of public money to a strict accountability, I recommend the appointment, in such mode as may be thought best of a Superintendent of Education for the State, who shall keep his office in the State House, and to whom every Ordinary in the State shall make annually, a full and complete report of the disburse­ment of the School Funds which he has received from the Treasury, accompanied by the necessary receipts and vouchers, to be recorded in the office of the Superintendent, in a book or books, to be kept by him for that purpose, with power in the Superintendent to call any Ordinary in the State to an account, at any time; and in case any one shall be found in default, to issue execution immediately against such Ordinary and his sureties, for the sum for which he may be so in default, with 20 per cent, upon the amount till the same be paid. Common prudence would seem to dict­ate this necessary safeguard, where so large an amount of public money is distributed among so numerous a class of persons.

Mode of Ascertaining the Number of Children.

The statute makes it the duty of the Receiver of Tax Returns, and the Grand Jury, in each county, to ascertain the number of children between the ages of eight and eighteen. It is believed this has not been so successful in prac­tice as the old laws upon the subject of the enumeration of the poor children, which made it the duty of the Justices of the Peace, in their respective Militia Districts, to ascer­tain the number, under the supervision and control of the Ordinary.

Substitution of New State Bonds for Old Ones.

I have found it impossible to call in all the bonds of the State in the hands of her creditors, as contemplated by the ninth Section of the School Act, and to issue to the creditors, in lieu of them, other bonds falling due in equal annual installments, till the whole debt is extinguished. The bond­holders are under no obligations to return their bonds and receive others of like amount falling due at different times; and many of them refuse to do so.

$100,547 50 of Bonds and Interest not Due, and $50,- 500 of Bonds Due,Paid.

There being a large unexpended balance in the Treasury, after providing for all legal appropriations, including interest upon the public debt, and fifty thousand five hundred dollars of the bonds which fell due during the year, with a view to carry into effect, as far as possible, the objects of the Act, I ordered the Treasurer to give notice, in the public gazettes, that he would redeem, at par, at the Treasury, or in Augusta or Savannah, the bonds of the State not yet due. After sev­eral months of advertisement, he was able to find only $99,- 250 of bonds not due, which the holders were willing to part with at par. These he redeemed, together with $1,- 297 50 of interest which had accrued upon them, which was not yet due.

$150,000 of Educational Bonds Issued:

As directed by the Statute, I have issued, upon the redemption of these bonds, $150,000 of new bonds, dated the first day of this month, due twenty years after date, bearing six per cent. interest, payable annually. These bonds are payable to the Secretary of State, as the trustee of the Educational Fund of Georgia, and are deposited in his office; the interest upon which will, in future, be distributed annually as part of the School Fund.

Duty ofOrdinaries.

The seventh Section of the School Act authorizes the Governor, before drawing his warrant upon the Treasury for the amount of school fund to which each county is entitled, to direct each Ordinary to furnish him with the number of children in his county between the ages of eight and eighteen—the number taught the elementary branches of an English education, the number taught the higher branches of education, and the rates of tuition in the elementary branches, and in the higher branches, and all other facts and statistics which the Governor may require said Ordinaries to obtain and return, and which may be deemed useful in aid of future legislation.

Under this Section, I caused circulars to be addressed to all the Ordinaries of this State, calling on them to furnish such facts and statistics as, in my opinion, might be useful in aid of future legislation. Most of the Ordinaries have performed their duty and forwarded the necessary information. Some have, however, made very imperfect returns; and some have made none. It may become my duty to withhold the fund from the counties whose Ordinaries are in default, till they shall have made their returns. In such case, I shall not fail to make known to the people of the county the reason why the fund is withheld, and give them an opportunity, at the ballot-box, to hold the proper officer responsible. The Ordinary in each county has power to withhold the fund from the Teachers till they furnish him with the necessary information. This will, no doubt, be sufficient penalty to enforce performance of duty on their part.

School Statistics.

Thus far returns have only been received from 102 counties. These returns contain much valuable information. I have had them arranged in a statistical table, which is in this office, and will be at all times subject to the inspection of Members of the Legislature. So soon as the Ordinaries of the other counties shall have made their returns, the table will be printed, if desired by the General Assembly. The returns from those 102 counties, furnish the following among other interesting facts. Whole number of children between the ages of 8 and 18—107,825. Number between 8 and 18 taught in 1859,—67,155; total of all persons taught, 79,922; of these 45,090 are males, and 34,832 are females.—Whole number of males taught in the elementary branches 29,238, number of females, 22,681. Whole number of males taught the higher branches, 8,032, females, 7,613. Average tuition, per annum, in the elementary branches, $15.50, in the higher branches, $26.00. Whole number of school-houses, 1775; number of schools, 1777. Number of Methodist Male Colleges, 4, in which there have been taught 358 pupils; Methodist female Colleges, 4, pupils 524; Baptist Male Colleges, 3, pupils 297; Baptist female Colleges, 4, pupils, 322; Presbyterian Male College, 1, pupils 97; Presbyterian female Colleges, 3, pupils 325; Colleges and High Schools not sectarian, male, 16, pupils, 773, female 16, pupils 1222; number of Academies, 57. Out of the 102 counties 99 have appointed boards to examine teachers, and 1297 teachers have passed an examination. The Ordinaries of only 49 of the counties of this State, have given bonds as required by the statute for the proper disbursement of the school fund. The remaining 83 have not complied with the law, in this particular, and will not be entitled to draw the fund until they have given bond, as directed by the statutes. For the benefit of their constituents, I shall have the names of the defaulters published soon.

School Tax Collected by Counties.

It further appears by these returns, that the proper authorities of only 84 of the 102 counties have levied and collected each a county tax to be added to the school fund of the county. The counties of Clarke and Effingham, have each assessed fifty per cent upon the State Tax for school purposes. This is the highest per cent levied by any county. The county of Meriwether only assessed five per cent upon her State Tax, which is the lowest per cent levied by any one of the 84 counties. The aggregate amount raised by the 84 counties for school purposes, is $64,997. As each of quite a number of the counties, which draws its just proportion of the amount distributed from the State Treasury, refuses to raise any additional sum by taxation, I recommend such change in the law as will authorize the Governor to withhold from each county in the State, after this year, its proportion of the State fund, till its proper authorities shall have levied and collected a tax of at least twenty five per cent upon the State Tax, to be added to the amount which it receives from the State for educational purposes. Many of the counties would no doubt... raise over 25 per cent, as matter of choice. If each county should assess and collect but 25 per cent, this would amount to about $100,000; which, added to the $200,000 distributed from the Treasury, should the annual appropriation be increased as above recommended, would increase the amount of public money to be expended next year for education, to $300,000, which sum would be still further increased annually from the interest on the bonds to be issued upon the payment of the public debt. This $300,000 annually would be equivalent to six per cent upon a school fund of $5,000,000, a fund of which any State might justly be proud. Even this, however, would be only three fourths of the annual net incomes to the Treasury from the State Road. Probably no State in the Union is now in a condition to do so much for the advancement of education, with so little of the burdens of taxation to her people. The incomes from her public property, if wisely expended, will enable her to build up a magnificent school fund, while her people pay a smaller tax than the people of any State in the Union.

The past year has been one of prosperity, during which our kind Heavenly Father has bestowed rich blessings upon the people of our noble State. With hearts full of gratitude let us humbly invoke his aid in all our deliberations for the public good.

On motion of Mr. Miller, the following preamble and resolutions previously offered by him were taken up and read.

Whereas the late attempt at Harper's Ferry in the State of Virginia to excite a portion of the slaves of the South to insurrection, has produced the highest degree of indignation in the minds of the Southern people against the perpetrators of that outrage, their aiders, abettors, and affords just ground to apprehend a renewal of their efforts in other places.

And whereas the action of Governor Wise and President Buchanan meets with our unqualified approbation, we deem it incumbent upon the members of the Legislature of the State of Georgia to give the most authoritative expression of their sentiments, Therefore

Resolved, That we regard the effort to excite the slaves of the South to a servile insurrection with the most intense indignation, and trust that the parties to this insane and treasonable plot may meet with the most prompt and signal punishment, believing as we do, that while it will be meeting out a just retribution for their crime, it will exert a wholesome influence in deterring others from countenancing similar movements.

Resolved, That the prompt and energetic action of Gov. To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the State of Georgia:

Your petitioner, John J. Flournoy, respectfully showeth that having himself in the year 1833–4 (eighteen hundred and thirty-three or four,) memorialized the Legislature, with success for the benevolent establishment of a plan of educating the indigent Deaf and Dumb of the State, which was done by sending them to the American Asylum at Hartford; and subsequently by inaugurating the Asylum at Cave Spring in this State, he had taken no farther action on the subject, but left it to the arrangement of the State and her agents, for accomplishing this desideratum, because he did not wish to appear presuming, but at this time allowing that each or almost all of the Southern States have an Asylum for the purpose of its own, to wit: Virginia, Kentucky, Tennesse, Georgia, the two Carolinas, Alabama and Louisiana, he thought it his duty as the original mover of the plan in Georgia, to give some views in relation to the matter, so as to enable the Legislature to better carry on the system of Deaf Mute instruction, if in its opinion the suggestion be of any importance. Deaf Mute Schools unlike all others are carried into operation by great expense and require for success from the nature of the case, a large number of pupils, and the concentration of much means on one spot. If therefore, every State have a school of its own, there would be gathered there but a few pupils and the money expended for capable teachers, will be enough to have provided for a larger number: besides there is no concentration of funds from several States to purchase apparatus, library; and other requirements of the Institution.

Your memorialist (who must be a veteran in the matter,) himself suggests to the consideration of your Honorable body, the idea of proposing to the States of South Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida, the propriety of concentrating scholars and funds upon one Institution of this nature, in one of these States, whereby the same can be enlarged, and better provided for, and at less cost to the several States, because fewer teachers comparatively will be needed, and because having more students and better payment for the tuition of many instructors of the highest capacity, can be advantageously engaged and secured.

The American Asylum at Hartford, Connecticut, which is the parent Institution of all the others, and the best in the United States teaches all the Deaf and Dumb children of New England; which comprises live States. It has facilities for giving to the mute population of these States a very high order of learning, to wit; by the department of a Gallandt class. Scholars stay in that school sometimes seven years. Their education is very accomplished; as the number of pupils from two to hundred and seventy, justify the concentration of means. It was the error of inexperienced gentlemen which devised a separate school in every State for this class of the people, whose instruction, is necessarily radically different from the process of teaching, hearing children on examination and comparison of the two modes would exhibit the fact.

The only bar in the way to the congregation of Deaf pupils from several States in one place is the distance of the journey; to say nothing of the fondness of parents for retaining mute children at home in ignorance. This objection is now much obviated by the easy facilities for travel established all over the State.

By bringing many together, the pay of the school master is more and the facility of learning greater and more perfect for the beneficiary of the State. And to this consideration I respectfully beg leave to call the attention of the Senate and the House.

And so your petitioner will ever pray,

JOHN J. FLOURNOY;

of Jackson county.

To the the Honorable Senators and Representatives of the Legislature of the State of Georgia in Legislative session assembled at Milledgeville, 1859.

We the residents of the 68th District, in Burke county, and 37th, 38th and 260th Districts in Screven county, petition your Honorable body to be cut off from the above named counties and by your legislative act organized into a new county to be called

We would respectfully show that we occupy a territory of over two hundred square miles, bounded North by the 66th District in Burke county, East by the Savannah River, and West by brier Creek, and South by the confluence of the Savannah river, and brier Creek with a slave population of over two thousand, and an aggregate taxable property of over one million and three quarters of dollars of Taxable property.

We would further show that we labor under many inconveniences and disadvantages, situated as far as numbers of us are from our respective county sites.

Some of us in the 68th District of Burke county are from 25 to 32 miles from Waynesboro the county site of Burke county, and are ill able to bear the expense of attending to the calls made on us, on public business the greater portion of us having to toil individually for the support of ourselves and families, and to have to attend as jurors or otherwise at the time we are attending to making our crops is manifestly much to our disadvantage, whereas if our county site was within a reasonable distance we could attend to our public duties without detriment to our interest.
Thus it is with us of the above district in Scriven county, some of us are from 18 to 23 miles from Sylvania the county site of our county, and we labor under other disadvantages.

By reference to the Tax digest will show a good portion of the taxes of Scriven county are paid by the above named districts, and yet we are never benefitted by any portion of it, or are we allowed a representation in the affairs of the county. All of its officers whether State or county are invariably chosen from the other portions of the county, and it is literally taxation without Representation which you know gentlemen is ill digested by freemen.

We are fully aware that our petition will be opposed by some of the citizens of both counties, but we further know that there are others also who are just as much and fully appreciate our position who advocate our course. With those who oppose us 'tis a matter of interest they wanting the taxes of us to support the county affairs yet allowing us no benefits, also for the building up of the villages at the county sites in which we have no measure of interest.

In granting us our petition for a new county, gentlemen, you will not create a pensioner on the State fund. We feel fully assured that we can sustain ourselves without State aid. We do hope gentlemen, that you will take a just view of our petition and its grounds, irrespective of those who oppose us in our petition and grant us the boon which we ask of your wisdom and justice and relieve us from being hewers of wood and drawers of water for the other portions of the counties of Burke and Scriven, which we earnestly but respectfully pray.

Mr. Riley offered the following resolution, which was taken up, read and agreed to.

Whereas, a serious effort was made in the last Congress, to withhold the usual appropriations for the branch Mint at Dahlonega, in this State, and thereby in effect to abolish the same, and,

Whereas, the said Mint is of great and growing importance to the gold diggers of Lumpkin, and the surrounding counties, inasmuch as heavy sums of money are now being expended in cutting canals, diverting water courses, and thereby developing the gold buried in the mountains of Georgia, and

Whereas, increasing quantities of gold are being returned for coinage, at said Mint, from the above causes, as well as from the fact that a large number of the citizens of Upper Georgia, are now engaged in gold digging in the Rocky Mountains, who return the ore for coinage at the Dahlonega Mint, and

Whereas, the said Mint, at Dahlonega, is almost the only one which directly benefits the actual laborer, the gold digger himself, and one of the few establishments of the Federal Government, of any sort, wherein a pittance of Federal money is expended in the South, therefore,

Be it Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of Georgia, that our Senators and Representatives in Congress, be requested to use all efforts in their power to continue said Mint, and to procure the usual appropriations therefor.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 15th, 1859.

Mr. Atkinson offered the following resolution which was read:

Whereas, Persons connected in the beginning with the plots of the Harper's Ferry treason, and murders having published statements, that certain Senators in the Congress of the United States, were cognizant of the conspiracy against the peace of the Union and the lives and property of the people of Virginia and other slaveholding States, and it being due alike to the character of the Senators implicated and to the peace and safety of the Union, that these grave imputations should be inquired into,

Resolved, That the people of every portion of this Great Confederacy of States are alike under the protection of the Government thereof, and if any member of either House of Congress be informed or have reason to suspect that there is a plot on foot, to commit treason or murder, or to excite or promote a servile insurrection in any State of the Union, his duty as a citizen, his allegiance to the Constitution, and his oath of office all alike bind him to submit without delay the matter fully and clearly to the House of which he is a member, if in session, and if not in session then to the executive officers of the Government that the meditated mischief may be prevented and the instigators thereof, brought to justice and condign punishment. If any Senator or Representative therefore in the Congress be directed in the performance of this important duty he should cease to occupy a portion of trust or confidence in the Councils of the nation.

Resolved, That entertaining these opinions the General Assembly of the sovereign State of Georgia, hereby instruct their Senators in Congress and enjoin it on them to move in the United States Senate, that the charges against any Senator or Senators made in the manner aforesaid, or in any other manner creating a reasonable probability of their guilt be thoroughly investigated and with all their power to urge such investigation, and if such charges be found true, to urge the expulsion of the guilty Senator or Senators from the Senate.

Resolved, That our Representatives in Congress be requested to pursue the like course in the House of Representatives, and that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

Also, the following resolution which was read:

Whereas, The late outbreak at Harper's Ferry has brought to light facts tending to prove that there was a conspiracy of evil disposed persons in some of the States of this Union to expel by force of arms slaves from the territory of Kansas, and to resist in the same manner the ingress of slaves into that Territory and that arms were purchased and perhaps manufactured by said conspirators for said purpose, and it being a known fact that slave owners in said Territory were murdered, and their property purloined and carried away by the said conspirators or their employees, and whereas the public safety requires that the laws should be enforced against such offenders and that the guilty should be exemplarily punished. Be it therefore,

Resolved, By the General Assembly of Georgia that the President of the United States be requested to cause a strict investigation to be made into the matters referred to above and to cause all persons engaged in such murders and conspiracy either as principals accessories or accomplices to be prosecuted in a manner to ensure their conviction, and punishment if guilty, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Chief Executive of the United States.

Also, the following resolution which was read:

Resolved, That the institution of slavery as it exists at the South is an institution founded in the laws of nature and of God, that the right of civilized man always to freedom and his right to purchase bonds men and bonds maids from the Heathen to transmit them as an inheritance to his posterity, and to hold them forever as property, are rights and principles as broad in extent as the human race and will continue to exist so long as there is civilized man to purchase or have then to be purchased, that slavery is therefore not a local institution established by local legislation, but rests upon the broad basis of the laws of nature, of God, and of nations and is an inherent right that civilized man carries with him into whatever locality he may choose to abide.

Resolved, That under this idea our Government was commenced, under this idea our fathers fought through the revolution and achieved their independence, and that this idea was transmitted to their posterity unalterably in the Constitution of the country for an age after the establishment of our Government, and that abolition, therefore, (and not slavery) is a local idea established by local legislation and unheard of until the propagandist and illuminati of New England, hatched it in the hot bed of fanaticism and false philanthropy.

Resolved, That the right to hold slaves being an inherent and vested right in the citizen of the United States every law whether State, Federal, or Territorial which abridges or contravenes this right is in conflict with the laws of nature and of God; and violates the Constitution of the United States, that the Legislature of any State or Territory that fails to give to this property the same protection that it does to other personal property is guilty of partial legislation and violates its Constitutional obligations, that allegiance and protection being reciprocal and indivisible the citizen of the United States has the right to ask his Government for protection and the Government is bound to protect him in the full enjoyment of his property, whether in the Territories of the United States or of the individual States or in any foreign country.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Legislature the presence of the black race in connection with the white race as found on this continent, is one of the most fortunate conjectures that has ever happened in human affairs, and that the destruction of it would be productive of calamity to the white race the black race and the civilized world, the extent of which is beyond the computation of human calculation and the wider it is extended, the greater the blessings to both races and the civilized world.

Mr. Harris of Dougherty, from the committee on enrollment, reported as duly enrolled, and ready for the signature of the President of the Senate:

A Resolution bringing on the election of two codifiers of the laws of this State, to-day at 12 o'clock.

Mr. King, chairman of the committee on Internal Improvements, made the following report:

The committee on Internal Improvements have had under consideration so much of the Governor’s Message as relates to lending the credit of the State to Rail Road Companies upon the conditions, and under the restrictions particularly stated by his Excellency, and the undersigned members of the committee ask leave to submit to the Senate, the following:

REPORT.

The Governor introduced this most important subject by saying: "In my annual message to the last Legislature, I gave it as my opinion that it would be good policy for the State to lend her credit to aid in the construction of such other Rail Roads as may be necessary to the more full development of her vast resources, provided, she be made perfectly secure, beyond doubt, against ultimate loss. I still entertain the same opinion." This opinion went before the people of Georgia, has been maturely considered by them, and they have given the best evidence in their power of approval of it, in his re-election by much the largest majority of suffrages that ever elevated a citizen of this State to the Executive chair. This decided expression of the popular will must be as gratifying to his Excellency as it is sure to place him in the front rank of the friends of progress.

It may, be contended by those opposed to this policy, that it was not the ruling question in the canvass, yet it must, in the opinion of the undersigned, be admitted, that it was of sufficient importance to have had a very decided influence in his renomination and election, and that his triumphant success is conclusive evidence that his opinions are approved by the great mass of the people.

This policy if adopted by the Legislature, will inaugurate a system of improvement and material progress for Georgia, far superior in the wisdom of its provisions and limitations, to any heretofore adopted by either of her sister States, and while it will give suitable encouragement and aid to great and important works, will hold out no temptation to those who would recklessly embark in unprofitable undertakings. It will accord with the prudent and enlightened views of the people, and awaken a spirit of enterprise which must soon elevate our noble State to the real and unquestionable rank of "Empire State of the South."

When a State is about to adopt a system for the development of her resources, to increase her wealth and power, either by the expenditure of her means, or by encouragement and aid to her citizens, it is prudent and proper to take a view of her geographical position with respect to communication and intercourse with adjoining States, and her connection with the commerce of the world, both domestic and foreign.

The reckless extravagance with which many of the interior States of the Union have entered on a system of Railway improvements, and an unguarded issue of State credits, has been caused by a total neglect or disregard of these most important considerations. Any State about to engage in such a system, should exercise the caution and sagacity, to first consider well, the amount of the proposed cost or risk, and the certain and probable profits.

Second, the pecuniary strength to be realized in the increased value of the taxable property of her citizens, and the augmentation of the political power to be acquired by it. For although the latter objects are of vital importance in the estimation of every statesman; they are not commonly regarded in time of peace, as the leading or governing motive in risks or investments of that nature.—To estimate clearly the great natural advantages and commercial position of Georgia, it will be necessary to compare them with those of her great Northern sister States, on the Atlantic border, and to show, that with one twentieth part of the expenditure, that has been made by those States or in fact by simply lending her credit, as proposed in the message, she may soon rival them in wealth, and commerce.

The sea coast of the United States, from St. Mary's in Georgia, to Eastport in Maine, has an almost due North East direction. The former being situated on the eighty second, and the latter on the sixty eight degree of longitude. West from Greenwich, or in other words, Eastport is near 800 miles, Boston about 660, and New York 500 miles.
East of St. Mary's. New Orleans and St. Louis are very near the nineteenth degrees of longitude, showing that the coast of Georgia is about five hundred miles nearer to the general course of the Mississippi River, than New York and near seven hundred miles nearer than Boston. It is farther from New York to St. Louis by Railway, than it will be when the roads now in progress shall be completed from our coast to the very centre of the rich cotton producing regions of Texas. It has been found quite practicable to transport produce from Missouri and Iowa, to New York and merchandise from that city, to those States by Railroad, and it therefore must be regarded as equally practicable to bring the cotton of Texas, and the intermediate States of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, to our ports by a similar mode of conveyance. St. Louis is one hundred and fifty miles nearer to Savannah, than it is to New York on a right line, and by Railroad, the difference of distance will be more than two hundred miles. The distance from Memphis to Savannah is 701 miles by Railroad, and from Vicksburg, it will be about 622 miles.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, not long since, transported coal for one cent a ton per mile; at that rate, bales of cotton weighing 500 lbs each, or four to the ton, could be delivered from Memphis at Savannah for $1.75 per bale. But, if we adopt the rates charged on the New York Railroads, for mixed freights two cents per ton, per mile, it would cost $14.02 to transport a ton—four miles—from Memphis to Savannah, or $3.50 per bale. The Memphis Bulletin publishes a statement, showing that cotton may be sent from that place to New York, by way of St. Louis for $4.87 ½ per bale, and that to send by way of New Orleans, it costs $5.62 ½. Showing a difference in favor of the St. Louis route of 75 cents per bale.

These figures show that if our Railroad system were extended by the construction of new lines, so as to reduce the present exorbitant charges on freight and facilitate transportation, cotton could be brought from Memphis to the ports of Georgia for $1.75 per bale less than it can be carried from that place to New York by way of St. Louis, and $2.50 less than by way of New Orleans. Assuming the distance from Vicksburg, to be 622 miles, and adopting the New York rates for mixed freights, the highest at two cents per ton per mile, we see that cotton can be transported from that place to Savannah for $3.11 per bale of 500 pounds.

The speed of freight trains on railroads ought to be twelve miles an hour, which would deliver freight from Memphis at Savannah or Brunswick in fifty-two hours. The passage of steamers from Memphis to New Orleans is from three to four days. At the ports of Ga., cotton will be from ten to twenty days nearer the Northern and European markets than in New Orleans; and in addition to that saving of time, the costs and charges of receiving, storage, commissions, insurance and freight are much lower at Savannah than at New Orleans, and that difference will more than pay the freight from the Mississippi to our ports. In consequence of the Northern course of the Gulf stream, and the dangerous passage South, round the capes and keys of Florida, sailing vessels, bound to the Gulf ports from Europe, or the North, are compelled to go into the Caribbean Sea, East of Cuba, and pass round the West end of that island into the Gulf of Mexico. This circuitous passage requires about thirty-five days from New York to New Orleans, and retards very much the transmission of merchandise for the supply of the Western markets.

The ordinary voyage from New York to the coast of Georgia is five days; therefore merchandise destined for the States West of her would, if sent in sailing vessels to the ports of Georgia, reach their destination within eight or ten days, and if sent in steamers, in about six days—thus saving from twenty-five to thirty days.

This saving of time is the very soul of commerce. The law of trade is, that what one merchant can do with certainty, celerity, and profit, all others in the same pursuit must do to compete successfully with him. It is, therefore, quite certain that all the merchandise destined to supply the States West of us must come to our ports and pay freight on our railroads; and it is equally certain that the cotton will come from the West to meet the ships.—The laws of trade operate with as much certainty as the laws of gravitation.

On the completion of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, it was supposed that cotton would be immediately sent from the former to the latter city, and because it was not, the argument has been raised that it will not, under any circumstances, or at any time, be sent for shipment from the Mississippi to our Atlantic ports. The reasons why the expected result did not follow the completion of that work are very obvious. First, the Mississippi cottons bear higher prices in New Orleans than Uplands do in our Atlantic markets. Second, the road is but a single track, prices of freight too high, and the delays in transportation too great, to encourage and change in the direction of that branch of commerce. When several competing lines of railroad shall have been completed to the Mississippi river, affording, from several points, cheap and rapid transportation to our seaports, cotton will be purchased at those places and sent through to them for shipment, as it is now purchased in and sent forward from our interior towns and cities.

Another reason was, that the producers of inferior cotton in North Alabama and Tennessee could, by sending their crops to New Orleans, pass them off as Mississippi cotton, at better prices than could be obtained in Charleston or Savannah. When cheap and rapid communication by railroad shall have been perfectly established, produce will follow those channels to market as surely as water flows where the declivity is greatest.

To make money is the great object of all commercial transactions, and a saving of one dollar per bale would be sufficient to change its direction to market.

The cost of freight and insurance from Savannah to Liverpool is $2.15 less than from New Orleans to Liverpool; and the charges for receiving, storing, commission, forwarding, &c., &c., in New Orleans, are about $2.25 per bale more than they are in Savannah, making $4.40 per bale; and the freight from Vicksburg to New Orleans 50 cents, and we have $4.90 per bale in favor of shipments from Savannah, which must decide the movement in favor of that port.

It now remains to be shown what States this movement will embrace, and the amount of trade and traffic it will control.

The States of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, and Tennessee, contain an area of 625,974 square miles, and in 1850 produced 1,544,690 bales of Cotton. They now probably produce more than 2,500,000. The crop of Texas has increased since that time from 57,556 to more than 250,000, and her soil is capable of producing at least two millions of bales. The alluvion soil of the Valley of the Mississippi River lying within the States of Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi, is estimated to be capable of producing more than four millions of bales, and the product will increase from what it now is, as fast as the consumption may demand it.

Therefore it is reasonable to suppose, that within a period of twenty-five years hence, those States will produce at least four million bales of Cotton, which at ten cents per pound, or fifty dollars per bale, will be worth $200,000,000, and there cannot be a doubt on the mind of any reasonable man who will take a proper view of the geographical position of Georgia, that she may, by the adoption of the policy recommended in the message, attract to her own ports more than one half of this vast product—that she will become one of the largest exporting and importing States of the Union, and that her railroads will be the channels of traffic between the great cotton producing States, and the commercial world.

The State of New York was the first among the States of the...
to develop her own resources, and attract to her sea-port the trade of the north-western States.

It is proper, therefore, to see what was her own condition with respect to population, and the value of her taxable property when she began those works which have so vastly augmented her wealth, prosperity and power. At the time she commenced the Erie Canal, the number of her inhabitants was not much larger than that of this State at the present time, and when that work was completed in the year 1825, the taxable value of her property amounted to but $312,250,257, not much more than one half the value of the taxable property of Georgia at this time. The great object of that work, was to draw the trade of the North Western States and Territories to New York. Those States were Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa. They embrace an area of 391,363 square miles, and had at that time a population of 1,121,372. Their exports consisted chiefly of wheat and flour. New York has continued to pursue this system until she has expended on canals, of her own means, $54,054,601.02. The State and her citizens have expended on Railroads $132,753,160.34, making an aggregate expenditure of $186,807,761.36.

This vast sum has been employed to develop her own resources, and to compete with her sister States, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania for the commerce and traffic of the States lying west of her. The Canal and Railroad system of Pennsylvania has cost over one hundred millions of dollars, about $47,000,000 of which the State expended of her own means. A very large proportion of this, was used in extending her lines of improvement west for the purpose of competing with New York, for the trade of that region.—Massachusetts next entered the field of competition, and with a population about equal to that of Georgia, and a territory not one-eighth as large, she has expended on her Railroads $64,805,018. Her Railroads, have cost over $43,000 per mile, and yet they pay an average dividend of six per cent.

Those three States have expended on Canals and Railroads more than $370,000,000, a very large proportion of which was applied to works designed to attract the trade of the North West to their sea ports; a trade which never can equal in value that of the Cotton States; which will seek a market over the Railroads of Georgia, if the policy proposed be adopted, without drawing one dollar from her Treasury.

For the purpose of presenting a clear view of the effect of improvements in the State of New York, on her wealth and power, it is only necessary to point to her 3,500,000 people, and the taxable value of her property, amounting to $1,404,907,679, and then to consider what would have been
The geographical position of Georgia is far more commanding than that of New York, and if she is true to herself, and now moves in earnest to the adoption of a wise system, she may realize results more certain and astonishing, than those which have elevated her great Northern sister to one of the first positions in the commercial world. In all the States of the Union, where railroads have been constructed, the value of property, and the population have vastly increased, and all pursuits have become more profitable.

The value of property in the State of New York has more than doubled in ten years, since the completion of her Railroads; in 1849 it mounted to $665,850,737, in 1859 it was $1,464,507,679. In the State of Ohio a similar result has followed the construction of her Railways; the value of her taxable property, in 1850, was $439,966,840, in 1859, it was $840,800,931, a fraction less than one hundred per cent increase in nine years. The value of taxable property in Pennsylvania has increased about in a similar proportion. In New Jersey, the value of land five miles in width, on each side of the Camden and Amboy Railroad, has increased in value as much as that double track road has cost. The Virginia and East Tennessee Railroad is 204 miles in length, and cost about $7,000,000. In 1850, the taxable value of land in the counties through which it passes, taken from the census, was $28,952,627, and in 1856 the assessment makes it $63,917,328, an increase in six years of $34,964,701, or almost one hundred per cent.

In North Carolina the pine land that was worth but 5 to 10 cents per acre, before the Railroads were built, is now selling for three, five, and in many places ten dollars per acre. The Greenville Alabamian states in 1853, when the survey of the Montgomery and Pensacola Railroad was commenced, the value of land in Butler county was $531,075; in 1855 when the grading was commenced, it was $591,175, and in 1858 it was over $2,000,000, showing an increase of near four hundred per cent.

In nine of the South-western counties of Georgia which have been approached by Railroad since 1850, the value of land has risen from $11,341,715 to $23,689,027; an increase of $11,347,312, or of 98 per cent in nine years. There are in the counties South of the Ocmulgee river, and west of the Altamaha, remote from Railroad, 6,743,849 acres of uncultured pine timber land: If the contemplated lines of Railroad shall be constructed, those lands will be worth, for the timber and for the cultivation—where now it is of little or no value—from five to ten dollars per acre, and add not less than thirty millions of dollars to the taxable value of property in the State.

The mountains of Georgia are rich in metals, and minerals, and probably contain as much coal and iron as those of Pennsylvania which now send forth a product worth more than seventy-five millions of dollars annually, from a region which, before Canals and Railroads were built, was like that of Georgia, of little value. There cannot be a doubt therefore, that suitable Railroad communications will develop the wealth of our mineral region, and make it as populous and productive as any in the world.

There being no returns showing the taxable value of land in Georgia, previous to, nor for some years after the construction of the Central Railroad, and the Georgia Railroad and most of their connections, it is not possible to ascertain the effect of those works on the taxable value of property in this State, but the more recent extension of the South-western Railroad, in the nine counties above alluded to, shows very conclusively what it must have been.

Evidences of the increased value of property, caused by the construction of Railroads, might be multiplied to an almost indefinite extent, from all parts of the Union where they have been built, but it is believed that enough has been adduced to show, beyond doubt, that if the policy proposed in the message shall be carried into practical effect by the Legislature, that while the State will be perfectly secure from pecuniary loss, or injury to her credit, incalculable benefits will be conferred on those portions of her territory, which are now without Railroad facilities; that the taxable value of all property will be vastly increased, that all occupations and pursuits must participate in the general prosperity; that our towns and cities will be enriched by an extensive and profitable trade, and Georgia become the great Agricultural, Mining and Commercial State of the South.

The last annual report of the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company—March, 1859, shows that their capital stock is $4,000,000, and that the nett earnings of their Railroad and Bank for the year amounted to $599,212 80 which gives a dividend on that capital, of 14 8-10 per cent. Some previous years gives a larger result. The Annual Report of the Central Railroad and Banking Company for 1858, shows their capital stock to be $3,750,000, and the nett earnings of their Railroad and Bank for the year, to have been $787,103 69, which gives a dividend on their capital of 20 8-10 per cent.

These figures prove that the former could have paid a dividend of seven per cent, the legal interest of Georgia, on twice the amount of their capital, or on $8,000,000, and that the latter companies could very nearly have paid a like dividend on three times the amount of their capital, or on $11,250,000, and that the two companies could have paid a dividend of seven per cent on $19,250,000 or on $11,500,000, more than their capital stock.

This statement proves that three additional Railroads running from the interior, to the sea coast, would each with only the present amount of traffic, pay a dividend of seven per cent per annum. But when we consider that the exports of upland cotton from Savannah, have increased from 203,363 bales in 1853, to 352,266 in 1859, and that 175,445 bales of that increase occurred in the present year, we cannot fail to perceive that the cotton of Western Georgia, and Eastern Alabama, which formerly went to ports on the Gulf is beginning to find its way to the Atlantic by Railroad conveyance. This goes to prove the argument presented in this report, that as our Railroad system is increased and extended westward, the cotton of the States lying west of Georgia will be sent to her Atlantic ports, and that the time is not distant when more than two millions of bales will annually take that direction, and supply all the Railroads that can be constructed under the proposed measure, each, with more freights and passenger traffic than the Central Railroad now carries.

Therefore, considering the large profits realized by the two roads before mentioned, and the increase of business which must come from, and go to the cotton States West of us, as Railroad communications shall be extended through them, there cannot be a doubt in the mind of any reasonable man that the new lines contemplated will yield such profits as to put to rest all fears that they will not pay promptly, the interest and principal of the bonds, as they become due which it is proposed that the State shall endorse.

The undersigned therefore, respectfully submit, they have shown that by the adoption of the policy proposed, the State will be vastly benefited and made perfectly secure beyond doubt against ultimate loss.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,}
MILLEDGEVILLE, Nov. 23d, 1859.}

To the Senate: I herewith return the bill, to be entitled an act for the relief of Amy Clark, without my sanction.

The law of this State prohibits the party, whose improper or criminal conduct authorizes a total divorce, from marrying again, during the life of the other party. This law would seem to be founded in sound policy, as it removes from parties in married life, all inducement to procure divorces by collusion. Were the guilty party permitted to marry again, it would be in the power of husband and wife, at any time when they might desire it, to dissolve the marriage relation, by a private understanding between them, that one of them should commit an act which by law, would entitle the other to a divorce, which would be equally agreeable to both parties when obtained. If the law is founded in sound policy, it ought to be enforced, if not, it ought to be repealed.

This character of individual legislation, which takes up the time of the Legislature, in attempts to modify and bend wholesome rules of law to fit particular cases, and which destroys in the minds of those who violate the law, the idea that they must certainly suffer its penalties, is mischievous in its tendencies, and ought not to be encouraged. The presumption is, that Mrs. Clark was the guilty party in this case, or the Court would not have granted her husband a divorce. Before this could be done, the law required that he have the concurrent verdicts of two special Juries in his favor. I cannot presume, that two such Juries, in the county of Baker, would have found for the Plaintiff; had he failed to make out his case against the Defendant; or had it been shown that her desertion of her husband had been caused by his cruel or improper conduct. I see no sufficient reason, therefore, why this case should form an exception to the general rule. It has been suggested, that Mrs. Clark has already married again, under a misapprehension of the facts, as she had heard, soon after the adjournment of the last session of the Legislature, that an act had been passed, giving her this right. This can be no reason why the relief sought through this bill should be granted, as it was the duty of the parties to have known the facts before taking a step so important, and a failure to inform themselves, was culpable negligence, for which there is no just excuse.

The act passed for her relief, at the last session of the Legislature, was disapproved by the Governor, and that fact was made known through the public Press, immediately.—Therefore, there could not have been an innocent mistake, in relation to the fact. The right to marry again, was denied her at the last session.

She acted without regard to that denial, and now she asks the Legislature to relieve her from the consequences of that rash and hasty act. Both upon principle, and with a view to the conduct of the applicant, I feel it my duty to withhold my sanction from this bill.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., Nov. 28th, 1859.

For the General Assembly:

A joint resolution of the Legislature authorizing and requesting the Governor to purchase a sufficient number of fire arms of the latest and most approved style, for the perfect equipment of all the Volunteer Companies within the State, now formed or which may be organized within the next twelve months, has received my assent, I now beg leave to call the attention of the General Assembly to the fact that no appropriation has been made for the purpose mentioned in the resolution, and that I am without the means to carry it into effect. There are at present no arms in either of the State Arsenals fit for use, and a considerable number of gallant young Companies lately organized are without arms. The quota furnished the State by the General Government is not sufficient to arm one half the Companies which are annually formed, and several Companies have lately disbanded on account of their failure to get arms. My opinion is, that it will cost from $75,000 to $100,000, to purchase arms of the most approved style, sufficient to supply all the Volunteer Corps, now in existence, and all which will be organized within twelve months, as a large number of new Companies will be organized so soon as it is known that provision has been made by the State to supply the necessary arms. As the General Assembly has imposed upon me the duty of supplying the arms, I respectfully request an appropriation of the sum necessary to enable me to carry into effect their resolution. I also, beg leave again to call the attention of the General Assembly to the great importance of establishing in our own State a foundry for the manufacture of arms and munitions of war. We have the necessary material in great abundance, and our financial condition is such, that the people of the State would not feel the cost.

We know not how soon we may be called upon to defend our institutions and our firesides against the assaults of unnatural enemies. Is it not the part of wisdom therefore, to prepare for the worst, while we hope for the best. It may be proper to purchase from the foundries of other States such supplies of arms as our present necessities require, but it certainly could not be wise for us to do so in future, as we should not expend large sums of money out of the State for such supplies as can be as well made within the State.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

The President appointed as the committee on the part of the Senate to examine into the business of the two Houses: Messrs. Seward, Cone, Collier, Paine and Cook, as said committee:

Mr. Gartrell presented the following memorial, which was read and referred to the committee on the State of the Republic:

To the General Assembly of the State of Georgia:

The undersigned appointed under an act passed at your last session “to provide for the Codification of the Laws of Georgia” deem it due to your Body as well as to themselves, not only to report their project, but also to ask such inspection of their labors as will satisfy you of their fidelity to the object of their appointment.

In one view of the act the object contemplated by the Legislature swells into a project, the magnitude of which would deter the boldest—if the utter impossibility of its accomplishment did not strike the most inexperienced. We did not believe this construction of the act to be the exponent of the true intention of the Legislature—but read your will to be—a codification of the great fundamental principles of our Jurisprudence from whatever source derived, together with such local Legislation as our Statutes from time to time have shown to be necessary; such a code will furnish all the information which the citizen or ordinary Magistrate may require—while it would not profess to provide a solution for every difficult problem of the law, which under the ever varying relations of human life, and intercourse may arise, such was the ‘Code Napoleon’; yet the whole body of the civil law is still a prolific fountain from which the French Courts draw truth and wisdom; such was the Civil Code of Louisiana, the forerunner of many intentions. And such the Alabama Code recommended in your act. Yet no Code has ever professed to “supercede all other laws and decisions, and establish fixed and uniform law.” Rather than by announcing great principles in condensed definitions, or modifying those principles by others, and thus furnishing tools and touch stones for application by skilful Artists of the law.

Thus reading your intention we have entered upon the work, seeking not alone to condense the verbose and almost chaotic mass of our own statutes, but also to interweave those great fundamental principles of our Jurisprudence—which will fill out and make perfect the body of law, of which the statutes constituted but disjointed members. In such an undertaking we cannot hope for perfect success.

To ensure it as far as possible, we suggest and request that the committee on the Judiciary of your bodies, examine the fruits of our labor and report thereon at your present session.
On many points much thought is necessary to determine what at first view might appear a simple question, your codifiers should have an opportunity, when their work is submitted for your final action to give the reasons for their decision; moreover a simple change in a screw or lever, may disturb the working of the entire machinery, so an apparently unimportant alteration may mar the perfection of a well digested system. With this view, in other statutes, we learn the codifiers have been allowed to be heard in the deliberations upon their work.

We would suggest that your body require the Judiciary committee to meet prior to the next regular session, for the purpose of inspecting the Code completed.

From the progress we have made we think we may safely promise to be prepared to report our labors done, within two years from our appointment.

Respectfully, your obedient servants,

DAVID IRWIN,
T. R. R. COBB,
RICHARD H. CLARKE.

STATE OF GEORGIA, } To the Honorable the Senate
HABERSHAM COUNTY. } and House of Representatives of the State of Georgia.

The humble petition of the undersigned, respectfully sheweth that on the seventeenth day of January last, your petitioners was and had been for months, engaged as a train hand on the State Road in the constant and faithful discharge of all his duties, and with a laudable ambition and wish to merit the control of a train as soon as possible. That on that (to me unfortunate) day while walking on the top of the cars to apply the breaks as we neared a water tank I was knocked off by a beam of timber that had been thrown across the track connected with the tank and about 4½ feet above the top of the cars; I unfortunately fell (it is said) between the cars and had my right arm mashed off by the wheels and the heel of the left foot crushed and partially severed; indeed scarcely any part of my body escaped injury. Nothing however, that nursing and medical skill could accomplish was neglected and I am now nearly well, but in a State of utter helplessness and a burden on the hands of my poor parents, I therefore throw myself upon the charity of the State through her Representatives with confidence they will do whatever they think right in my behalf, and as in duty bound will ever pray.

The following Message was received from his Excellency the Governor, by Mr. Waters, his Secretary, to-wit:

Mr. President: I am directed by his Excellency the Governor, to return to this branch of the General Assembly from whence it originated, the bill entitled an act to pardon William A. Choice, of the county of Fulton, now under sentence of death for the crime of murder, accompanied with a communication in writing.

On motion of Mr. Cone, the following communication from his Excellency the Governor was taken up and read:

TO THE SENATE:

I herewith return the bill entitled an act to pardon William A. Choice of the county of Fulton now under sentence of death for the crime of murder, without my sanction.

The seventh section of the 2nd article of the Constitution of this State is in these words:

"He, (the Governor) shall have power to grant reprieves for offences against the State, except in cases of impeachment, and to grant pardons or to remit any part of a sentence in all cases after conviction, except for treason or murder in which cases he may reprieve the execution, and make report thereof to the next General Assembly, by whom a pardon may be granted." Looking to this isolated section of the Constitution, I once doubted whether the whole power to pardon in cases of murder and treason was not vested exclusively in the General Assembly, and whether it was necessary to the passage of such a bill or its validity as a law, that it be submitted to the Governor for his approval and whether he had any duty to perform, or any responsibility to incur in giving validity to the enactment. But an ex amination of other sections of the Constitution, which must be construed in connection with the section above quoted, removes all doubt upon this question, and satisfies my mind, that it is as much the duty of the Governor to revise and approve, or disapprove, a bill of this character, as it is to sanction or refuse to sanction any other bill. It is true the above section of the Constitution vests the pardoning power in cases of murder in the General Assembly, and it is also, true that the second section of the first article of the Constitution vests the entire legislative power in the General Assembly. It is in these words:

“The Legislative power shall be vested in two separate and distinct branches, to wit: A Senate and House of Representatives to be styled the General Assembly.”

But these grants of power to the General Assembly are alike qualified by the tenth and eleventh sections of the second article of the Constitution, which are in these words:

Section 10th. He, (the Governor) shall have the revision of all bills passed by both Houses, before the same shall become laws, but two thirds of both Houses may pass a law notwithstanding his dissent, and if any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within five days after it hath been presented to him, the same shall be a law, unless the General Assembly by their adjournment shall prevent its return.

Sec. 11th. Every vote, resolution or order to which the concurrence of both Houses may be necessary except on a question of adjournment, shall be presented to the Governor, and before it shall take effect, be approved by him, or being disapproved may be repassed by two thirds of both Houses, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in case of a bill.” If, therefore, this be a bill or vote, a resolution or order of the General Assembly, to which the concurrence of both Houses is necessary, it is the duty of the Governor to revise it, and approve or disapprove it. The circumstances of the killing as detailed in evidence in this case, are substantially, as follows:

Calvin Webb was a public officer in the city of Atlanta, and as such had in his hands a bail process against Choice, the prisoner, for ten dollars. On the night before the killing he met Choice, who it was alleged was about to leave the State for New York, and informed him of the fact, that he had the process in his hands, and desired him to arrange for the settlement of the claim: Choice desired Webb to release him upon his promise that it should be arranged. Webb refused to do so, and some unpleasant words passed; about this time, Col. Glenn stepped into the room where the parties were, and Choice asked him to stand as surety for him, Col. Glenn agreed to see the debt paid, and with this, Webb expressed himself satisfied. After this Choice, who was at the time excited by the use of intoxicating liquors cursed and abused Webb. Col. Glenn interfered and prevented any difficulty, after which Webb left the room. Next morning between ten and eleven o’clock, Webb, and another gentleman were walking the street, some distance from the car shed in Atlanta, and saw Choice a few steps from them: not a word had been spoken, when Choice presented a pistol, Webb begged him not to shoot: he immediately fired one shot, which did not take effect. He again presented the pistol and fired a second time. The ball entered the body of Webb, and he exclaimed, I am a dead man. After which he walked a few steps and fell dead.

This summary of the substance of the facts connected with the killing presents \textit{prima facie} a most unprovoked and aggravated case of murder. The deceased on the night previous had only discharged his duty as a public officer, for this, the defendant had cursed and abused him, and on meeting him next day, without the slightest provocation, he drew his pistol, and deliberately took the life of the officer. If pardons are to be extended in such cases, what protection does the law afforded to public officers, and what encouragement, have they, faithfully to discharge their duties? It is said however, that the defendant was insane at the time the act was committed, and not therefore legally or morally responsible for his conduct. If the fact exist, the conclusion naturally follows; was he insane? The law presumes that he was of sane mind, till the contrary is proven, and when the fact that the homicide was committed by him is established, the burden of proving the insanity is cast upon the defendant. Evidence was introduced before the court and Jury who tried the case, to sustain this plea. The learned and able Judge in a clear and forcible manner expounded to the Jury, the rules of law, by which they were to be governed in the investigation. They applied the evidence to these rules of law, and by their verdict of guilty, decided that the plea of insanity had not been sustained. After a careful examination of the evidence in the case, and a long personal acquaintance with the defendant, I am satisfied that the decision was correct, and that the insanity was only the temporary phrenzy which is produced by a fit of intoxication, which by the express terms of our statute is declared to be no excuse for any crime or misdemeanor. It may have been true that the defendant on account of injuries received upon his head some years since, had some predisposition to insanity, and that he was on that account more easily excited by the use of intoxicating liquors, but I entertain no doubt that the excessive use of these stimulants was the exciting, and immediate cause of mental derangement at the time of the killing. In a word, the defendant was drunk, and his reason was, for the time de-throned by his intoxication. He was in the habit of indulging to excess, and on these occasions, he is said by the wit­nesses have been a very dangerous man. Since the com­mission of the offence he has been confined in prison and denied the privilege of his former excesses, and it seems that nothing more has been heard of his insanity. If, on account of his wounds received years since, his predisposition to in­sanity was such, that excitement alone would produce it, why have the exciting scenes through which he has passed since his imprisonment, and during his trial, failed to have that effect? If on account of mental derangement produc­ed by his own voluntary act, he is to be excused for reck­lessly taking the life of an innocent human being, and again turned loose upon the community, what guaranty have we that another victim may not soon fall by his hands in a like fit of voluntary madness?

In determining a question of the character of the one now under consideration, I should be unfaithful to the high trust reposed in me, if I should permit my reason to be overcome by my sympathy. No act of my life has been more unpleasant than the one I now perform. No one has a higher appreciation of the character of the relatives of the defendant, and no one would more sincerely rejoice to be able to soothe the feelings of a mother whose heart, pierced with anguish, now languishes with untold grief. But if it were proper for me on this occasion, to be influenced by considerations of this nature, I should do wrong, were I to contemplate the sufferings on one side, and refuse to look upon the picture of misery on the other.

A few months since the family of Webb, the deceased, was comfortable and happy. His wife and little children had the care and protection of a fond husband and a kind father; but in a moment of time by the cruel act of the defendant, the wife a widow, and the children orphans, were left to mourn their irreparable loss, and were thrown upon the cold charities of the world almost friendless and penniless, to make their way through life as best they can, poor and neglected. But duty forbids that I should be in­fluenced by the contemplation of this scene of misery on either side. The laws must be vindicated, and crime must be punished, or society cannot be protected, and Courts and Juries must be sustained in the administration and exe­cution of the criminal laws of the land, or violence and bloodshed will prevail to an extent that will excite and prompt one people to take the law into their own hands, in the belief that it is the only protection left them.

I am not unmindful, while making this decision, that the pardoning power is a necessary one, in every well regulated government, and that there are some cases in which it ought to be exercised, as in cases of partiality, prejudice or highly excited feelings, on the part of the Court or Jury, by whom the case was tried, rendering it highly probable that injustice was done the defendant, or on account of perjury or mistake on the part of any of the witnesses for the State, which is afterwards discovered, and which may have materially influenced the verdict against the defendant, or in cases of conviction upon such slight evidence that the mind is left in great doubt about the guilt of the defendant, or in cases of extreme youth—in these and possibly a few other instances, when injustice is likely to be done, and when the remedy is no longer within the reach of the Courts, the humanity of our Constitution has wisely vested in another department of the government ample power to prevent the injustice, by extending a pardon, and thus arresting the judgment of the Court. But it should not be forgotten that this power is subject to be greatly abused, and that it was not the intention of those who formed our Constitution, that the verdicts of Juries and the judgments of Courts should be indiscriminately annulled by its exercise, and felons convicted of atrocious crimes thereby turned loose again upon the community; the extension of mercy to such offenders is the infliction of cruelty and injustice upon society. I am also aware that it is argued that the pardoning power is a Godlike power, and that it is noble to exercise it. But it should not be forgotten when this argument is used, that God himself required no less than the blood of his own Son as an atonement for sin before he exercised the pardoning power, and "without the shedding of blood is no remission," is the language of his eternal truth. God has said in his revealed law, "that the murderer shall surely be put to death," "moreover ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death: but he shall be surely put to death. So ye shall not pollute the land whereon ye are, for blood it defileth the land, and the land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it." If then we would respect the revelation of God, and save our land from the stain of innocent blood, we must execute the law and punish the guilty. Some may say that the stern truths of the Bible are not suited to the humanity and sympathy of the present age, they are none the less truths, however, on that account, and it is none the less certain that the curse of God, will rest upon that State or nation which disregards them, and that his blessings will attend those who obey them.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

Milledgeville, Ga., Dec., 3d., 1859.

To the General Assembly:

In compliance with a joint resolution of the Legislature, assented to November 22d, 1859, I appointed Col. D. C. Campbell, special agent on the part of Georgia, to visit the Governor of Florida and confer with him upon the subject of the border difficulties growing out of the controversy about the boundary line, and am happy to be able to report to the General Assembly before its adjournment the correspondence upon this subject, copies of which are hereewith transmitted, together with a copy of the Message of Governor Perry, and of a resolution introduced into the Florida Legislature, by which it will be seen that the Governor and Legislature of Florida meet our propositions for a pacific adjustment of these difficulties in a kind and conciliatory spirit. This liberal conduct on the part of the authorities of our gallant sister State, is highly creditable to her, and will, I doubt not, meet a cordial and united response from the authorities of Georgia.

I recommend the passage of such bill or joint resolution as will settle and protect the titles of bona fide holders of land under Florida grants, which may fall within the limits of Georgia, when the boundary line shall have been fully ascertained by the survey now in progress, and such legislation as will give the Executive the right to order 'procès verbaux' to be entered in such cause pending on the criminal side of our Courts, as may have grown out of the dispute about the boundary.

I also herewith transmit to the General Assembly a copy of a communication just received from Prof. Gustavus J. Orr, the Surveyor on the part of Georgia, and Benjamin J.
Whitner, Jr., Esq., Surveyor, on the part of Florida, who are now engaged in the survey.

In accordance with the suggestions of the Surveyors I recommend that a joint resolution be passed, giving the consent of Georgia, provided Florida concurs, that the line as first run by the surveyors between the mouth of Flint River, and the eastern terminus, or Ellicott's Mound, be adopted as the true line, Provided it falls within one quarter of a mile of the Mound on either side. The strip of land which would be between the line as run, and the true line would be so small as to be of little value to either State, and is as likely to fall in favor of Georgia as of Florida. It may cost much time and expense before the Surveyors can run a line which will terminate precisely at the Mound. It is to be presumed that the Legislature of Florida now in session, to whom a copy of this statement of the Surveyors will likely be sent by the Governor of that State, will take immediate action in the premises. I therefore recommend prompt action on the part of the General Assembly of this State.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,}
Milledgeville, Ga., Nov. 23d, 1859, }

His Excellency,
MADISON S. PERRY, Governor of Florida.

Dear Sir: Allow me to introduce to you the bearer of this, Col. D. C. Campbell, of this city. Col. Campbell has been appointed by me a special agent on the part of this State, under a resolution of its General Assembly, to visit and confer with you in relation to existing and anticipated difficulties, growing out of the unadjusted question of the boundary line between the States of Georgia and Florida.

The Resolution under which he is appointed, will be shown to you by him. It evinces, as you will perceive, the solicitude of Georgia for the maintenance of good neighborhood between the two contiguous States, and her determination, while the boundary remains unadjusted to do all in her power to repress agitation and prevent excitement.

The agent on the part of the State will submit to you suggestions emanating from this Department, and will cordially entertain, and to the extent of his authority act upon any that may be submitted by you, entertaining the hope that the result of this Agency will prove beneficial to the interest of both States.

I am very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,

JOSEPH E. BROWN.
COL. D. C. CAMPBELL—

Dear Sir: In pursuance of the resolution of the General Assembly under which you have been appointed a special agent to visit Tallahassee, and confer with the Executive of Florida, you will at your earliest convenience, enter upon the duties confided to you. You will express to the Governor of Florida the solicitude of the General Assembly of Georgia and of this Department to maintain uninterrupted the kindly relations that have heretofore existed between the people of the two States, and which unfortunately have recently been disturbed in certain sections, growing out of the unadjusted boundary line that divides them. You can tender to him the assurance that every effort in the power of this Department will be put into exercise, not only to have the boundary line settled as early as practicable, but to prevent, till that object shall be accomplished, any of the difficulties or animosities that may be apprehended among the people residing in that region, through which the line of boundary may ultimately be established. To this end you can assure his Excellency that should litigation take place in the Courts of this State in relation to lands under Florida grants, which, when the boundary line shall be designated, shall fall under the jurisdiction of Georgia, that this Department will recommend to the General Assembly of this State such legislation as may be necessary to perfect titles in the hands of bona fide holders; and you can also assure him that should criminal prosecutions growing out of conflicts between those residing in the disputed territory, be instituted in any of the Courts of Georgia, that this Department will request that no proscrip1es be entered.

You will ask the Executive of Florida, on his part, to reciprocate these efforts to maintain peace and good order among the borders, and protect titles in bona fide land owners.

In short, you will confer fully with the Governor of Florida in relation to all existing and anticipated matters of controversy among the borders, ascertain his views in regard to the best mode of quieting, removing or preventing them, and freely pledge the co-operation of the authorities of Georgia in all reasonable efforts to accomplish objects so desirable.

The result of your mission you will report to this Department.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

JOSEPH E. BROWN.
His Excellency,

Joseph E. Brown, Governor of Georgia.

I have had the honor to receive, through Col. D. C. Campbell, special Agent on the part of Georgia, the letter of your Excellency, being dated the 23d inst., together with the Resolutions of the Legislature of Georgia, relative to the border difficulties between the citizens of Georgia and Florida, on account of a conflict of jurisdiction of the Courts of two States.

The solicitude expressed by the State of Georgia for the maintainance of good neighborhood between the two contiguous States of Georgia and Florida, and her determination while the boundary remains unadjusted, to do all in her power to repress agitation and prevent excitement, is duly appreciated, and cordially reciprocated.

Col. Campbell has placed in my hands a paper purporting to be a statement of the fact of two cases out of which some excitement upon the border is said to have arisen.

The first case referred to is that of Sandford, Sheriff, and others, who tried a fi. fa. issued from a Court of Georgia upon a negro slave in the possession of David Allen, who resides on a fraction of land sold by the State of Georgia.

It is alleged that the parties have been indicted for negro stealing, by the Grand Jury of Jefferson county, Florida, and that efforts will be made to procure a requisition from the Governor of Florida, upon the Executive of Georgia, to have the parties delivered up to be tried in Florida. Upon hearing the fact in the case, I immediately sought an interview with the Hon. J. Wayles Baker, Judge of the Circuit embracing Jefferson county, who informed me that he had no recollection of any such indictment, but that if one had been found by the Grand Jury it could not be sustained upon the fact above stated, and that a nol pros. would be entered by the Solicitor. In the other case it seems that the Sheriff of Georgia, by virtue of a writ of possession sued out from one of the Courts of Georgia, attempted to put Allen out of possession of the fraction of land upon which he resides, and was prevented from executing the writ by an armed force from Florida.

These exhibitions of popular feeling are at all times to be regreted. Some palliation, however, of this particular act may be found in the fact that the people inhabiting the region of country in which Allen resides have always believed themselves to be citizens of Florida.

It was doubtless, under the belief that they were rightfully resisting the power of foreign jurisdiction, that force was employed. To prevent future collision of a similar character, it is respectfully suggested that the Court from which the writ emanated should stay further proceedings until the boundary line is established between the two States.

The policy suggested by your Excellency in relation to bona fide holders of titles of land in the disputed territory will doubtless be appreciated by our Legislature now about to assemble, and such measures adopted as will satisfy your Excellency of its good faith and liberality.

Every effort will be made by this Department to prevent any difficulties or popular excitement along the borders until the boundary line which is now being run shall have been established, and to maintain the friendly relations which should ever characterize the citizens of the two States.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
M. S. PERRY

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Milledgeville, Nov. 28th, 1859.

Col. D. C. Campbell,

Dear Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt at your hands of a letter from his Excellency, Gov. Brown of Georgia, together with a letter addressed to you by his Excellency, and a paper purporting to contain a statement of facts relative to the difficulties between the citizens along the borders incident to the inadusted boundary line between the two States, you will please communicate to his Excellency, Gov. Brown, my assurance that the friendly spirit manifested by him in this unfortunate controversy, and his praiseworthy and timely efforts to maintain the friendly relations which should ever exist between the citizens of the two States, are duly appreciated, and cordially reciprocated. You will assure his Excellency that I have, in accordance with his suggestions recommended to the Legislature of this State such action, as I hope, will prevent the recurrence of all difficulties along the borders, and that I will ever co-operate with him most cheerfully in all rightful measures, which may be necessary to adjust all difficulties and to maintain friendly relations between the citizens of the two States. Permit me, my dear sir, to express to you my cordial approbation of the friendly feeling manifested by you during our several conferences, and the readiness on your part to co-operate in any measures calculated to adjust the difficulties growing out of this vexed question, on terms alike just and honorable to the States of Georgia and Florida.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
M. S. PERRY
To his Excellency, JOSEPH E. BROWN,
Governor of Georgia:

DEAR SIR:—In compliance with my appointment as the special agent of Georgia to visit and confer with the Executive of Florida in relation to the disturbances on the unadjusted line of boundary between the two States, I have the honor to report, that I reached this city on the 26th inst. and sought and obtained an early interview with Gov. Perry, he received and during my stay here has treated me with marked kindness and courtesy, he expressed his regret at the difficulties which had occurred on the border, his gratitude to Georgia for her prompt and friendly efforts to arrest and remove them, and his readiness cordially and efficiently to cooperate with Georgia in any, and every effort to maintain kind relations between the people residing on the borders of the two States. I handed him your letter introducing me to him and disclosing the object of my mission, a copy of the Resolution of the General Assembly of Georgia, under which I held the appointment of special agent, and also your letter of instructions to me, suggesting your views in regard to the mode of adjusting the difficulties. In our several and repeated conferences I presented to him all the facts known to me connected with the border controversies most of which were fully detailed in a letter forwarded to me at my request by the Hon. A. H. Hansell, the Judge of the Superior Court of Georgia, in that District of the State where these controversies have existed as the result of my conferences with Gov. Perry. I herewith hand you:

2d. Gov. Perry’s Letter to me.
3d. A copy of Gov. Perry’s special message to the General Assembly of Florida, forwarded to both branches on the day of its organization.
4th. A copy of Resolutions, offered in the Senate of Florida on the subject of the message, which there can be no doubt will be promptly adopted.

From these documents you will perceive that Florida cordially responds to your views, and will cordially co-operate with you in efforts to promote peace and good order on the borders of the two States, until the boundary line shall be designated.

As the Executive and Legislature of Florida propose immediate Legislation, in anticipation of the settlement of the line, with the view of quieting and affirming titles to land that shall fall on the Georgia side of the line, I respectfully submit to your Excellency, whether it would not be wise for the Legislature of Georgia, during the present Session, to have corresponding legislation, in reference to land granted by Georgia, which, when the boundary line shall be designated, may fall on the Florida side. Congratulating your Excellency upon the prospect of an amicable adjustment of all the difficulties that have existed on the borders of the two States.

I have the honor to remain,

Respectfully, your ob't. serv't.,

D. C. CAMPBELL.

RESOLUTION,

Relative to the establishment of the boundary line between the State of Georgia, and the State of Florida:

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives, of the State of Florida, in General Assembly convened, That on the final designation and establishment of the boundary line between the States of Florida and Georgia, if any land shall fall within the jurisdiction of this State, the title to which may have been conveyed or granted by Georgia, and which land shall, by virtue of any act of Congress of the United States, or otherwise enure to this State, the Governor of this State is, and shall be authorized and empowered to surrender to such person as may bona fide hold the title from Georgia all interest which this State may have therein.

Be it further resolved, That the Governor is hereby authorized to unite with the authorities of Georgia, in any application to the General Government, for such measures as may be deemed best to secure the bona fide holders of land, the title which they may have derived from the State of Georgia.

Be it further resolved, That in the event of any criminal prosecutions arising out of any difficulties between the persons residing in the disputed territory, the Governor is hereby authorized, in his judgment to direct nolle prosequitis to be entered, and to take such other steps or measures as he may deem proper to preserve kindly relations between the people of the two States.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, November 29th, 1859.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

I communicate herewith, a copy of Resolutions passed by the Legislature of Georgia, and copies of letters addressed to the Executive of the State, and to Col. D. C Campbell, who has been appointed to confer with me in reference to the difficulties growing out of the unadjusted boundary line between Florida and Georgia.
I have not hesitated to express to Col. D. C. Campbell, in a reciprocal spirit, my desire to maintain a good understanding and friendly relations between the people of the two States; and to assure him that this Department will not fail to adopt such measures as may be needful to prevent any difficulties that may be apprehended on the border.

Under the Resolutions of the last Session, ratifying the action of the Executives of the two States, adopting the terminal points of the present recognized line, I have appointed a competent surveyor to unite with a surveyor on the part of Georgia, in running and marking the line between the two States. It is therefore expected that all ground of difficulty will be removed at an early date, and the controversy which has heretofore existed, be finally put to an end. It is, however, apprehended that in the final establishment of the line, litigation may arise in respect to the title of land which may fall within the jurisdiction either of Georgia or Florida, and I am assured that, with respect to any litigation which may occur in Georgia, the Executive of that State, will recommend to the General Assembly such legislation as may be necessary to perfect titles in the hands of bona-fide holders. I would respectfully recommend to your favorable consideration such action as you may deem best to effect a similar purpose, so far as this State has any jurisdiction over the subject.

I would, however, suggest that, in all probability, if any land shall fall within the jurisdiction of this State, in the final designation of the line, the title would more properly attach to the United States, in which event, this State could do no more than unite with Georgia, in an application to the Federal Government for the adoption of such measures as would most effectually secure the end desired.

With respect to any criminal prosecutions that may grow out of the conflicts between those residing in the disputed Territory, I deem it proper to observe, that I shall be animated by the same spirit, and pursue the same course, if need be, proposed by the Executive of Georgia; and if the General Assembly shall deem it necessary to clothe the Executive with further power for that purpose, I respectfully recommend the proper action to that end.

Very respectfully,
M. S. PERRY.

CHATTAHOOCHEE, FLA., Nov. 28th, 1859.

Dear Sir: In running the boundary line between Georgia and Florida, it is proposed to run on the arc of a great circle, from the mouth of Flint River towards Montreal, the eastern terminus agreed upon by the two States. This wa-ieved that this line will very nearly strike mound B., but my departure, however immaterial, from that mound, without some modification of the resolutions of the respective Legislatures, will require the running of a second or corrected line, back from mound B. to the junction of Flint and Chattahoochee. Mound B. is nothing more than a small hillock of earth, with a base of some eight feet, and an elevation of three or four, and was never intended as the terminus of the boundary line by Ellicott and Minor, but simply as a pointer on the nearest dry ground to indicate the terminus agreed upon by those commissioners. A line running from any other point in the immediate vicinity of mound B. can as easily be perpetuated, and identified hereafter, as one terminating at the centre of that mound. When the American and Spanish Commissioners fixed upon the eastern terminus, they further agreed that the line should be from the mouth of Flint River, and if it did not depart more than half a mile from said eastern terminus, it should be regarded and adopted as the boundary line. The Legislatures of the two States have agreed upon a different eastern terminus, namely mound B., but for the reasons stated, we recommend that the straight line run from the mouth of Flint River towards mound B. shall be adopted as the boundary line between Florida and Georgia, provided said line does not depart more than one fourth of a mile from mound B. But should the departure exceed that distance, we then recommend that a connected line be run and marked from mound B. to the mouth of the Flint River.—should this distance, (one fourth of a mile or half of the distance agreed upon by Ellicott and Minor,) be regarded as great, then let some other limit be fixed upon by the two Legislatures. The adoption of this suggestion will save much time in executing the work, and much expense to the two States; while the amount of territory involved is utterly insignificant, both as to extent of surface, and value, lying as is does, chiefly along the eastern portion of the line.

Respectfully yours,

GUSTAVUS J. ORR.

[Signed,] Surveyor on part of Georgia.

BENJAMIN Y. WHITNER, JR.

Surveyor on part of Florida.

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives, that the present session of the Legislature be protracted from day to day until all the bills now pending before the General Assembly be disposed of.

Mr. Moore of Whitfield moved to amend the foregoing resolution by striking out the words "from day to day," and inserting in lieu thereof the following words "one week, unless the business of the Senate is sooner disposed of."

On motion of Mr. Seward the said resolution and amendments offered thereto, was made the special order for Tuesday next.

The rules being suspended, Mr. Harris of Worth, offered the following resolution, which was taken up, read and agreed to.

Resolved, That the Comptroller General be requested to communicate to the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Georgia at the next session, the best means of providing against frauds upon the tax laws of this State, and to secure a full return of all the taxable lands and other property in this State.

The following Message was received from his Excellency the Governor, by Mr. Campbell, his Secretary, to-wit:

Mr. President:—The Governor has signed the following bills to wit:<

A bill to prevent the sale of spirituous liquors within the town of Fayetteville in Fayette county, only on conditions therein named.

A bill to authorize the Ordinary of Habersham county to grant letters of Guardianship on the estate of Susan S. Hackett.

A bill to confer other powers than those now granted to the Augusta Orphan Asylum.

A bill to legalize the marriage of Lawson Cody and Frances E. Cody, and for other purposes.

A bill to add the county of Wilcox, to the second Congressional District District.
A bill to authorize A. C. Trimble, Administrator of Andrew M. Hamilton deceased, to sell the negroes of his intestate on the first Tuesday in January next.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives, by Mr. Diamond their clerk.

Mr. President:—The House of Representatives have concurred in the Senate amendments to the following bills of the House.

A bill to incorporate the Yahool a River and Cane Creek Hydraulic Hose Mining company.
A bill to incorporate the Etowah and Auraria Hydraulic Hose Mining company.

They have also adopted a resolution appointing a committee of three on the part of the House to join a like committee on the part of the Senate to take into consideration the propriety of prolonging the present session.

And have appointed as a committee on their part, Messrs. Gibson of Richmond, David and Delony.

Mr. Burnett, Chairman of the Joint Committee on the Lunatic Asylum made the following, Report.

The Joint Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives on the Lunatic Asylum beg leave to report:

That they have visited and examined the Institution and though but a limited time was necessarily given to the inspection of the building, and of its various appliances; they feel a just pride in a structure so worthy of our State, and of its benevolent projectors. None could fail to be impressed with the unsurpassing efforts of those having it in charge to contribute to the physical, moral and mental welfare of the unfortunate objects of charity confined within its limits.

Quiet, neatness and order seem to reign throughout the establishment, and the occupants exhibit the appearance of having been treated with the utmost humanity.

Your committee feel assured that nothing has been undone that would promote their comfort, or increase their chances of restoration to health; and we take this occasion to express our willing and unqualified testimony of the eminent fitness for his position of the able, humane and efficient Superintendent.

Your committee with great unanimity concur in recommending the usual appropriation of ten thousand dollars for the salaries of Trustees, Treasurer, sub-officers, Attendants and for hire of servants.
And the further sum of fifteen thousand ($15,000) dollars for the support of Pauper Patients. This sum we are assured, with proper economy will be sufficient for the support of the Institution, and allow a portion to be applied to works of indispensable necessity about the premises. Such as completing the unfinished walls, sewage and ornamenting the ground around and especially in front of the main building. This last, in the opinion of the committee is of no little importance, whether viewed as simply ornamental or as adapted by its soothing influence to promote a healthy tone of mind. Nothing seemed so much to mar the beauty of the whole structure as the barren and desolate appearance of the grounds around an edifice otherwise so imposing.

We would gladly have recommended to the Legislature a suitable sum for the immediate improvement of the grounds but were withheld from doing so by the earnest solicitations of the Superintendent, who thinks in a few years to effect this object with the present resources of the Institution and if the usual appropriations be allowed.

Your committee have had under consideration the subject of idiots—those unfortunate persons for whose mental infirmity there is no remedy, and have concluded to recommend that His Excellency the Governor be authorized to appoint a commission to consist of three persons, whose duty it shall be to give the subject a careful examination, and report to the next session of the Legislature, the propriety of erecting suitable buildings for their reception or their future exclusion from the Asylum.

None can doubt the impropriety of their being placed in the same Institution provided for the insane, and yet they commend themselves to our sympathies as part with ourselves of the great human family.

It is also deemed advisable if such a commission be appointed, that they take the subject of insane blacks into consideration, and advise what disposition a sound and humane policy would dictate for their relief.

We have asked the Legislature to increase the salary of the Superintendent and Resident Physician, Dr. Green. This we do without the slightest intimation on his part that it was desired, but feeling it a duty we owe to a public servant of the State. We are sure that Dr. Greene is not mercenary. That his labor is a labor of love, but are we for that reason to suffer such distinguished merit to go unrewarded.

Five Commissioners were appointed some four years ago to superintend the construction of the main building and inclosures, four of whom last January withdrew from the commission, and authorized Mr. Ramsey, the present acting commissioner to wind up and settle the unfinished business of the concern and for the payment of whose services, no provision is made. We therefore recommend that the sum of five thousand dollars be allowed for such services, and that the effects now in said commissioners hands be turned over to the Trustees, and that the commission, now no longer needed, be closed.

Mr. Prince from the committee on enrollment reports as duly enrolled, and ready for the signature of the President of the Senate,

An act to incorporate the trustees of the Presbyterian Church in the town of Perry, Houston county, and to incorporate Americus Lodge (No. 13) of Free and Accepted Masons, of the city of Americus, Sumter county, Georgia.

The Senate took up, as the report of the Committee of the Whole.

A bill to be entitled an act for the pardon of John Fuady, now under sentence of death, for the crime of murder in the county of Gwinnett.

The report was agreed to.

Upon the question "shall this bill now pass" the yeas and nays were required and being recorded,

Were yeas 14, nays 48.

Pending the consideration of which, the hour of adjournment having arrived the President adjourned the Senate until 3 o'clock, P. M.

THREE O'CLOCK. P. M.

The Senate met according to adjournment.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the unfinished business of the morning; which was

A bill to be entitled an act to define and declare the jurisdiction of the Courts of this State, in suits against Railroad Companies, and the amendments offered thereto.

The following message was received from His Excellency the Governor, by Mr. Campbell, his Secretary, to-wit:

Mr. President:—The Governor has signed the bill entitled an act, to extend the charter of the Planters Bank of the State of Georgia, which is herewith returned to this branch of the General Assembly accompanied by a communication in writing in reference thereto.

The following communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, was taken up and read.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., Dec. 5th, 1859.

To the Senate:

I deem it proper that I give the reasons which have induced me to give my sanction to the bill entitled an act, to extend the charter of the Planters Bank of the State of Georgia, and for other purposes therein named.
I do not hesitate to say that I am opposed to our present banking system, for reasons which I have heretofore given to the Senate and people of Georgia. I think it would be good policy for the State, in her fundamental law, to fix a period beyond which no bank charter shall extend. There are, however, at present, a number of banks having charters for a term of years as long as the extended term proposed to be given to the Planters' Bank. As these banks have a right to continue to exercise their chartered privileges, during the period of time fixed by their charter, unless sooner forfeited, it is not possible to rid ourselves entirely of the system, were we to attempt it, till the end of that period. There is, probably, no bank in the State which has done more to promote the interest of our people, and done less injury, than the Planters' Bank. It was originally chartered in 1810, and is therefore, one of the oldest banks in the State, and no one has, probably, been better managed...

I am informed upon reliable authority, that, in the war of 1812, the Planters' Bank advanced to the United States Government, for the support of our troops, over $500,000 00, and, afterwards received in payment, at par, 6 per cent bonds of the Federal Government, where the bonds were selling, in the market, at a discount. I also find, by reference to the message of Gov. Early, in 1814, that he acknowledges the assistance of this Bank, by the advance of money, without interest, to meet the then emergencies of the State, growing out of the war. I am informed that the Bank advanced to the State, about $200,000 00, to assist in carrying on the Florida war. Again, at the time of our financial difficulties, growing out of the affairs of the Central Bank, the Planters' Bank advanced to Gov. Crawford, $30,000 00, in aid of the State, and took State bonds, at par, in payment, when they were selling at a discount in the market. Upon patriotic considerations, therefore, the Bank makes a strong appeal to the State, and would seem to be entitled to continue to enjoy its privileges as long as the State permits other Banks to have like privileges. I suppose I might safely add, that no Bank in the State has been more useful to our Planters, or extended to them more accommodations.

From all these considerations, I am disposed to make this Bank an exception to a general rule, and have, therefore, signed the bill to extend its charter. The case, in my judgment, is quite different from that of an application to charter a new Bank, as the proposed new corporators, who have rendered the State no such assistance as has been rendered by this Bank, have not the same claim upon the State's liberality; nor have we the same guaranty, that the new Bank will be well managed, or remain solvent, as we have offered in its past history for half a century, that such will be the future course and condition of this Bank. Numerous applications are made, from year to year, for new charters, which when obtained, are often sold by those who procure them, upon speculation; and thus great imposition is practiced upon our people by those who control them, and who can so direct their affairs as to cause them to suspend, or become insolvent, whenever it will advance the interest of the managers. The result has already been, that the people have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars, by failures of this character. There seems to be a disposition to have a Bank characterized in almost every country village. If this practice is to prevail, the losses to be sustained by our people, on this account, will, in future, no doubt, be very great. Even under our present banking system, I do not doubt that we now have as many banks in the State, as can be sustained, if they confine themselves to a legitimate banking business. While, therefore, I will not refuse to co-operate with the General Assembly to continue in existence, while other Banks exist, one of our best and most reliable Banks, I do not hesitate to express the opinion, that the wants of our people do not require an increase of the number of Banks in the State.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

The Senate took up as the report of the committee of the whole, the following bill of the House of Representatives:

A bill to be entitled an act to repeal an act to authorize Georgia Railroad and Banking Company, to build a Branch Road to the town of Eatonton in Putnam county, and to increase the capital stock of said Company, assented to 11th December, 1858.

Mr. Hill of Troup, moved to amend the report by adding the following proviso.

Provided, If the Georgia Railroad Company shall accept the amendment to their charter hereby intended to be repealed and proceed in good faith to build the said Road by the first day of June next this act shall not take effect.

Upon agreeing to which Mr. Hill of Troup, required the yeas and nays which being recorded,

Were yeas 31, nays 78.

Those who voted in the affirmative are Messrs:

Those who voted in the negative, are Messrs,

So the motion to reconsider did not prevail.

The report was agreed to, and upon the question "shall this bill now pass," the yeas and nays were recorded, and

Were yeas 73, nays 34.

Those who voted in the affirmative were Messrs.

Those who voted in the negative are Messrs.

So the bill was passed.
The following Message was received from his Excellency the Governor, by Mr. Campbell, his Secretary, to wit:

Mr. President— I am directed by the Governor to lay before this branch of the General Assembly, a communication in writing, in response to the Resolution of the Senate, calling for information in reference to the Hotels erected on the line of the Western and Atlantic Railroad.

The following communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, was taken up and read.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Milledgeville, Georgia, Dec. 5th, 1859.

To the Senate:

The copy of a Resolution of the Senate calling on me for information in reference to the Hotels established on the line of the Western and Atlantic Railroad, has this day been presented to me by Mr. West, Secretary of the Senate; and in response to it, I herewith transmit a copy of a letter received from Dr. John W. Lewis, the Superintendent of the Road, which gives all the facts in my possession connected with the erection of these Houses.

It will be seen by reference to this statement of Dr. Lewis, that the house at Big Shanty was a necessity, and the outlay made by him on the construction and repair of the two Houses, but little exceeds $2,000. Upon this outlay, as Superintendent, he receives from the two Houses $480 per annum rent, which is paid into the State Treasury. This is about twenty-five per cent upon the sum expended by him in the preparation of the Houses for their present use.

Before this outlay, not a dollar was received from either. I trust therefore, that the State is nothing injured by the erection of these Houses.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

OFFICE SUP'T W & A. R. R, Atlanta, Geo., 29th Nov. 1859.

To his Excellency, JOSEPH E. BROWN:

Sir: Your favor of yesterday is just received, informing me that a Resolution had passed the Senate calling upon you for information in regard to the reason why we had built Hotels on the W & A. R. R., &c.

In answer to the Resolution, I state, that the act, whether right or wrong, is mine, not yours. As the ex-officio President of the Road, you are held accountable for the acts of your subordinates, and if this act is wrong, in this relation you are regarded as accountable.

There are two eating houses on the road, belonging to the road—one at Big Shanty, about 8 miles west of Marietta, in Cobb county, the other about two miles east of Ringgold, in Catoosa county. The house was built at Big Shanty for the following reasons: the down day way freights, finished their second days work (after leaving Atlanta,) and coming down on their return near this place, for a great while past, they staid all night at Acworth, a village about six miles west of Big Shanty—Big Shanty is at the summit of what is known on the road as “Big Shanty Grade,” extending nearly all the way from Alatoona creek (a distance of about 8 1/2 miles) to Big Shanty summit—Acworth is on this grade. The heavy freight trains staying here all night, were often greatly troubled to make Big Shanty summit in Spring, Summer, and Fall, from dew on the rails, which caused the driving wheels of the engines to slip, and in Winter from frost, snow, and ice, producing the same effect. Superadded to this, was sometimes want of steam in the morning, when fires were first started; and always cold and stiff journals in cold wintry mornings, greatly adding to the difficulty of moving the trains up the grade. These embarrassments were often of a serious character, on the long, high, and very crooked grade, putting the trains out of time, sometimes requiring the separation of a train, running one-half over the summit, and two miles beyond, to a sideling, and then going back for the other half. The damage done to the engines on this grade from straining and sliding, was very great, saying nothing about detention of trains, and danger of collisions from the delay. These could all in a great measure be obviated, by making the summit in the evening, when the grade could be made, under full head of steam, and on a rail more exempt from frost or dew, in the evening, than in the morning. These are the main reasons why, sideling were built at Big Shanty summit, and the building the sideling, and the freights staying there involved the necessity of building a house for the employes of the Road to eat in, sleep in, and where they could have some comfort. The building of Big Shanty was a consequence—one, the cost and trouble of which I should have gladly avoided, if it stood in any light than a consequence, which has, and will though save thousands to the road in money, or its worth, saying nothing of delay of trains, and the dangers arising from delay. The frame of Big Shanty Hotel was built mainly with old and cracked and sprung timber, picked up about the yard, and along the road, and closed in with new timbers and plastered. The main body of the building was framed at the road shop—this main building I rented for (at the rate of) one hundred and eighty dollars per year, a dining room, additional was afterwards framed and added to, the house beside the road, making the building cost altogether, within the sum of two thousand dollars, renting, since the addition (at the rate of) two hundred and forty dollars per year, what will go as net profit in to the State Treasury. In both cases, I estimated the rent at the rate of twelve per cent. per year on the cost.

I bought, on this summit, about two acres of land for the road, at a price but little more than nominal—the road I did to have room for sidings for trains, for a small depot, intended to be built and as a consequence, for big Shanty eating house.

As to Catoosa eating house, the authorities of the Road bought in (or about the year 1852) a small lot of ground here, and built on it a house, costing about eleven hundred dollars, which house was a sort of contingent to Catoosa Springs in Catoosa county (then a place of much public resort) and was a sort of passenger and baggage depot. This house I found in a very neglected condition, and exposed to decay. The fancy roof (of some sort of material) being tattered and torn, letting rain into the building. I thought it to the interest of the road to preserve the building, as it might be of some future use to the road, and therefore had a new roofing framed and covered in with shingles, not knowing what use it might be of, but that it was economy to save the building. About six weeks ago a change of schedule became necessary to make our connections with other roads closer, and in figuring out the Schedule I found that Breakfast, Dinner, and Supper, would (in the different trains) have to be taken at either Tunnell Hill or Ringgold. Tunnell Hill had a good eating house, but was too far from the road, especially in winter. Ringgold had two good eating houses, but I had had difficulty in stopping the trains at a satisfactory point to both houses, and such had been the rival interests of parties that it terminated in a general fight, at the stopping of a train the weapons used being whatever most readily came to hand, sleeting embraced; so that I thought it would be to the interest of the road and comfort of travellers, to make the house, (which I had covered to save it,) to good account, by making a little alteration in the building, and building a small kitchen. This was accordingly done in about six to eight days time, at an expense of about one hundred dollars. I engaged a man, who is nothing to me in any shape or form, (more than bis being a keeper of a first rate table,) to keep the house, for the rent of which, I expected to give for the road at the rate of two hundred and forty dollars per year. This house, therefore, which cost originally in the road eleven hundred dollars, and was a dead property to the road has by an additional outlay of about 150 dollars, been made a source of revenue, to be paid into the State Treasury, at the rate of about two hundred and forty dollars per year. To me it looks that this is a good financial operation. These two good eating houses are both good investments for the road.

In conclusion, I state that I did not consult your Excellency about these improvements, because, first, they were obviously to my mind, necessary, and secondly, did not involve a large expense, and would be worth to the road much more than their cost.

My short experience in railroading satisfies me that eating houses on the line of roads should be the property of the road; for then they can rid travellers of the annoyance of drummers, and in no other way; nor can travellers have assurance of proper fare in any other way than by roads having the power to remove the keepers of eating houses upon failure to keep good tables. In these hotel matters I have had great annoyance, and it was the result of my best judgment to act as I have in arranging for the eating of the travelling public and employees of the road. Had I consulted their interests and comfort less and interested parties more, I might much more have avoided the necessity of this exposition.

To the tavern keepers on the road, I have neither particular good nor ill will. I keep square with them all, by paying for what I get, never having been, nor never intending to be under obligation to any one of them.

Very respectfully, your ob't. serv't.,

JNO. W. LEWIS,
Sup't. W & A. R. R.

Mr. McGhee, chairman of the Committee on the State of the Republic, made the following report:

The Committee on the State of the Republic to whom was referred the message of His Excellency the Governor in relation to the question of boundary between this State and Florida with the accompanying Documents report the following bill:

"A bill to be entitled an act to authorize the Governor to appoint a commissioner or commissioners to examine and adjust the claim or claims of citizens of Georgia residing on the Georgia line and whose rights and titles to lands acquired from this State may be affected by the proposed and contemplated settlement of the boundary line between Georgia and Florida, which was read the first time.

On motion of Mr. Johnson of Cass the rules were suspended, for the purpose of offering a resolution.

Mr. Johnson of Cass offered the following resolution which was taken up and read.
Resolved, That the conduct of the authorities of the Western and Atlantic Railroad in erecting the building at Big Shanty, and in repairing the house at Catoosa Platform, meet with the approbation of the Senate.

Mr. Harris of Worth moved to amend the resolution so as to authorize the building of a bar-room in connection therewith, which was lost.

Pending the consideration of the former resolution, the hour of adjournment having arrived the President adjourned the Senate until 7 o'clock P. M.

SEVEN O'CLOCK, P. M.

The Senate met according to adjournment.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the unfinished business of the afternoon, which was a resolution approving the erection of Big Shanty, and the improvement of the house at Catoosa Platform on the Western and Atlantic Railroad, by the officers of said Road.

Mr. Hill of Troup, offered the following as a substitute in lieu of the original resolution.

Resolved by the Senate,

1st. That while we will not disavow the act of the Superintendent of the State Road in erecting the "Big Shanty" as the money has already been expended, yet we are not willing that this expression should be construed into a willingness to allow this as a precedent to justify public officers on the State Road or elsewhere, in using the public funds without the proper authority of Legislative appropriation.

2nd. That while we have confidence in the honesty of Dr. John W. Lewis, we believe the purity of all governments, requires that the administrators of that government should be removed as far as possible from all inducements to use a public office either directly or indirectly for individual profit or speculation, and should rely solely on their salaries or other authorized compensation, and the Senate rest contented with the expenditures made for eating houses on the Western and Atlantic Railroad, with the distinct understanding, that the officers on said Road have no pecuniary interest in the same, either directly or indirectly, nor in the income or profits thereof.

Mr. Johnson of Clayton, moved that the original resolution and substitute be postponed indefinitely, upon agreeing to which motion,

Mr. Hackett required the yeas and nays, which being recorded, were yeas 45, nays 53.

Those who voted in the affirmative were Messrs.

So the motion to postpone indefinitely did not prevail.

The question recurring upon the adoption of the substitute Mr. Oliver called for the previous question, which being seconded, the main question was ordered to be put, and upon the question, "shall the substitute be adopted in lieu of the original motion?"

The yeas and nays were recorded, and were yeas 33, nays 61.

The following communication in writing, from His Excellency the Governor, was taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
MILLEDGEVILLE, Dec. 5th, 1869:

To the Senate: I herewith return to the branch of the General Assembly in which it originated, the bill to be entitled an act to incorporate the Georgia Insurance Company, without my approval.

By this bill it is proposed to create an Insurance Company with very ample powers and privileges, without being made subject to some of the necessary restrictions and liabilities, usually prescribed to such corporations. The Company is to have a capital stock of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, which may be increased to twice that amount. The incorporators are to pay, in cash, to the proper officer of the Company, five per centum on the amount of stock held by each, and to make and deliver to such officer, at the same time a note for the other ninety-five percent. This being done, the Company may commence business.

The fifth section of the bill expressly declares that, "The cash paid in, and the said stock notes, constitute the capital of said corporation, which is pledged and bound for the contracts and liabilities of said corporation; but the private property of the corporators, or their successors, is held liable for the debts of said corporation, only to the extent of the amount due and unpaid on said stock notes; and in no event to extend beyond that sum.” While the personal liability of the incorporators or stockholders, to pay the debts or liabilities of the Company, is thus limited, there is no provision in the proposed charter, limiting the amount in which the Company may incur those debts and liabilities, in taking risks. For ought contained in the bill, the Company, if organized under the proposed charter, might take risks to an amount many times exceeding that of the cash and stock notes paid in; and but little sagacity is required to perceive how those insuring in the company, might suffer loss, for want of recourse against the private property of stockholders, beyond the amount secured by the stock notes, even though the Company should comply, in good faith, with all the requirements of its charter.

Suppose the Company were to take risks to the amount of a million dollars, (and this is not an unreasonable supposition, considering the almost boundless field opened to them in the charter, for subjects of insurance,) and some great calamity were to befall the Company, by way of losses, exceeding the amount of capital stock paid in, there would be no legal obligation whatever, resting upon the stockholders, to make up the deficiency to sufferers, after the payment, by stockholders, of the balance due on stock notes; and this contingency might happen, even though those very stockholders may have received, from time to time, from the Company as dividends from net profits, a very large per cent. on the capital stock paid in.

I apprehend the truth of the proposition will not be controverted, that all corporations, whose principal business is to obtain and give credit, should either be restricted in the amount for which they may incur debts or liabilities, or, the private property of stockholders, according to the amount of stock owned by each, should be, at least ultimately, bound for payment of such debts and liabilities.

On a hasty examination of the charters of Insurance Companies, which have been granted by our Legislature within the last ten years, I do not find one among them that does not, in one form or another, come up to the principle laid down in the above proposition; and the reasons for requiring all charters for such Companies to contain a similar clause are too apparent to admit of doubt. Why should we, in this instance, dispense with so necessary and usual a safeguard against loss by the people?

It may be said, and doubtless with truth, that this bill contains the names of a large number of the most wealthy, enterprising and honorable merchants and citizens of Columbus, as incorporators, and that their private property, in the aggregate, is possibly worth several millions of dollars; admitting all this to be true, under the proposed charter, not one dollar's worth of that property could be made liable by law, for the payment of debts or liabilities against the Company, beyond what would be required to pay the amount due on the stock notes of each; and is it to be supposed that even those incorporators would, in any event, pay that which they were not by law bound to pay? I am opposed to this kind of confidence legislation without legal liability.

I cannot think the omission to embrace in this charter a clause, limiting the amount for which the Company might take risks, was the result of deliberation, but was rather an unintentional omission; if the former, I cannot too strongly express my dissent from such a policy, if the latter, it is only to be regretted.

There is another respect in which the proposed charter is objectionable. There is no provisions in the bill, limiting the duration in which the franchises are to be enjoyed; nor any, reserving to the Legislature the right to alter or repeal the charter, when in their opinion, the public good might require it.

(Signed,) JOSEPH E. BROWN.

It will thus be seen that there are 636 bills to be acted upon exclusive of Resolutions, or say an average of 300 in each branch of the General Assembly. It must be palpable to every mind, that it is impossible to complete our work, or even make a decided impression on such a mass of material in four days, which is the end of our Constitutional term unless properly prolonged. It may be said, that there is a great deal of local and special Legislation, which ought to be disposed of any way, but ignored or postponed now it must be introduced hereafter, thus consuming the time of other Sessions, and retarding the legitimate Legislation of the country. It may be also, said, that the unfinished business of this session, will be carried over to the next. This policy has not yet been decided on, and its Constitutionality is a gravely mooted question, and hence it may happen, that each bill not now acted on, may have to be read three times again in each House. There are a large number of bills in each House ready for action, and every consideration of justice, policy and propriety, requires that they should be acted on at the present session. And to that end, your committee recommend, that our present session be prolonged till Friday the 16th of this month, and hence submit a Resolution to that effect.

Resolved, By the Senate, that from and after the adoption of this resolution, no member of the Senate shall be allowed to speak more than five minutes at one time on any question before the Senate, unless allowed by two thirds of the Senate.

On motion of Mr. Cone the following communication in writing, from his Excellency, the Governor, was taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Milledgeville, Ga., Dec. 7th, 1859.

To the Senate:

I return without my approval,
A bill entitled an act to incorporate the Thomasville Manufacturing, Agricultural and Commercial Association, and for other purposes.

The bill proposes to authorize the corporators to purchase land and erect buildings for the purpose of carrying on the business of manufacturing and of carrying on and conducting a general Mercantile and trading business. It also authorizes the association to purchase and sell real estate and buildings of every description, and to contract debts, and enter into contracts generally in the construction of their business, and to purchase goods, wares and merchandise, and again at pleasure to sell and exchange the same whenever said company may think proper, "and to purchase lands for the purpose of erecting farm houses and buildings, and making improvements in agriculture at such places as said Association may think proper, and to sell and dispose of the same at pleasure, and that the association shall have like power, for the purpose of erecting buildings and machinery for sawing lumber and carrying on the general business of manufacturing," with power to "purchase slaves, and hold stock, horses, mules, wagons carts, and every kind of agricultural implements".

The bill also provides that so soon as $15,000 of stock shall be subscribed, (and it does not require that a dollar is to be paid in,) the association shall be authorized to commerce business. That the capital stock shall be one hundred thousand dollars, subject to be increased as the directors of said Association may think proper, without fixing any limit whatever. Here then, is an Association with a capital stock as large as they may choose to make it, an.thorized to commence business so soon as $15,000 of stock shall have been subscribed, without being required to pay in, or have on hand, a single dollar in money; authorized to engage in speculating in lands, negroes, and almost every kind of live stock, and in buying and selling goods, wares and merchandize, to an unlimited extend; and in the sawing of lumber and the general business of agriculture and manufacturing without limit, with power to contract debts for hundreds of thousands of dollars. It cannot be denied that the bill confers upon the company very extraordinary privileges, probably no charter granted at any time by the Legislature of Georgia, has been more unlimited in the range of its powers. What guaranty is offered to the community that these powers will not be abused, and that the debts of the corporation will be paid? Not even the personal liability of a single stockholder for a single dollar.

There is no clause in the charter which makes the stockholders liable individually for a dollar of the debts of the company. The Association might, under this charter, enter into large speculations, and contract debts for large amounts, and while their credit as a company was good, make large dividends of profits among themselves, and whenever it should become the interest of the stockholders, whoever they might be, at any future time, they might cause the Association as a corporation to wind up insolvent; and while the stockholders might each be worth a large amount of money, the creditors of the company could not collect a dollar out of any one of them. This kind of legislation is contrary to every principle of natural justice, and in my judgment should not be encouraged.

If the corporators are permitted to receive the profits of the speculation, when they have purchased property from unsuspecting citizens, should not their individual property be held liable for the payment of the debts of the Company?
Is it right that they take all the benefits accruing from their corporate privileges, and when the association, as such, becomes insolvent, which it may do, while its affairs are directed by them, that they be individually exempt from all its burdens and free from the payment of its debts? I think not. It is no reply to say that the lands or other property of the corporation constitute part of its capital stock, as the company have the power to sell and dispose of them at pleasure, and would be under no obligation, should it fail in future to have in its possession any lands at the time of its failure.

It should not be forgotten that no limit is set to the duration of this charter, and that no right is reserved in the bill to the Legislature, to repeal, alter or modify it in future.

Mr. McGehee, from the Committee on Agriculture, to whom was referred the resolution, proposing the appointment, by the Governor, of a Commissioner to visit Europe in concert with the Commissioner of the Cotton Planters' Convention of this State, have had the same under consideration, and ask leave to make their report.

To emancipate commerce from all unnecessary exactions, and to remove every hindrance to its dispatch, the best energies of the most sagacious men are actively engaged. Time is growing more precious to the commercial world, and the necessity for dispatch has blasted pathways through your granite hills, and tunneled your mountains. For the accomplishment of this great object, associations of economists have been formed in Continental Europe, composed of distinguished political writers, experienced and enlightened manufacturers, and scientific agriculturists, and after discussions, they published to the world the result of their deliberations, and upon some of their conclusions is predicated the Cotton Planter's Convention of Georgia. The cheapness and abundance of accumulated capital, seek profitable investment in the building of ships, in the purchase and manufacture of cotton, and Belgium and Holland have, through their Chambers of Commerce, entered into communication with the Convention, proposing the development of some plan, by which great benefits can be mutually secured. Thus encouraged, the Cotton Planters' Convention ask the appointment of an accredited agent, by the State, to accompany the Commissioners appointed by the Convention, to obtain such information as will be instructive and beneficial to the agricultural interests of this State, and to suggest such plans as will effect direct trade.

The objects of this commission appeal strongly to our approval, and we deem it unnecessary to dilate upon the conservative influence of our great staple upon the commerce of the world, if we wisely direct it. The wonder, perhaps, of the nineteenth century, is the value of cotton, and its achievements. The world in arms against the labor that produces it, and yet it asserts its sway. The people must be clothed, and we are the producers of that article, from its indispensable necessity to the civilized world, that is called "King." The people must be fed, and the employment that it gives to the pent up millions of Europe, gives them bread. And the improvements in machinery, constantly multiplying uses to which our great staple is applied, as well as the enormous investments of capital in its transportation and manufacture, give to it an importance of which we may well feel proud. Absorbing, however, as is this great interest, we have others of no small importance, that bear a strong relationship to the objects of this mission. We allude to the timber trade, the materials of the most choice quality abound, for shipping, in our State, and in this branch we almost enjoy a monopoly; and who can estimate the untold millions of our mineral wealth, retarded in their development from the lack of capital. All of which, equally demand direct trade. Continental Europe has been paying tribute to England, in procuring cotton for her factories, just as the cotton planters contribute to New York, by the circuity of the transportation of their produce, and is seeking to divest itself of heavy intervening expenses, by a direct interchange of commodities. The States of Northern and Middle Europe, are desirous of bringing their fabrics directly to our wharves, and exchange them for our cotton, without the expenses for transit, landing, storage, re-shipment, fees for brokerage, commission at both New York and Liverpool, all losses to the producer and consumer. We do not think that any one will deny the truth of the remark, that where the materials of commerce are abundant, that trade is vastly benefitted by direct transportation, and business men estimate a saving in the cost of carriage, at about 30 per cent. What an appeal does this make to us as Georgians, with a long Atlantic coast, situated nearest to the field of this immense production in the South-West, with ports amply sufficient from capacity of harbor, or depth of water, to conduct an immense commerce. We do not feel interested in the growth of our sea-port towns, and how vast are the fields afforded for the building up of cities, to beautify and adorn our coast, and add millions of wealth to the State, and in a term of years, save thousands to our people. A gigantic struggle is now being made, to divert the commerce of the West into artificial channels, and let us seek to secure the advantages with which our Geographical position is blest. We feel an abiding interest in whatever conduces to the benefit of agriculture. An interest, that engages nine-tenths of the fixed capital of the world, and an interest that is the sub-stratum or granite foundation of all other interests. In this connection, we deplore the loss of the bill, authorizing a Geological and Mineralogical Survey of the State, and feel a degree of humiliation that Georgia, elevated as she is in her credit, distinguished for Railroad achievements, and brilliant in her noble character, still lingers in the wake of that progress, that has secured from this department, such rich results to her sister States. Whilst we continue a planting people, engaged mainly in one pursuit, it should be a chief concern, to exert ourselves for the advancement of it, by all the lights that science and experience afford. And as we disincumber the products of our soil, by all unnecessary exactions, by direct trade, we should have called into requisition a practical and skilful Geologist, to point out the abundant materials embowed in the earth, for the resuscitation of the fertility of our exhausted fields, the value of our rocks for building and other purposes, and the immense treasures concealed within our mountains.

In conclusion, we find that a similar appointment was made by manufacturers and Presidents of Railroads, at a meeting near the Virginia line, of persons from Tennessee, Kentucky, and Virginia, and a distinguished gentleman from the latter State appointed as agent. We recommend the adoption of this resolution.

Mr. McGehee offered the following resolution, which was taken up and read:

Whereas, a movement is now being made by the merchants, manufacturers, bankers and capitalists of the Continent of Europe, to establish direct commercial intercourse with the cotton planting States, whereby merchandise may be sent direct to Southern markets, and a large portion of the cotton crop transmitted directly to the manufacturer, thus avoiding the expense of the circuitous channels through which it now passes, securing to the producer higher prices, and an exemption from the combinations of speculators at home and abroad, and also for the employment of a large amount of European capital in the development of our agricultural, commercial and mineral resources, and,

Whereas, the Cotton Planters' Association of Georgia has appointed the Hon. Howell Cobb and the Hon. John S. Thomas, Commissioners to proceed to Europe for the purpose of securing to Georgia the benefits of the movements above referred to; and whereas, the General Assembly look with much solicitude to the accomplishment of the object contemplated by the Cotton Planters' Association as immediately connected with and designed to promote our material progress and prosperity as a people. Therefore be it

To the Senate:

I cannot approve the bill, entitled "an act to confer certain privileges upon Julius A. Cade, of Chattahoochee county; to make lawful his acts, and give him authority to transact business as though he was twenty-one years of age, and for other purposes."

The object of this bill seems to be to give to Julius A. Cade, a minor, all the privileges and subject him to all the liabilities of an adult person, and to permit a Guardian to settle with his minor ward.

It is necessary in every well regulated Government, that there be some fixed period in human life at which the disabilities of youth shall cease, and the privileges and liabilities of manhood shall commence.

The time fixed by our law is when the minor shall attain the age of twenty-one years. This is a safe rule, general in its application, and sanctioned by the wisdom of ages, and ought not in my opinion to be disturbed. If we begin to make exceptions to the rule, a large portion of the time of the Legislature will in future be taken up in this kind of special or individual legislation, to the delay and hindrance of other more important business, and at a heavy cost to the State. Experience is teaching us every day how very unwise we act, when we establish by legislation these individual exceptions to wholesome general rules. The youth of our country are quite enough inclined to assume the position of manhood prematurely, without special legislative encouragement.

If we admit that there are special reasons which would justify the departure from the rule in this particular case, we must not forget that there will be no end to these applications, when the precedent of disregarding the rule is once established. Time will soon do for this young gentleman what it is now proposed to do for him by legislation, without infringing any wholesome rule of law. There are objections no less weighty to the establishment of a rule that guardians may settle with minor wards. Every fashionable young gentleman in the State, who is not yet twenty-one and whose father has left him a little property, is looking with some anxiety to the time when he will take it under his own control. It is often spent fast enough after he attains the age of twenty-one. Give him the control of it at eighteen or twenty, and it may not last him till he is twenty-one. Again, it would often be true that a shrewd, crafty guardian would prefer to settle with boys, as he might make better terms with them than he could with men. It may be said that none of these objections apply to this particular case. I will not say that they do; but they might apply to the next one.

Establish the precedent and break down the general rule, and all these evils will soon occur in the practice that will follow. I deplore all this sort of unwise, special, and individual legislation, and shall continue to do all in my power to discourage it.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Milledgeville, Ga., Dec. 14th, 1859.

To the Senate:

I return without my sanction a bill entitled an act "to compensate the Grand and Petit Jurors of the counties of Dougherty, Paulding, Terrell, Meriwether, and Petit Jurors of the counties of Marion and Putnam, and to provide for the same."

There is a general law in this State which fully meets the necessities of these cases, without the passage of a special act for that purpose. The act of 27th February, 1856, is in these words: "That from and after the passage of this act, it shall and may be lawful for the Justices of the Inferior Courts of the several counties in this State, and they are hereby authorized upon the recommendation of the Grand Jurors of the several counties aforesaid to assess and raise a tax for the reasonable compensation of the Grand and Petit Jurors, or Grand or Petit Jurors, and at their pleasure to discontinue the same, and again, to resume and reassess said tax upon the recommendation aforesaid: the jury and confession fees in each case to be paid into the county fund for that purpose."

This general law gives the Inferior Court of each county, upon the recommendation of the Grand Jury, ample power to levy and collect a tax for compensation of the Grand and Petit Jurors, or Grand or Petit Jurors. The Justices of the Inferior Court, and Grand Jurors are supposed to be acquainted with the condition of the finances of the county. and with the wants of the people of the county, and have ample power in the premises.

When we have a general law applicable to all the counties of the State, it would seem to be unwise for the legislature to pass a special law for each county, relating to the same subject matter, and conferring the same powers and privileges. It would, I think, in such cases be much better to avoid this special legislation, which is useless, and leave each county to act under the general law.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Milledgeville, Ga., Dec. 14th, 1859.

To the Senate:

I return without approval, a bill entitled "an act to change the line between the counties of Floyd and Polk."

The bill proposes to add the lot of land on which Newton I. Tumlin resides, to the county of Floyd.

It does not appear from the bill, that this lot of land lies upon the county line, and the bill does not give the number of the lot on which Mr. Tumlin resides; should a crime be committed on this lot, or a litigation arise about the title, or an action for trespass, be instituted twenty years hence, it might not be possible to prove who lived on the lot at the date of the passage of this bill. The bill does not, therefore, define the county line if the proposed change is made; and is on this account objectionable. The line should be so defined by the bill itself, that a surveyor could, at any future time, by reference to the act, run out the line.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

On motion of Mr. Cone, the following communications in writing, from His Excellency the Governor, was taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

Milledgeville, Ga., Dec., 15th, 1859.

To the Senate:

I return the bill entitled an act for the relief of Susan L. B. Goodwine of the county of Bibb, and William P. Free of the county of Troup, without my sanction, for the general reasons given in my message accompanying the bill for the relief of Amy Clarke.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.
To the Senate:

I herewith return, without approval, a bill "for the relief of Henry Henson and Elias Killpatrick, of the county of Towns."

The bill recites that these persons became sureties on the bond of John Anthony for his appearance at the Superior Court of Towns county, to answer for the offence of riot; and that the said Anthony did not appear, and that the bond was forfeited, and judgment rendered against the sureties on the bond at the last term of the Superior Court in said county.

This presents the ordinary case of a surety who has voluntarily assumed the liability, and whose principal has failed to attend Court and answer for the offence with which he stands charged. By the act of the sureties, the principal has escaped the punishment which the law prescribes for his offence, and it is now proposed to relieve the sureties from liability. If this practice is to prevail it will soon become almost equivalent to a suspension of the execution of public justice in the State. The most wicked offenders will be enabled to give bond for their appearance, and will refuse to appear and abide the judgment of the Courts, and it will only be necessary for their sureties who voluntarily signed their recognizances to appeal to the Legislature with a statement that it is a hard case, and relief must be granted. In my opinion, too many obstructions are already thrown in the way of the prompt and impartial execution of the criminal laws of the land, and I am unwilling by my act to multiply these obstructions. He who places himself between the law and the criminal, and takes him out of the hands of the officers of the law, by becoming his surety, does so, with full knowledge of the responsibility which attaches to his act, and should not here be relieved, after he has enabled his principal to escape. It should not be forgotten in determining upon the merits of applications of this character, that the law imposes upon Clerks, Sheriffs, and Solicitors General, a great amount of labor in insolvent criminal cases, and leaves them to look for payment to the sums brought into Court from fines and forfeitures of this character, without making any other provision for the satisfaction of their claims. After imposing the burdens which the law now imposes upon these officers, without making other provision for their compensation, I conclude that it is injustice to them for the law-making power to step between them and those who have enabled the guilty to escape, and arrest them in the collection of their just dues, the payment of which, by those who are liable, is the only satisfaction made to the State for the violation of her criminal laws.

This character of legislation would seem, therefore, to be unwise, and to encourage the commission rather than the suppression of crime, by increasing the facilities for the escape of the guilty. He who consents to become the surety of a criminal, for his appearance at Court, should remember that the surrender of his principal, or the payment of the amount of money mentioned in the recognizance, are the only alternatives known to the law.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

The Senate took up the following bill, which had been vetoed by His Excellency the Governor:

The following message was received from His Excellenty the Governor, by Mr. Campbell, his Secretary, to wit:

Mr. President: I am directed by the Governor to return this branch of the General Assembly, in which it originated, a resolution in relation to the pardon of William A.
Choice, accompanied by a communication in writing.

On motion, the following communication in writing, from His Excellency the Governor was taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Milledgeville, Ga., Dec. 15th, 1859.

To the Senate:

Thereafter return the Order of the two Houses, relative to the pardon of William A. Choice, of the county of Fulton, without approval.
This Order recites that the Senate and House of Representatives, at the present session, passed a bill for the pardon of William A. Choice, under sentence of death for the crime of murder, in the county of Fulton, and that the said William A. Choice desires to plead the bill so passed in the proper Court, in his behalf; and after this recital, the General Assembly then orders, that the bill so passed as aforesaid, be placed on file in the office of the Secretary of State, and that the Secretary of State do, on the application of any person, prepare a copy of said bill, so passed as aforesaid, under his seal of office, and deliver such copy, on certificate, to any person applying for the same.

I cannot approve this Order to the Secretary of State, because it fails to state the whole truth, and is calculated to mislead the Court and the public, as to the facts in this case; and for the further reason that the Senate, where this Order originated, as I am informed upon reliable authority, refused to permit it to be so amended as to require the evidence which shows that the bill passed by the two Houses was disapproved by the Executive, to be filed and certified with it. If the bill were filed and certified, as directed by this Order, without being accompanied by the veto message, or a copy of that part of the Journal of the Senate which shows the fact that such message was received, and the action of the Senate upon the bill, after the receipt of the message, it might be insisted before the Court, that the bill had become a law by the failure of the Governor to act upon it within five days after it was presented to him, as there would be no legal evidence, before the Court, of his disapproval of the bill.

The bill for the pardon of William A. Choice passed the Senate, as its Journal will show, by a majority of one vote, and it passed the House of Representatives by a majority of three votes; and was then sent to the Governor for his approval, by whom it was disapproved, and the reasons for such disapproval communicated to the Senate in a message dated December 1st, 1859. An effort was then made, in the Senate, to pass the bill by a Constitutional majority of two-thirds, which was unsuccessful. The friends of the bill then assumed, that it was a law without the sanction of the Governor; and they now propose to have this question adjudicated by the Courts.

While I entertain no doubt upon this question, I shall not hesitate to afford the parties interested every facility in my power for carrying the whole case, including all the facts, fairly before the Courts. If the Chairman of the Enrolling Committee in the Senate, will deposit the bill in the office of the Secretary of State, and notify me of that fact, I will order a copy of my message disapproving the bill, to be filed with it, and so soon as the Journal of the Senate is filed in the Executive office, I will also order a copy of that part of the Journal which contains the action of the Senate upon the bill after the message was received by the Senate, to be filed with it; after which, I will direct the Secretary of State to prepare and deliver to any person desiring it, on payment of the usual fees, a certified copy of the whole.—This will afford the Counsel of Mr. Choice an opportunity to bring the question fairly before the Courts, and will enable the Courts to adjudicate it with all the facts fairly before them.

I cannot, however, sanction a joint Order of the two Houses, which gives the appearance of legal authority to a bill which I consider a nullity, and thereby send it before the Courts for adjudication, unaccompanied by the facts necessary to a fair hearing of the case.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

Leave of absence was granted Mr. Snell for the balance of the Session, on account of indisposition.

On motion the morning Session was prolonged until 1¼ o'clock.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

Milledgeville, Ga., Dec. 15th, 1859.

To the Senate:

I return without approval a bill entitled "an act to pardon John Fundy of the county of Gwinnett, now under sentence of death for the crime of murder."

I am informed upon undoubted authority that a bill of exceptions has been tendered to the presiding Judge in this case, and signed by him, and the case is now on its way to the Supreme Court for final adjudication. On signing the bill of exceptions, the presiding Judge passed an order, superseding the judgment of the Superior Court, till the hearing in the supreme Court, and the further judgment of the Superior Court. There is not therefore at present any subsisting judgment of the Court against the defendant, under which he could ever be executed; and he is not as this bill recites "now under sentence of death for the crime of murder." His case is pending before the Court for adjudication and he may, or may not, hereafter be finally convicted, and sentenced to suffer the extreme penalty of the law.—For the reasons given in my message to the House of Representatives, at its present Session, in connection with the bill for the pardon of Thomas C. Whitworth of Chattooga county, which are, I presume, generally known to Senators; I deny that either the Executive or Legislative Department of the Government has yet acquired any jurisdiction over this case, under the provisions of the Constitution of this State. For the present, therefore, I am content to leave it where the Constitution has left it—-with the Courts, not doubting that the law will be faithfully and impartially administered.

On motion of Mr. Cone, the following communication in writing from his Excellency the Governor was taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT;
Milledgeville, Dec. 16th, 1859.

To the Senate:

I return without approval the bill entitled "an act to incorporate a Bank to be located in the city of Rome, to be called the Bank of Rome, and to amend the charter of the Timber Cutters Bank."

It is proposed by this bill to charter the Bank of Rome for thirty-five years from the first day of May next; with a capital stock of $200,000, which by a vote of the stockholders may be increased to $500,000, with authority to issue, and circulate bills so soon as $100,000 of the capital stock shall have been paid in in gold and silver, or in the notes of solvent specie paying banks.

The bill further enacts that the debts due by said Bank (except for deposits) shall at no time exceed three times the amount of the capital actually paid in. It does not say three times the amount of gold and silver, or even of bank bills, in the vaults of the Bank, at the time the indebtedness is incurred, but only three times the amount of capital stock paid in. Under this charter the stockholders would be authorized to organize, and pay in $100,000 of the bills of some other Bank, without a dollar of gold or silver, and so soon as this $100,000 of the bills or notes of some other Bank was paid in, they would be authorized to issue and circulate as money $300,000, of their own bills or notes, and go in debt as much as possible for deposits beyond that amount, and to continue this speculation for thirty-five years. The proposed charter does not say that when the $100,000 of bank bills have been paid in, it shall be kept in the Bank, toward meeting this large indebtedness; but the managers may pay it in to secure the right to issue the $300,000 of bills, and to receive deposits, and the next day may take it out if they will, and use it in some other speculation, and may have the $300,000 in circulation without a dollar of gold or silver, or of the bills of any other bank, on hand, with which to redeem their bills; and if any one complains they may point to the language of their charter as their legal authority for this transaction.

This would be a handsome speculation so long as the community would be content with promises to pay, but so soon as a run of a few thousand dollars should be made upon the Bank, for the redemption of its bills, it might break, and the bill holders would then be left to their remedy at the end of a long and uncertain litigation with the stockholders.

This bill therefore offers no guaranty that the bills of the Bank would be a safe circulating medium, at all times convertible into gold or silver, upon presentation or demand.

I do not deem it necessary to point out other objections to this charter, or to enter into a discussion of questions of public policy connected with it, as I trust I have already shown, that a charter which authorizes a Bank to engage in banking upon the bills of another Bank, to the extent authorized in this charter, affords no sufficient protection to the bill holders, and ought not to be granted.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.
